'EDUCATED NUTS' IRK EARL LONG

Ex-Governor Says Many Cabildo Relics Are 'Rubbish'

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13 (AP) — New Orleans' historic Cabildo and Pontalba buildings received a tongue lashing today as former Gov. Earl Long heatedly commented on antiques, painting, furniture and "over-educated nuts who live in the deep, deep past."

The Cabildo and Pontalba buildings are part of Louisiana's Spanish and French heritage. The Cabildo was the site of the transfer of the Louisiana Purchase from France to the United States. It now contains the Louisiana State Museum.

Both buildings are located on Jackson Square, the heart of the Vieux Carre (old Square), commonly called the French Quarter.

Long said he was interested in the museum only because it is a tourist attraction.

"But, I'll tell you this, 80 per cent of the stuff in it is rubbish that isn't worth hauling home.

"Some over-educated nuts who like to live in the deep, deep past have a bunch of old junk they don't want to throw away or burn up and they give it to the museum."

Switching to painting, Long declared "Me, all I know about Michelangelo is what they crammed down my throat in school.

"But I'll say this, too, that some of those pictures in the Cabildo which they say are worth $25,000, I wouldn't give 50 cents for the whole lot."

Long's remarks were made in Houston in a telephone interview with the Times-Picayune.

Furniture was the cause of the governor's outburst.

Ben Mathews, director of the museum, has said he plans to bill Long for storage of furniture in the Pontalba building for about two and one-half years, at $150 a month.

Last Friday Mathews made public a report from a storage company that 3,700 pounds of furniture belonging to the Longs was removed from storage in the Pontalba building and delivered to Mrs. Long on July 2 in Alexandria.

Long said he had no knowledge of personal belongings being stored in the state-owned building and said his wife must have arranged for keeping their furnishings there.

"If my wife owes anything, I'll pay it if she doesn't, up to a reasonable amount of my ability to pay," he said.

"But I suggest he sue me for the money. I'll bet anybody two bits that he don't never get a judgment for two cents, and no one knows that any better than him (Mathews)."

Referring to his ability to pay, Long said "I'm solvent and own a few billy goats, but I didn't come out of office with a lot of money."

Standing in front of the John residence which is close to the college stadium, they called out to drivers of automobiles to park right in front of their homes at a cost of but ten cents each.

Friday night there was another game at Brown field when O. P. H. S. met Homer high and the young pair, armed with a searchlight, proclaimed their business to the public.

Announcement

The Board of Directors of the News-Star—World Publishing Corporation announces the election of Robert Ewing, Jr., as chairman of the board of the corporation to fill the vacancy in that position caused by the untimely death of Wilson Ewing. The new chairman of the board joins the president of this corporation, William H. Bronson, in making the following announcement:

The Monroe News-Star and Morning World have experienced the sad loss of their editor and publisher, Wilson Ewing, and the burden of leadership in these two newspapers serving the public of Monroe, West Monroe and all Northeast Louisiana must now be placed on other shoulders.

Mr. L. A. Mailhes of Shreveport, who has been associated with the Ewing newspapers in New Orleans, Shreveport and Monroe for the past 46 years, has been named general manager of the Monroe News-Star and Morning World and has now assumed this position.

His qualifications for the responsibility are outstanding. As a young man in his native city of New Orleans he gained his first newspaper experience under the late Col. Robert Ewing, editor and publisher of the New Orleans Daily States. Later, when Colonel Ewing acquired the Shreveport Times, Mr. Mailhes became general manager of the Times under the late John D. Ewing, editor and publisher, and has served as general manager of the Times for many years.

While Mr. Mailhes will retain his connection with the Shreveport Times, he will establish residence in Monroe and devote his attention to the operation of the Monroe News-Star and Morning World.

Mr. Mailhes is already favorably known to many of the citizens of Monroe, West Monroe and the surrounding territory as he participated in the launching of the Monroe Morning World and was here frequently at that time and throughout the years which followed.

In addition to his exceptional record as a tested newspaper executive, Mr. Mailhes is recognized by all who are acquainted with him as a citizen of outstanding worth in the field of civic service. As evidence of this, he has held the position of president of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce and was one of the founders and the first president of the Shreveport Beautification Foundation, two of the highest civic posts in the Northeast Louisiana city where he has long resided.

The owners of the News-Star and Morning World join with us in the belief that Mr. Mailhes merits the full confidence of the public served by these two newspapers and

Citizens Here Indignant Over Claim Of Hysteria

Many Neville High School fans and citizens of the Twin Cities Saturday expressed surprise and indignation at the statement that a large number of students and cheerleaders who became ill and fainted at the Neville High School football game with Natchez High School Friday night did so because of mass hysteria. Some of the citizens from here who attended the football game said there was no evidence of hysteria and that the girls plainly were suffering from food poisoning.

It was stated that one of the men bus drivers, who had no reason to be affected by hysteria, also collapsed.

A. G. Olcott, prominent Monroe businessman, issued the following statement, in which he said a large number of others concurred:

'Your writeup of Neville Tigerettes and the statement by a doctor that one of their members fell out and all 160 went into mass hysteria and had to be carried to hospitals was the most uncalled for—unjustified and unsportsman like statement ever published, and a reflection on this fine precision drill team, their leaders and their parents. These girls have performed under many adverse conditions in the past years and they are stronger mentally and physically than you have led your and our public to believe.

'A very large attendance of Monroe people were there with us to attest to the fact that a number of the first girls were very ill and confusion reigned when this hard working group were told they could not put on their show and had to go to hospitals for check-ups. Much of this could have been prevented had a doctor been available. We people believe in looking after our boys and girls and were amazed at the long lapse of time it took to get a doctor. By that time many more had become ill and confusion had started as all leaders had to try to help these sick girls and the drill team was upset. We bitterly protest the statement made by your doctor, as we parents that were there and helped certainly know our children better than that. These girls can take defeats and wins with heads high, as has been proven in past years and certainly do not warrant the above mentioned criticism.

'In all of the sports writeups I have ever read I have never seen such treatment in a write up of a visiting group and especially from a city known as the center of Southern Hospitality. The contents of this letter are not second hand as stated before and we request that this letter be published in your paper as it will be here in Monroe to correct the injustice done these fine girls and their parents.

'We hope that a situation like this will never happen again.

Tigerettes Okay After 'Hysteria'

The last eight of Neville High School's fainting "Tigerettes" returned home yesterday after spending Friday night under doctors care in a Natchez hospital.

Almost the entire 160-member cheering section fainted during the second quarter of a Neville High-Natchez football game and were taken to Natchez General Hospital where they received mild sedatives.

Doctors on the scene were quoted as saying the girls were victims of "mass hysteria" touched off when one of the members of the cheering section toppled over in the first quarter. Doctors were quoted as saying that the crowded conditions and the fact that the girls were wearing heavy, new jackets for the first time may have been responsible for the epidemic of "dropping Tigerettes."

Authorities said last night that there were no symptoms of food poisoning found among the girls. They said the entire group as well as a few Natchez football fans were seized by mass hysteria, and psychological suggestion did the rest after the first girl fainted from the heat.

An eye-witness, Norman Matthews, sports writer for the Natchez Democrat, was quoted by an Associated Press dispatch last night as describing the scene this way:

"The first girl fainted late in the second quarter and then it was parade of ambulances with the public address man calling for doctors continuously.

"Everybody tried to get into the act. The ambulances had to drive across one end of the field and the officials had to stop the game when play was in that section.

"At halftime, every time the Monroe Neville band would get started on its show, an ambulance would cut it short.

"At one time I saw six girls stretched out waiting for an ambulance. A girl would start to crumple and the cry would go up 'Here's another one'."

IKE PREPARING MIDWEST JUNKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower rallied his workers behind him today for the beginning tomorrow of a circuit-riding "peace" crusade through the politically-vital Midwest.

Describing himself as only the spearhead of a movement for "honesty and integrity" in government, the Republican presidential nominee told volunteer supporters that a crusading spirit will go much further than political organization toward winning a victory in November.

"I believe in organization but I believe more in spirit and that is what I see here today," Eisenhower told about 250 members of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon.

755 REGISTERED AT NORTHEASTERN

Up Eight Per Cent Over Last Year's Final Figure

Fall semester enrollment at Northeast State reached 755 at noon Saturday, B. S. Hamner, registrar, announced.

The number represents an increase of eight per cent over final figures of last year's fall registration.

Students may still enroll for regular or special work, and accommodations for students who wish to live in campus dormitories are also available for both men and women.

Registration is expected to take a jump next week with enrollment of persons who have already made plans for first semester study. These include both full time students and those desiring courses in the late afternoon or Saturday morning.

This week's enrollment shows 700 regular students and 55 who scheduled late afternoon or Saturday morning classes. The majority of the latter group comprises teachers who are working toward degrees or certificates, according to William Smith, director of teacher education.

The student body represents a marked increase in the number doing work in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Figures show a jump from 262 of last fall to 314 this year.

Along with the enlarged enrollment have been expanded curricula, equipment and faculty.,

SCOUTS FIGHT IN VOTE BATTLE

Valley Council Boys Wage Efforts To Get People To Polls

Since its inception in this country in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America has had participating citizenship based on good character as one of its principal goals. Therefore, it is not surprising to find this organized and patriotic group, qualified to render effective service, actively engaged in another "good turn" to the nation.

It is the "Get - Out - The - Vote" Campaign which the Boy Scouts are now undertaking in cooperation with the Freedoms Foundation. The program is non-partisan, without reference to any candidates or parties. Simply, it will urge citizens to exercise their franchise, and go to the polls and vote.

In the first phase, the Scouts will place more than one million posters in public places urging citizens to register so that they can vote in November. Then just before Election Day, Nov. 4, most of the nation's 2,950,000 Scouts and Leaders will visit 30 million homes, hanging on each door knob a Liberty Bell card which will call to the attention of citizens the importance of voting.

The job needs to be done. Citizenship is our active membership in the United States of America. It is the relationship between one person and all other persons in the community and the nation. Yet in 1948 when 94,092,000 persons in the nation were eligible to vote, only 52 per cent went to the polls to cast a total of 48,836-579 votes.

We have a long way to go to bring the percentage up to a more creditable figure. May the Scouts succeed in their efforts. Their participation in this worthy enterprise will be a lesson to them in the meaning of participating citizenship. An important outcome of this project is that probably few Scouts taking part will ever forget it.

Solons Confer Here Today In Review Of Kennon's Policies

Legislators from the fourth, fifth and eighth congressional districts will meet here today to "air complaints against the Kennon administration," reported Senators James B. Sparks and William Boles, of Rayville.

The meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the Frances Hotel. Reports state that Senator Boles will lead today's meeting, which is reported to have grown from smaller ones which have been conducted in past weeks. Monroe was picked as the cite due to its central location.

The joint statement by the two senators said the purpose of the meeting was:

1. To consider recent firings in the highway department and the present road and highway program throughout the state.
2. To discuss the various constitutional amendments with particular reference to the board bills.
3. To consider the possibility of calling a special session of the legislature.
4. To "air complaints" of the legislature and to decide what action, if any, should be taken.

Sparks stated that he didn't call the meeting, but that he thought it was a good idea. "I made the hotel arrangements because I live in Monroe," said Sparks. The Ouachita and Jackson parish senator said that Boles had asked him to make the reservations.

Senator Sparks insisted, "I personally am against any plans for a special session and see no reason to call one at this time. I don't believe the state should go to that expense, which would be several hundred thousand dollars."

According to the state constitution, special sessions of the Legislature can be called by:

1. The governor in a proclamation stating the purpose of the call and the number of days in the proposed special session. Only matters included in the call can be acted on.
2. A petition to the governor by two-thirds of the membership of both houses of the Legislature for a special session, stating purpose of the call and length of the proposed session. If the governor fails to issue the call, the legislators can, after prior notice in the official state journal, convene automatically.

Taylor Demands Seat On W. Monroe Council

Hugh Taylor, elected to the city aldermanic board in West Monroe in 1950, last night issued a statement to the press in which he said he would demand that Gov. Robert F. Kennon account for "appointing a man to my seat on the council."

Taylor said he never legally resigned from the council although he issued a statement to the press in October, 1951, in which he said he was giving up his seat on the board. Actually, Taylor said last night: "I never submitted a written resignation to Gov. Earl Long."

Taylor said he takes the position that he has been a legal member of the council since October but that he has been absent. He says that in his opinion he is still legally a city councilman.

"I will be at the next council meeting in an official capacity," Taylor said. He said that he expects Governor Kennon to have "withdrawn one of his appointed men by then."

Taylor said he would write the governor requesting that he take action immediately. He said he would make the request next week.

Ouachita Parish Representative Shady Wall said last night that he concurred with Taylor after checking with "top legal authority" yesterday. Wall said he intended to check with the attorney general's office and, "If I am told what I think I will be," ask the governor to immediately revoke the appointment to Taylor's position on the council.

Taylor said the governor had been "so technical in filling West Monroe vacancies by appointments, I feel that I am not stretching technicalities in demanding that I serve on the council." Kennon said when he made the appointment of a new mayor last week that he did so because he was given that privilege under the constitution.

Taylor stated further, "I don't approve of a few two-bit politicians, hiding behind the banner of technicalities, running the affairs of West Monroe as they see fit, disregarding the desires of the people of West Monroe."

Considerable controversy has been aroused in West Monroe since the appointment, by Gov. Kennon, of a city judge, three new aldermen and a mayor. Numerous demands for an election to fill the vacancies have been sounded without avail.

Advocates of an election have argued that under the West Monroe charter they are entitled to an election because more than one year remains in the unexpired terms of offices that have been filled by appointment.

L. S. U. Alumni Are To Meet On Monday

All alumni of Louisiana State University are urged to meet in Hotel Virginia Monday at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement by T. K. McKnight, secretary of the local alumni association.

Important matters are to be discussed and it is urged that all men and women who are graduates of the university from all over Northeast Louisiana attend this meeting.

160 WARSHIPS PARTICIPATE IN BIG WAR GAMES

Russian Press Charges Detriment To Herself, Baltic Nations

GOUROCK, Scotland, Sept. 13 (AP) — A powerful fleet of 160 warships moved out today to battle stations in the North Sea for the Atlantic Pact's first big war games and promptly drew the fire of Moscow's editors.

The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star charged that the exercise, "Operation Mainbrace," was aggressively aimed by the Pentagon at clamping control over the Baltic, to the detriment of Russia and other Baltic powers. Moscow dispatches said the tone of the vitriolic attack indicated Russia may protest officially to Norway and Denmark, among the eight nations taking part.

The large U. S. naval force involved had orders to stay out of the Baltic in order not to invite an incident with Russia. But the 13-day exercise includes an amphibious landing in Denmark and a counterattack against "enemy" invaders of Northern Norway. Norway's northern frontier touches Russia.

More than 85,000 men, including 40,000 U. S. sailors and Marines, are involved in the operation, along with British, Canadian, American, Belgian, Dutch, French, Norwegian and Danish warships.

The big U. S. carriers Franklin D. Roosevelt and Midway, the battleship Wisconsin, the smaller carriers Wasp and Wright, and numerous cruisers, destroyers, smaller vessels and a supply train are engaged.

For months naval men have been working at desks ironing out the details of operations and communications for co-operation among the eight navies. The exercise is to see how well the plans have been made.

The main "blue" force steamed out of the Clyde before daybreak as British and American aircraft swept ahead to spot any planes or submarines from an enemy "orange" force.

Britain's Adm. Sir Patrick Brind, commander in chief of Allied forces in Northern Europe, is in command of the maneuvers ranging over 500,000 square miles of sea from the Lofoten Islands in Northern Norway to Bornholm in the Baltic. The senior officer at sea is U. S. Vice Adm. Felix Stump.

Next week, concurrent maneuvers by 250,000 British, Canadian, Belgian, Dutch, Norwegian and Danish troops will get underway in the British zone of Germany along the Danish frontier.

More than 55,000 Swedish troops and nearly all Sweden's available warships and planes started maneuvers in the Baltic last Thursday and will not wind up until Monday.

The fact that these exercises coincide with Mainbrace has drawn the fire of the Moscow press, but Swedish officals said their plans were made before Mainbrace and were being held at the usual time and place this year.

Free Room And Board For Wild Ducks In Mississippi

SARDIS RESERVOIR, Miss., Sept. 13 (AP)—The state of Mississippi is offering free room and board to all southbound ducks this fall.

The State Game and Fish Commission has underway a $13,319 project to build a chain of duck hotels in the upper reaches of this flood control reservoir in North Mississippi.

The Magnolia State has been widely publicized in recent years in its attempt to lure industries and tourists into her lair.

Comes now ducks in great flocks, the Commission hopes.

Here is the way the motels are built: inside the reservoir are vast areas of land, inundated after winter rains, but dry bottom land during the summer.

The Game and Fish Commission in cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service plants acres of this land in German millet, buckwheat, corn, soybeans, oats, milo and rye grass.

Instead of harvesting the grain, the Commission sends in bulldozers that pile up terraces about the fields.

When water from the first rains inundates the fields it forms a perfect place for ducks.

The squadron commander of a flight of ducks will see these small ponds with lucious ripe grain waving just above the water level.

While this may look ducky from the air, the honkers will find the scheme is not altogether altruistic for the state is beckoning to the ducks with one hand and the duck hunters with the other.

There are 14 such ponds outside the game refuge which will be open to public hunting next season.

Sardis Reservoir, the largest inland body of water in Mississippi, lies almost in the middle of what is known as the "Mississippi flyway." This path of flight is prob-

Kress Company Store First Full Unit In Chest Drive

The S. H. Kress Company here, managed by B. T. Graham, was the first firm to get under the wire with a complete unit gift in the 1952-53 campaign. Last year's first gift was made by Baker's Shoe Store.

When Mr. Graham walked into chest headquarters with his completed envelope and was told that he was the first to complete his work, he grinned broadly and said, "Well, I'm glad to be able to beat that McCarthy guy this time. We like to be first in community participation and this year we were determined to be first."

Signs were already obvious that many firms are striving early to be among the first on the list. Several firm gifts have been received through the mail. Drive leaders and chest officials expressed confidence that the early start of the drive this year and a better understanding of the unit account plan that was installed in the chest two years ago, by firms and workers, will result in even greater returns in the 1952-53 campaign than in any former years.

'EDUCATED NUTS' IRK EARL LONG

Ex-Governor Says Many Cabildo Relics Are 'Rubbish'

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13 (AP) — New Orleans' historic Cabildo and Pontalba buildings received a tongue lashing today as former Gov. Earl Long heatedly commented on antiques, painting, furniture and "over-educated nuts who live in the deep, deep past."

The Cabildo and Pontalba buildings are part of Louisiana's Spanish and French heritage. The Cabildo was the site of the transfer of the Louisiana Purchase from France to the United States. It now contains the Louisiana State Museum.

Both buildings are located on Jackson Square, the heart of the Vieux Carre (old Square), commonly called the French Quarter.

Long said he was interested in the museum only because it is a tourist attraction.

"But, I'll tell you this, 80 per cent of the stuff in it is rubbish that isn't worth hauling home.

"Some over-educated nuts who like to live in the deep, deep past have a bunch of old junk they don't want to throw away or burn up and they give it to the museum."

Switching to painting, Long declared "Me, all I know about Michelangelo is what they crammed down my throat in school.

"But I'll say this, too, that some of those pictures in the Cabildo which they say are worth $25,000, I wouldn't give 50 cents for the whole lot."

Long's remarks were made in Houston in a telephone interview with the Times-Picayune.

Furniture was the cause of the governor's outburst.

Ben Mathews, director of the museum, has said he plans to bill Long for storage of furniture in the Pontalba building for about two and one-half years, at $150 a month.

Last Friday Mathews made public a report from a storage company that 3,700 pounds of furniture belonging to the Longs was removed from storage in the Pontalba building and delivered to Mrs. Long on July 2 in Alexandria.

Long said he had no knowledge of personal belongings being stored in the state-owned building and said his wife must have arranged for keeping their furnishings there.

"If my wife owes anything, I'll pay it if she doesn't, up to a reasonable amount of my ability to pay," he said.

"But I suggest he sue me for the money. I'll bet anybody two bits that he don't never get a judgment for two cents, and no one knows that any better than him (Mathews)."

Referring to his ability to pay, Long said "I'm solvent and own a few billy goats, but I didn't come out of office with a lot of money."

The Board of Directors of the News-Star—World Publishing Corporation announces the election of Robert Ewing, Jr., as chairman of the board of the corporation to fill the vacancy in that position caused by the untimely death of Wilson Ewing. The new chairman of the board joins the president of this corporation, William H. Bronson, in making the following announcement:

Citizens Here Indignant Over Claim Of Hysteria

Many Neville High School fans and citizens of the Twin Cities Saturday expressed surprise and indignation at the statement that a large number of students and cheerleaders who became ill and fainted at the Neville High School football game with Natchez High School Friday night did so because of mass hysteria. Some of the citizens from here who attended the football game said there was no evidence of hysteria and that the girls plainly were suffering from food poisoning.

It was stated that one of the men bus drivers, who had no reason to be affected by hysteria, also collapsed.

A. G. Olcott, prominent Monroe businessman, issued the following statement, in which he said a large number of others concurred:

'Your writeup of Neville Tigerettes and the statement by a doctor that one of their members fell out and all 160 went into mass hysteria and had to be carried to hospitals was the most uncalled for—unjustified and unsportsman like statement ever published, and a reflection on this fine precision drill team, their leaders and their parents. These girls have performed under many adverse conditions in the past years and they are stronger mentally and physically than you have led your and our public to believe.

'A very large attendance of Monroe people were there with us to attest to the fact that a number of the first girls were very ill and confusion reigned when this hard working group were told they could not put on their show and had to go to hospitals for check-ups. Much of this could have been prevented had a doctor been available. We people believe in looking after our boys and girls and were amazed at the long lapse of time it took to get a doctor. By that time many more had become ill and confusion had started as all leaders had to try to help these sick girls and the drill team was upset. We bitterly protest the statement made by your doctor, as we parents that were there and helped certainly know our children better than that. These girls can take defeats and wins with heads high, as has been proven in past years and certainly do not warrant the above mentioned criticism.

'In all of the sports writeups I have ever read I have never seen such treatment in a write up of a visiting group and especially from a city known as the center of Southern Hospitality. The contents of this letter are not second hand as stated before and we request that this letter be published in your paper as it will be here in Monroe to correct the injustice done these fine girls and their parents.

'We hope that a situation like this will never happen again.

Tigerettes Okay After 'Hysteria'

The last eight of Neville High School's fainting "Tigerettes" returned home yesterday after spending Friday night under doctors care in a Natchez hospital.

Almost the entire 160-member cheering section fainted during the second quarter of a Neville High-Natchez football game and were taken to Natchez General Hospital where they received mild sedatives.

Doctors on the scene were quoted as saying the girls were victims of "mass hysteria" touched off when one of the members of the cheering section toppled over in the first quarter. Doctors were quoted as saying that the crowded conditions and the fact that the girls were wearing heavy, new jackets for the first time may have been responsible for the epidemic of "dropping Tigerettes."

Authorities said last night that there were no symptoms of food poisoning found among the girls. They said the entire group as well as a few Natchez football fans were seized by mass hysteria, and psychological suggestion did the rest after the first girl fainted from the heat.

An eye-witness, Norman Matthews, sports writer for the Natchez Democrat, was quoted by an Associated Press dispatch last night as describing the scene this way:

"The first girl fainted late in the second quarter and then it was parade of ambulances with the public address man calling for doctors continuously.

"Everybody tried to get into the act. The ambulances had to drive across one end of the field and the officials had to stop the game when play was in that section.

"At halftime, every time the Monroe Neville band would get started on its show, an ambulance would cut it short.

"At one time I saw six girls stretched out waiting for an ambulance. A girl would start to crumple and the cry would go up 'Here's another one'."

IKE PREPARING MIDWEST JUNKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower rallied his workers behind him today for the beginning tomorrow of a circuit-riding "peace" crusade through the politically-vital Midwest.

Describing himself as only the spearhead of a movement for "honesty and integrity" in government, the Republican presidential nominee told volunteer supporters that a crusading spirit will go much further than political organization toward winning a victory in November.

"I believe in organization but I believe more in spirit and that is what I see here today," Eisenhower told about 250 members of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon.

755 REGISTERED AT NORTHEASTERN

Up Eight Per Cent Over Last Year's Final Figure

Fall semester enrollment at Northeast State reached 755 at noon Saturday, B. S. Hamner, registrar, announced.

The number represents an increase of eight per cent over final figures of last year's fall registration.

Students may still enroll for regular or special work, and accommodations for students who wish to live in campus dormitories are also available for both men and women.

Registration is expected to take a jump next week with enrollment of persons who have already made plans for first semester study. These include both full time students and those desiring courses in the late afternoon or Saturday morning.

This week's enrollment shows 700 regular students and 55 who scheduled late afternoon or Saturday morning classes. The majority of the latter group comprises teachers who are working toward degrees or certificates, according to William Smith, director of teacher education.

The student body represents a marked increase in the number doing work in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Figures show a jump from 262 of last fall to 314 this year.

Along with the enlarged enrollment have been expanded curricula, equipment and faculty.,

SCOUTS FIGHT IN VOTE BATTLE

Valley Council Boys Wage Efforts To Get People To Polls

Since its inception in this country in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America has had participating citizenship based on good character as one of its principal goals. Therefore, it is not surprising to find this organized and patriotic group, qualified to render effective service, actively engaged in another "good turn" to the nation.

It is the "Get - Out - The - Vote" Campaign which the Boy Scouts are now undertaking in cooperation with the Freedoms Foundation. The program is non-partisan, without reference to any candidates or parties. Simply, it will urge citizens to exercise their franchise, and go to the polls and vote.

In the first phase, the Scouts will place more than one million posters in public places urging citizens to register so that they can vote in November. Then just before Election Day, Nov. 4, most of the nation's 2,950,000 Scouts and Leaders will visit 30 million homes, hanging on each door knob a Liberty Bell card which will call to the attention of citizens the importance of voting.

The job needs to be done. Citizenship is our active membership in the United States of America. It is the relationship between one person and all other persons in the community and the nation. Yet in 1948 when 94,092,000 persons in the nation were eligible to vote, only 52 per cent went to the polls to cast a total of 48,836-579 votes.

We have a long way to go to bring the percentage up to a more creditable figure. May the Scouts succeed in their efforts. Their participation in this worthy enterprise will be a lesson to them in the meaning of participating citizenship. An important outcome of this project is that probably few Scouts taking part will ever forget it.

YOUNG SOLDIER LOSES HIS ARM

JONESVILLE, Sept. 13. — A 24-year-old soldier home on leave to attend his father's funeral, lost his left arm in an accident late Friday afternoon when a gravel truck sideswiped the car he was driving near Jonesville.

Pfc. Christian I. Burdwell of Ferriday was to have returned to his station at Ft. Lee, Va. on Saturday, after having been home on emergency leave since the funeral of his father, George Burdwell, of

Free Room And Board For Wild Ducks In Mississippi

SARDIS RESERVOIR, Miss., Sept. 13 (AP)—The state of Mississippi is offering free room and board to all southbound ducks this fall.

The State Game and Fish Commission has underway a $43,319 project to build a chain of duck hotels in the upper reaches of this flood control reservoir in North Mississippi.

The Magnolia State has been widely publicized in recent years in its attempt to lure industries and tourists into her lair.

Comes now ducks in great flocks, the Commission hopes.

Here is the way the motels are built: inside the reservoir are vast areas of land, inundated after winter rains, but dry bottom land during the summer.

The Game and Fish Commission in cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service plants acres of this land in German millet, buckwheat, corn, soybeans, oats, milo and rye grass.

Instead of harvesting the grain, the Commission sends in bulldozers that pile up terraces about the fields.

When water from the first rains inundates the fields it forms a perfect place for ducks.

The squadron commander of a flight of ducks will see these small ponds with lucious ripe grain waving just above the water level.

While this may look ducky from the air, the honkers will find the scheme is not altogether altrustic for the state is beckoning to the ducks with one hand and the duck hunters with the other.

There are 14 such ponds outside the game refuge which will be open to public hunting next season.

Sardis Reservoir, the largest inland body of water in Mississippi, lies almost in the middle of what is known as the "Mississippi flyway." This path of flight is prob-

Solons Confer Here Today In Review Of Kennon's Policies

Legislators from the fourth, fifth and eighth congressional districts will meet here today to "air complaints against the Kennon administration," reported Senators James B. Sparks and William Boles, of Rayville.

The meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the Frances Hotel. Reports state that Senator Boles will lead today's meeting, which is reported to have grown from smaller ones which have been conducted in past weeks. Monroe was picked as the cite due to its central location.

The joint statement by the two senators said the purpose of the meeting was:

1. To consider recent firings in the highway department and the present road and highway program throughout the state.
2. To discuss the various constitutional amendments with particular reference to the board bills.
3. To consider the possibility of calling a special session of the legislature.
4. To "air complaints" of the legislature and to decide what action, if any, should be taken.

Sparks stated that he didn't call the meeting, but that he thought it was a good idea. "I made the hotel arrangements because I live in Monroe," said Sparks. The Ouachita and Jackson parish senator said that Boles had asked him to make the reservations.

Senator Sparks insisted, "I personally am against any plans for a special session and see no reason to call one at this time. I don't believe the state should go to that expense, which would be several hundred thousand dollars."

According to the state constitution, special sessions of the Legislature can be called by:

1. The governor in a proclamation stating the purpose of the call and the number of days in the proposed special session. Only matters included in the call can be acted on.
2. A petition to the governor by two-thirds of the membership of both houses of the Legislature for a special session, stating purpose of the call and length of the proposed session. If the governor fails to issue the call, the legislators can, after prior notice in the official state journal, convene automatically.

Taylor Demands Seat On W. Monroe Council

Hugh Taylor, elected to the city aldermanic board in West Monroe in 1950, last night issued a statement to the press in which he said he would demand that Gov. Robert F. Kennon account for "appointing a man to my seat on the council."

Taylor said he never legally resigned from the council although he issued a statement to the press in October, 1951, in which he said he was giving up his seat on the board. Actually, Taylor said last night: "I never submitted a written resignation to Gov. Earl Long."

Taylor said he takes the position that he has been a legal member of the council since October but that he has been absent. He says that in his opinion he is still legally a city councilman.

"I will be at the next council meeting in an official capacity," Taylor said. He said that he expects Governor Kennon to have "withdrawn one of his appointed men by then."

Taylor said he would write the governor requesting that he take action immediately. He said he would make the request next week.

Ouachita Parish Representative Shady Wall said last night that he concurred with Taylor after checking with "top legal authority" yesterday. Wall said he intended to check with the attorney general's office and, "If I am told what I think I will be," ask the governor to immediately revoke the appointment to Taylor's position on the council.

Taylor said the governor had been "so technical in filling West Monroe vacancies by appointments, I feel that I am not stretching technicalities in demanding that I serve on the council." Kennon said when he made the appointment of a new mayor last week that he did so because he was given that privilege under the constitution.

Taylor stated further, "I don't approve of a few two-bit politicians, hiding behind the banner of technicalities, running the affairs of West Monroe as they see fit, disregarding the desires of the people of West Monroe."

Considerable controversy has been aroused in West Monroe since the appointment, by Gov. Kennon, of a city judge, three new aldermen and a mayor. Numerous demands for an election to fill the vacancies have been sounded without avail.

Advocates of an election have argued that under the West Monroe charter they are entitled to an election because more than one year remains in the unexpired terms of offices that have been filled by appointment.

L. S. U. Alumni Are To Meet On Monday

All alumni of Louisiana State University are urged to meet in Hotel Virginia Monday at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement by T. K. McKnight, secretary of the local alumni association.

Important matters are to be discussed and it is urged that all men and women who are graduates of the university from all over Northeast Louisiana attend this meeting.

Kress Company Store First Full Unit In Chest Drive

The S. H. Kress Company here, managed by B. T. Graham, was the first firm to get under the wire with a complete unit gift in the 1952-53 campaign. Last year's first gift was made by Baker's Shoe Store.

When Mr. Graham walked into chest headquarters with his completed envelope and was told that he was the first to complete his work, he grinned broadly and said, "Well, I'm glad to be able to beat that McCarthy guy this time. We like to be first in community participation and this year we were determined to be first."

Signs were already obvious that many firms are striving early to be among the first on the list. Several firm gifts have been received through the mail. Drive leaders and chest officials expressed confidence that the early start of the drive this year and a better understanding of the unit account plan that was installed in the chest two years ago, by firms and workers, will result in even greater returns in the 1952-53 campaign than in any former years.

PUBLIC FORUM

Monroe, La.

Editor, News-Star—World.
Monroe, Louisiana.

I wish to reply to a letter appearing in the Morning World Saturday signed by Raymond Kelly, prisoner in the City Jail.

In order that true facts of this complaint may be known let me say that I have been acting as City Jailer for several weeks during the absent of the regular Jailer who is absent due to serious illness.

Raymond Kelly, the author of this complaint, is one of the habitual occupants of the City Jail, having been arrested for vagrancy probably more than any other person in these parts.

The prisoners themselves have destroyed their own spoons, breaking them and throwing them out the windows. Four dozen new spoons were bought the latter part of August but soon vanished due to misuse by the prisoners. Four dozen more spoons were bought September 11th. In order to keep the prisoners from destroying the spoons we are now collecting them after each meal.

I have 114 blankets that have just come back from the laundry. They were in the laundry probably during the time Kelly complains of. The City just spent $285.00 to have the jail bedding made over. It cost $90.00 to laundry the blankets . . . The prisoners are in a habit of badly damaging the bedding with cigarettes and often tear up the blankets to make ropes to bring whiskey through the barred windows.

Your truly,
B. F. Parker

Stevenson Asks Who Won In Chicago, Taft Or Ike?

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 12 (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson talked of the Eisenhower-Taft meeting today as "the spectacle of the candidate who won the nomination seeking out his defeated rival and begging for a kind word."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, was referring to the conference which his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, held in New York this morning with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Taft bid unsuccessfully for the GOP nomination.

In a speech delivered at a downtown theater here,\Stevenson said:

"I am beginning to wonder who won at Chicago, anyway, and who my opponent really is. Maybe the Republicans now have a six-star general."

The Illinois governor also cut loose at Eisenhower again for endorsing Sen. William Jenner, Indiana Republican for re-election.

"This is the first time I have ever heard a party go into battle under the slogan: 'Throw the rascals in.' "

Stevenson's criticism of the Eisenhower endorsement of Jenner was pinned to the Senator's charge that Gen. George C. Marshall is "a living lie" and a "front man for traitors."

Stevenson said:

"The other night in Indianapolis the General (Eisenhower) gave a chalk talk on team play in basketball and politics. In the course of his talk, he made the following admission: 'The overwhelming majority of federal employes are among our most patriotic and efficient citizens.'

"Now, I believe this. In fact, I know it—and I think that most people in this country know it, too. We are highly gratified to have the Republican candidate say it in public.

"But some Americans do not believe it. And some of the most conspicuous of those who spend day and night attacking the integrity of our public service are on the general's team. In fact, after last Tuesday, some of them seem to have been promoted to his first team.

"One player whom the general gave his Republican letter—his varsity 'R'—to last Tuesday is Sen. Jenner of Indiana. And, according to Sen. Jenner, the list of unpatriotic federal employes is not only practically endless but it is headed by the revered name of Gen. George Marshall, our great wartime commander and Gen. Eisenhower's superior officer.

"Gen. Marshall, Sen. Jenner said on the sheltered floor of the United States Senate, was a 'living lie' and not only willing but eager to play the role of front man for traitors.' "

. At a Denver news conference in August, Eisenhower said he had no patience with anyone who questioned the integrity or loyalty of Marshall. At the same time, Eisenhower said he was endorsing all GOP nominees for Congress in an effort to win control of Congress from the Democrats and establish party unity.

PIRATES GET IRON

MANILA (AP)— Scrap iron pirates are looting the naval graveyards of ships sunk off the Philippines in World War II. Senator Carlos P. Garcia wants the army to investigate. He says the government is losing money it hoped to realize from the sale of the hulls.

The pirates are reported particularly active off the coasts of the east central islands of Samar and Leyte, where some of the bitterest naval engagements of the war were fought.

An estimated 500 Japanese ships lie at various depths in Philippine waters. It is believed that from 500,000 to 700,000 tons of schap can be salvaged from the sunken ships.

The seven-month 1952 total of $322,651,000 was 28 per cent more than the comparable 1951 total.

Individual categories showed non-residential awards in July at $13,693,000, up 74 per cent over June but down 54 per cent from July last year. Non-residential for seven months 1952 totaled $142,393,000 or 51 per cent more than the 1951 figure.

Residential in July was $9,905,000, a 16 per cent rise over June, but 57 per cent less than July, 1951. For seven months this year, residential was $70,088,000 a decrease of 23 per cent from the 1951 figure.

In July, public and private works and utilities totaled $10,396,000 or 41 per cent less than June but 64 per cent more than July last year. For seven months the total was $110,170,000 or 68 per cent higher than seven months 1951.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

not object to Eisenhower; they are adamant that Thomas E. Dewey and Paul Hoffman should not be paid off for getting Eisenhower his nomination. They are prepared to admit that Eisenhower could have got it without Dewey or Hoffman, but television, more than any other instrument, has created a devil-symbolism concerning these two men.

Taft cannot allay this feeling. Even were he to go whistle-stop campaigning, he could not quiet the opposition to Dewey and Hoffman. In fact, he might even accelerate the emotionalism which this opposition is stimulating. Therefore he must ask General Eisenhower what his intentions are concerning these two men.

This goes deeper than emotionalism, however. The office of secretary of state has grown to be the second most powerful in the government. For several years the Republican Party has fought Dean Acheson and his policies. Active Republican partisans have accustomed their minds to this opposition. Should it be General Eisenhower's intention to make either Thomas E. Dewey or Paul Hoffman his secretary of state, the opposition would be so intense that an effort might be made to block confirmation by the Senate.

Taft has now come into the campaign in full support of General Eisenhower. Their agreement is now complete. Those who have tried to separate the two men have failed. Those who have accepted Senator Taft's leadership will now support General Eisenhower.

'N HOLLYWOOD

—but only as translated into Spanish.

To use the phrase "they lost something in translation" is an understatement. They lost most everything. After re-reading these plays, novels and biographies in their original form, I realized it was like learning to read all over again. And I still read and read every chance I get.

One of the most important discoveries I made concerns the American people. I've found nothing but kindness, understanding and patience everywhere I've been in the United States. People in America have an inspiring faith in their fellow men. They haven't been hardened by deceit or distrust. They are willing to accept a stranger until he proves himself unworthy of that acceptance.

And I've found that America is the only country I know in the world that knows how to smile—except, of course, my native Argentina.

People have a lack of fear here. They are genuinely happy. They have the freedom to express themselves as they wish. They trust their neighbors. Education is not confined to a chosen few—and by education I mean a well-rounded education through high school. And even more important—women have equal opportunities with men. The American woman is given the full opportunity to compete mentally with men. She and her brother are given equal chance in school. There is no profession barred to her, either by law or by custom. She is alive, alert and mentally attractive.

So you see, Jimmie, even though historians won't record Lamas' discovery of America, you can understand why it will always be the most important experience in my life.

IN HOLLYWOOD

coming biography of Fanny Brice will tell this anecdote: When Billy Rose was gallivanting around with Eleanor Holm in 1939, Fanny stayed put in Hollywood, keeping her counsel. She said not a word until one day, irked at the gossip that Billy was leaving her, she asked a friend:

"What does Billy see in that Eleanor Holm? There isn't a thing I can't do better than her—except swim."

Look alikes: Nancy Olson and Clarissa Churchill, bride of Anthony Eden.

The name of Steve Cochran's newest flame—a lass on the Warner lot—would curl your hair.

Nita Naldi is the latest silent screen star to try for a comeback. She's also up for a role in the stage play, "In Any Language." That's the play with the odd parallel to a topical international romance.

Bell Sisters Toll on Film

The warbling Bell Sisters have been set for a Columbia filmusical, to roll in January.

Olivia de Havilland's explanation of her four-year absence from the screen:

"I'd rather be forgotten than remembered in a bad picture."

Hattie McDaniel, whose illness depleted her life's savings, is now at the Motion Picture Country Home, which is supported by members of the film industry. The ailing Oscar winner is still hoping to make a complete recovery and resume her "Beaulah" role.

Shelley Winters has just left the faithful press agent who publicized her long before her click in "A Double Life."

How that Richard Greene gets around! One night with Mona Freeman, the next with Lady Sylvia Ashley.

The word's out that Lena Horne is shedding the big agency that's represented her for years. Lena's vexed because the star role in MGM's "See How They Run" went to Dorothy Dandridge.

Linda Darnell is saying she's happy for Bob Levitt, ex-hubby of Ethel Merman, and his bride, Sherry Chadbourne. Linda and Levitt once discussed marriage, but decided that a movie queen who had to live in Hollywood and an executive tied to New York wouldn't be able to make a go of it.

Buddy Rogers' salary demand was too high, so Don Porter, not Buddy, will play Ann Sothern's publisher boss in her telefilm series for producer Jack Chertok.

Civil Defense To Aid Two-Way Radio Cost

FERRIDAY, La., Sept. 13—(Special) The Federal Civil Defense administration will pay half of the cost of two-way radio communications ordered by Ferriday, announces Civil Defense Director E. W. Vogt.

State Civil Defense Director W. D. Haas said that the purchase will remove Concordia parish from the areas in the state not capable of receiving air raid alerts "without adequate communications" Haas said, "Civil Defense is doomed in this area".

A. J. Gambordella, Central Louisiana field training officer, pointed out that some $261,000 in federal matching funds has been allocated to parishes and municipalties in Louisiana during the 1952-53 fiscal year for the purpose of Civil Defense equipment.

Deputy Civil Director Nolan A. Moulle, of Ferriday, who is also the chief of Ferriday, has been credited with much of the work investigating the possibility for obtaining the equipment. Ferriday's leaders who approved the purchase were Mayor L. W. Davis, and Aldermen H. A. Bateman, Ferald F. DeLaune, V. O. Hill, John S. Osborne and Guy R. Serio.

NOTEBOOK

NEW YORK (AP)—What do you do with your old New Year's resolutions?

For years I used to write mine down the first of each January—and manage conveniently to lose them by the end of February. The natural result was: Out of sight, out of mind.;

This spring, however, while cleaning out my dresser drawers, I found a wrinkled, yellowing sheet of paper. It was my New Year's resolutions for 1940, and the last paragraph read:

". . . And I promise to get my stripped weight down to 170 pounds and be more obedient to my wife."

Frances, reading over my shoulder, said comfortingly:

"Well, Rover, you and Joe Stalin certainly keep your promises, don't you?"

I weighed on a drug store scales that day and got back a card that said "206." Allowing about six pounds for clothes, I was an over-plump 200—30 pounds higher than my target of 12 years ago.

Well, I decided right then to do something about it. And—as the sports writers say—the rest is history. A stringent diet of things like poached eggs, ground beef and salads made of several varieties of wide-bladed grass has put me right back to where I wanted to be in 1940.

The same drugstore scales today told me I had hit the 170-pound level and added: "You have a judicial mind." I admire that little old weighing machine. Sometimes it is pounds foolish, but it is always penny-wise. It never says an unkind thing to anybody. One day I put a cent into it and it failed to work. I shook it angrily and slapped it in its glass face, and out tumbled a card that said:

"You always keep your emotions under control and get full value for every cent you spend."

How do you like that for a machine turning its other cheek. Why can't we all be as kind as weighing machines?

Many fatties wonder what life would be like if they shed their excess blubber. Here are a few result in my case:

1. People used to be able to follow me around the office by the trail of buttons that popped off my straining vest. Today I have to take long steps before my slackened coat begins to move.

2. My wife formerly upbraided me: "Every husband on this floor carries out the garbage to the incinerator but you." And I replied, "I'm too tired. Take it out yourself—it's yours. I don't leave anything on my plate." Now I don't mind carrying out the garbage at all. (There isn't much anyway, as Frances went on a diet, too.)

3. I used to huff and puff climbing the steps of a bus. But the other night I lasted half way through a waltz.

4. I used to waddle when I walked like a ship in a rising sea. Now I slither along like a lean tiger—if you don't count its two front feet.

5. Chairs feel harder. With your padding gone, you can't sit still so long. So you get up and get your work done quicker.

6. A piece of buttered bread, a blob of mashed potatoes, are as beautiful as a sunset. When I sneak a dish of ice cream now, I feel more devilish than I did in college when I kept a sorority girl out after midnight.

But the best thing about dieting is it helps baldness. When you lose weight you shrink all over, including your scalp. Thus your bald spot looks smaller. Nobody else may notice it, but you do.

My ambition now is to drop from 170 pounds to about 50 pounds. I figure at that weight my scalp will have shrunk so much I'll look like I'm wearing a coonskin cap. That's my real goal.

ANTI-REDS ESCAPE

VIENNA (AP)— Four Hungarian men, aged 21 to 30, recently escaped to Austria from a Communist prison camp by wading chin - deep through the sewers of Budapest.

The foursome laid plans to escape after they uncovered an opening on the camp grounds that led to the city's sewer system. For four hours, they struggled under the city pavements, menaced by rats and the danger of being swept into the main sewage stream and thence into the Danube River.

They battled always spstream and finally reached the hills of Buda. From there, they made their way by nightfall across Hungary to the Austrian frontier, where they slipped through a barbed wire fence to safety.

Angelo Patri

Our Children

We of the United States have so much of the good things of life that we are inclined to be greedy and try to take all of all of them until we are choking the life out of ourselves. The schools are in the same situation. They are trying to do so much, cover so much of modern life in their activities that the children, and their teachers, have no time left to talk to themselves and discover what they are like.

Football, basketball, the orchestra, dramatics, athletics, the rich curriculum, the touch with community life, all are fine and worth while. Each requires time and demands energy from children and teachers. Practice, function, home, devour the children and often their parents as well. We must check ourselves and remember, "Temperance in all things."

It is not possible for any child to engage in all the activities the school and community offer. There must be selection and discrimination. The program of each child must be set so as to allow him free time to become acquainted with himself, his family, and a world that is his own.

By that I mean there must be time in which a child is free to elect his own activity, or do nothing but enjoy doing nothing. He must have time to read. Reading is one of the most valuable activities mankind has ever discovered for the nourishment of his mind, his soul, his whole being. There is nothing that can take its place. Neither radio nor television, neither sports nor arts and crafts can ever take the place that reading a good book fills in the healthy growth of a child's mind and character. Under the present rush and drive of tthe modern school and community, little time is left for this essential way of the good life.

The children cannot do anything thoroughly when they undertake too heavy a program. It is unwise to allow a child, including the high school student, to fill his day completely, to extend his day into the night and so leave him no time for quiet mediation or study. It seems to me poor educational practice to allow the school activities to reach into the evening of a school day. Children who go to band practice, dramatic work or entertainment at P. T. A. during school week are not going to be in condition to do their best work in the classroom next day. They are not going to be in condition to be their best selves, either.

Growing children need rest, freedom from pressure for some hours a day, and from eight to ten hours sleep a night, depending upon age and temperament. We should understand and help the young people to understand that it is not possible, nor profitable, to try to do everything, have everything, enjoy everything life offers. One must select and discriminate or one loses out completely.

If obedience is taught while a child is still in babyhood, by the time he is three or four he will have learned the basic principles of obedience, and his life will be easier and happier. Dr. Patri explains in booklet No. 31. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

It's Your Deal

Liven Up Stud Poker Game

If your stud poker game is too tame, you can liven it up immensely with the four-flush as a hand that beats one pair but loses to two pairs. Whenever you have four cards of the same suit at the showdown, therefore, your hand beats a pair of aces but loses to any two pairs.

One of the chief advantages of this novelty is that more players tend to stay in until the end. This produces more action and more excitement.

Suppose, for example, that you are dealt the three of clubs down and the nine of clubs up. You would promptly fold that start in any normal game of stud poker, but it has its possibilities when the game rewards the four-flush.

If you get three cards of the same suit on the first three cards, you have very fine winning possibilities. You may now draw a pair or a fourth card of the same suit—to say nothing of the chance of drawing an even better hand.

Suppose you show three cards of the same suit up when the last card is dealt. The other players must worry about the chance that you have a fourth card of the same suit as your down card. If so, your four-flush will beat any pair at the table. Even if you don't have a four-flush, you may still have a pair. There are many possibilities.

Q—At auction pinochle, I buried a trump before beginning to play. I made no announcement of this fact, and the opponents claimed that this was the same as reneg. Is this true?

A—No. You are allowed to bury any card that is not part of your meld, and you need not announce anything about your three buried cards.

Q—In a game of seven-card rummy, my husband discarded before he drew. Then he discovered that the card he drew gave him rummy. To make it more complicated, the card he discarded gave me rummy. Who wins the hand, and what is the rule?

A—The wife wins the hand. When the husband discards before drawing, he gives up all right to meld at that turn. He is entitled to draw, but then his play is complete. The wife is now entitled to draw the previous discard—which allows her to go rummy.

OLD ART OBJECTS

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)— Experts are trying to crack the mystery of weird carvings and paintings on walls of caves and rock shelters in South Illinois.

Figures represent mythological characters, the sun, the swastika and animal life. Irvin Peithman, curator of archaeology at Southern Illinois University, says there is no art works. The explanation may come from digging into prehistoric villages.

L. S. U. PRESS TO PUBLISH BOOKS

Four By Faculty Members Will Be Issued This Fall

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 13 (Special) Three books on Southern men, events and society and one on the Grand Army of the Republic will be published by the Louisiana State University Press this fall.

Other fall releases of the University Press will be four books by L.S.U. faculty members, continuing the studies series.

The three Southern works are "The Texas Revolution" by William C. Binkley, head of the Vanderbilt University history department; "Myths and Realities" by Carl Bridenbaugh, Margaret Byrne Professor of American history, University of California and "James Longstreet" by Donald Bridgman Sanger and Thomas Robson Hay.

"Veterans in Politics" by Mary Dearing traces the history of the G.A.R.

L.S.U. faculty whose writings will be published are Robert C. West, assistant professor of geography, John T. Krumpelmann and Carl Hammer Jr., professor and associate professor, respectively, of German and W. C. Richardson, professor of English history.

Binkley's history of the Texas war describes the problems which caused misunderstanding between Texans and Mexicans and the steps by which the Texans sought to protect their interests through peaceful means. The period from the opening of hostilities to the inauguration of the Republic of Texas is also pictured. The book will be published September 12.

Societies of the rural South in the eighteenth century are depicted by Bridenbaugh in "Myths and Realities," to appear October 7. He presents a new overall interpretation of the peirod and many readjustments and suggested revisions of long-cherished ideas about Southern colonies.

The biography of General Longstreet, who has been blamed for Lee's defeat at Gettysburg and criticized for his postwar conduct as a Louisiana radical and Republican politician, will be published in two parts November 21.

"The Soldier" by Sanger is the first critical account of Longstreet's career in the Confederate Army and considers his sevices in the Gettysburg campaign in a new light.

"The Politician" by Hay covers Longstreet's career after Appomattox and includes an account of the general's writings on his military career.

Mrs. Dearing's history of the G.A.R., to be published December 8, follows the career of the Union veterans' organization from its initial success as a force in politics, through years of charitable and social enterprises to its rebirth as a force to be reckoned with in local, state and national politics.

West's work, "Colonial Placer Mining in Colombia," describes the colonial mining economy of Colombia, emphasizing placering techniques, labor supply, mining settlements and supply of food and materials used in the mine.

"Mark Twain and the German Language" by Krumpelmann recounts Twain's almost life-long interest in the German language and cites evidence of the interest found in Twain's works.

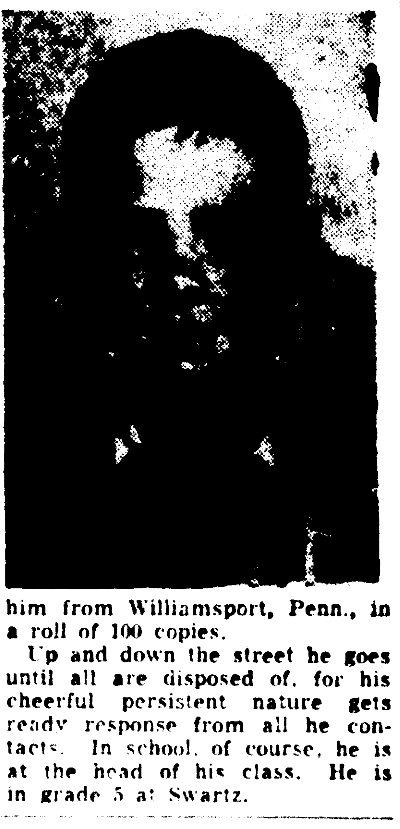
In "Longfellow's 'Golden Legend' and Goethe's 'Faust'" Hammer discusses the resemblances of the two dramatic poems.

Richardson, in his "Stephen Vaughan: Financial Agent of Henry VIII, has made the first full analysis of the complicated financial negotiations between Henry VIII and crafty continental bankers.

West's monograph will be released September 26. Others in the studies series are to appear November 12.

Friday Does Not Cause Ralph Any Worries

Friday is termed by many a day of bad luck but not so by plucky little Ralph Fryday, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fryday, of Swartz, who grosses $10 each week by selling copies of "Grit" that come to him from Williamsport, Penn., in a roll of 100 copies.



Up and down the street he goes until all are disposed of, for his cheerful persistent nature gets ready response from all he contacts. In school, of course, he is at the head of his class. He is in grade 5 at Swartz.

NEW SWARTZ BAPTIST CHURCH PASTOR

Rev. H. M. Roach, pastor, came to Swartz in July of last year and is receiving good cooperation of the membership.

Rev. C. C. Milstead, who was ordained by the church, will be guest speaker at 11 a. m. He is now pastor of Quitman Baptist Church.

VESUVIUS INACTIVE

NAPLES (AP)— Mt. Vesuvius, the picturesque volcano known to millions of travelers, is taking its longest rest since 1631.

While the 3,891-foot mountain which forms a backdrop for the beautiful Bay of Naples, continues to smolder, it has been inactive in the scientific sinse March, 1944, says Prof. Antonio Parascandola of Naples University.

The professor made a survey of the crater recently after published reports that astrologers were predicting an eruption. The professor said tests showed underground heat below the crater exceeds 570 degrees centigrade.

'If the temperature should rise another 100 degrees centigrade," he explained, 'it would be a sign that a resumption of activity could be expected."

The last damaging Vesuvius eruption, in 1944, destroyed the funicular railway to the top of the mountain and damaged many U. S. Airforce bombers stationed nearby.

George E. Sokolsky:

not object to Eisenhower; they are adamant that Thomas E. Dewey and Paul Hoffman should not be paid off for getting Eisenhower his nomination. They are prepared to admit that Eisenhower could have got it without Dewey or Hoffman, but television, more than any other instrument, has created a devil-symbolism concerning these two men.

Taft cannot allay this feeling. Even were he to go whistle-stop campaigning, he could not quiet the opposition to Dewey and Hoffman. In fact, he might even accelerate the emotionalism which this opposition is stimulating. Therefore he must ask General Eisenhower what his intentions are concerning these two men.

This goes deeper than emotionalism, however. The office of secretary of state has grown to be the second most powerful in the government. For several years the Republican Party has fought Dean Acheson and his policies. Active Republican partisans have accustomed their minds to this opposition. Should it be General Eisenhower's intention to make either Thomas E. Dewey or Paul Hoffman his secretary of state, the opposition would be so intense that an effort might be made to block confirmation by the Senate.

Taft has now come into the campaign in full support of General Eisenhower. Their agreement is now complete. Those who have tried to separate the two men have failed. Those who have accepted Senator Taft's leadership will now support General Eisenhower.

—but only as translated into Spanish.

To use the phrase "they lost something in translation" is an understatement. They lost most everything. After re-reading these plays, novels and biographies in their original form, I realized it was like learning to read all over again. And I still read and read every chance I get.

One of the most important discoveries I made concerns the American people. I've found nothing but kindness, understanding and patience everywhere I've been in the United States. People in America have an inspiring faith in their fellow men. They haven't been hardened by deceit or distrust. They are willing to accept a stranger until he proves himself unworthy of that acceptance.

And I've found that America is the only country I know in the world that knows how to smile—except, of course, my native Argentina.

People have a lack of fear here. They are genuinely happy. They have the freedom to express themselves as they wish. They trust their neighbors. Education is not confined to a chosen few—and by education I mean a well-rounded education through high school. And even more important—women have equal opportunities with men.

The American woman is given the full opportunity to compete mentally with men. She and her brother are given equal chance in school. There is no profession barred to her, either by law or by custom. She is alive, alert and mentally attractive.

So you see, Jimmie, even though historians won't record Lamas' discovery of America, you can understand why it will always be the most important experience in my life.

coming biography of Fanny Brice will tell this anecdote: When Billy Rose was gallivanting around with Eleanor Holm in 1939, Fanny stayed put in Hollywood, keeping her counsel. She said not a word until one day, irked at the gossip that Billy was leaving her, she asked a friend:

"What does Billy see in that Eleanor Holm? There isn't a thing I can't do better than her—except swim."

Look alikes: Nancy Olson and Clarissa Churchill, bride of Anthony Eden.

The name of Steve Cochran's newest flame—a lass on the Warner lot—would curl your hair.

Nita Naldi is the latest silent screen star to try for a comeback. She's also up for a role in the stage play, "In Any Language." That's the play with the odd parallel to a topical international romance.

Bell Sisters Toll on Film

The warbling Bell Sisters have been set for a Columbia filmusical, to roll in January.

Olivia de Havilland's explanation of her four-year absence from the screen:

"I'd rather be forgotten than remembered in a bad picture."

Hattie McDaniel, whose illness depleted her life's savings, is now at the Motion Picture Country Home, which is supported by members of the film industry. The ailing Oscar winner is still hoping to make a complete recovery and resume her "Beaulah" role.

Shelley Winters has just left the faithful press agent who publicized her long before her click in "A Double Life."

How that Richard Greene gets around! One night with Mona Freeman, the next with Lady Sylvia Ashley.

The word's out that Lena Horne is shedding the big agency that's represented her for years. Lena's vexed because the star role in MGM's "See How They Run" went to Dorothy Dandridge.

Linda Darnell is saying she's happy for Bob Levitt, ex-hubby of Ethel Merman, and his bride, Sherry Chadbourne. Linda and Levitt once discussed marriage, but decided that a movie queen who had to live in Hollywood and an executive tied to New York wouldn't be able to make a go of it.

Buddy Rogers' salary demand was too high, so Don Porter, not Buddy, will play Ann Sothern's publisher boss in her telefilm series for producer Jack Chertok.

Civil Defense To Aid Two-Way Radio Cost

FERRIDAY, La., Sept. 13—(Special) The Federal Civil Defense administration will pay half of the cost of two-way radio communications ordered by Ferriday, announces Civil Defense Director E. W. Vogt.

State Civil Defense Director W. D. Haas said that the purchase will remove Concordia parish from the areas in the state not capable of receiving air raid alerts "without adequate communications" Haas said, "Civil Defense is doomed in this area".

A. J. Gambordella, Central Louisiana field training officer, pointed out that some $261,000 in federal matching funds has been allocated to parishes and municipalties in Louisiana during the 1952-53 fiscal year for the purpose of Civil Defense equipment.

Deputy Civil Director Nolan A. Moulle, of Ferriday, who is also fire chief of Ferriday, has been credited with much of the work investigating the possibility for obtaining the equipment. Ferriday's leaders who approved the purchase were Mayor L. W. Davis, and Aldermen H. A. Bateman, Ferald F. DeLaunc, V. O. Hill, John S. Osborne and Guy R. Serio.

NOTEBOOK

NEW YORK (AP)—What do you do with your old New Year's resolutions?

For years I used to write mine down the first of each January—and manage conveniently to lose them by the end of February. The natural result was: Out of sight, out of mind.;

This spring, however, while cleaning out my dresser drawers, I found a wrinkled, yellowing sheet of paper. It was my New Year's resolutions for 1940, and the last paragraph read:

". . .And I promise to get my stripped weight down to 170 pounds and be more obedient to my wife."

Frances, reading over my shoulder, said comfortingly:

"Well, Rover, you and Joe Stalin certainly keep your promises, don't you?"

I weighed on a drug store scales that day and got back a card that said "206." Allowing about six pounds for clothes, I was an over-plump 200—30 pounds higher than my target of 12 years ago.

Well, I decided right then to do something about it. And—as the sports writers say—the rest is history. A stringent diet of things like poached eggs, ground beef and salads made of several varieties of wide-bladed grass has put me right back to where I wanted to be in 1940.

The same drugstore scales today told me I had hit the 170-pound level and added: "You have a judicial mind." I admire that little old weighing machine. Sometimes it is pounds foolish, but it is always penny-wise. It never says an unkind thing to anybody. One day I put a cent into it and it failed to work. I shook it angrily and slapped it in its glass face, and out tumbled a card that said:

"You always keep your emotions under control and get full value for every cent you spend."

How do you like that for a machine turning its other cheek. Why can't we all be as kind as weighing machines?

Many fatties wonder what life would be like if they shed their excess blubber. Here are a few result in my case:

1. People used to be able to follow me around the office by the trail of buttons that popped off my straining vest. Today I have to take long steps before my slackened coat begins to move.

2. My wife formerly upbraided me: "Every husband on this floor carries out the garbage to the incinerator but you." And I replied, "I'm too tired. Take it out yourself—it's yours. I don't leave anything on my plate." Now I don't mind carrying out the garbage at all. (There isn't much anyway, as Frances went on a diet, too.)

3. I used to huff and puff climbing the steps of a bus. But the other night I lasted half way through a waltz.

4. I used to waddle when I walked like a ship in a rising sea. Now I slither along like a lean tiger—if you don't count its two front feet.

5. Chairs feel harder. With your padding gone, you can't sit still so long. So you get up and get your work done quicker.

6. A piece of buttered bread, a blob of mashed potatoes, are as beautiful as a sunset. When I sneak a dish of ice cream now, I feel more devilish than I did in college when I kept a sorority girl out after midnight.

But the best thing about dieting is it helps baldness. When you lose weight you shrink all over, including your scalp. Thus your bald spot looks smaller. Nobody else may notice it, but you do.

My ambition now is to drop from 170 pounds to about 50 pounds. I figure at that weight my scalp will have shrunk so much I'll look like I'm wearing a coonskin cap. That's my real goal.

ANTI-REDS ESCAPE

VIENNA (AP)— Four Hungarian men, aged 21 to 30, recently escaped to Austria from a Communist prison camp by wading chin - deep through the sewers of Budapest.

The foursome laid plans to escape after they uncovered an opening on the camp grounds that led to the city's sewer system. For four hours, they struggled under the city pavements, menaced by rats and the danger of being swept into the main sewage stream and thence into the Danube River.

They battled always spstream and finally reached the hills of Buda. From there, they made their way by nightfall across Hungary to the Austrian frontier, where they slipped through a barbed wire fence to safety.

Our Children

We of the United States have so much of the good things of life that we are inclined to be greedy and try to take all of all of them until we are choking the life out of ourselves. The schools are in the same situation. They are trying to do so much, cover so much of modern life in their activities that the children, and their teachers, have no time left to talk to themselves and discover what they are like.

Football, basketball, the orchestra, dramatics, athletics, the rich curriculum, the touch with community life, all are fine and worth while. Each requires time and demands energy from children and teachers. Practice, function, home, devour the children and often their parents as well. We must check ourselves and remember, "Temperance in all things."

It is not possible for any child to engage in all the activities the school and community offer. There must be selection and discrimination. The program of each child must be set so as to allow him free time to become acquainted with himself, his family, and a world that is his own.

By that I mean there must be time in which a child is free to elect his own activity, or do nothing but enjoy doing nothing. He must have time to read. Reading is one of the most valuable activities mankind has ever discovered for the nourishment of his mind, his soul, his whole being. There is nothing that can take its place. Neither radio nor television, neither sports nor arts and crafts can ever take the place that reading a good book fills in the healthy growth of a child's mind and character. Under the present rush and drive of tthe modern school and community, little time is left for this essential way of the good life.

The children cannot do anything thoroughly when they undertake too heavy a program. It is unwise to allow a child, including the high school student, to fill his day completely, to extend his day into the night and so leave him no time for quiet mediation or study. It seems to me poor educational practice to allow the school activities to reach into the evening of a school day. Children who go to band practice, dramatic work or entertainment at P. T. A. during school week are not going to be in condition to do their best work in the classroom next day. They are not going to be in condition to be their best selves, either.

Growing children need rest, freedom from pressure for some hours a day, and from eight to ten hours sleep a night, depending upon age and temperament. We should understand and help the young people to understand that it is not possible, nor profitable, to try to do everything, have everything, enjoy everything life offers. One must select and discriminate or one loses out completely.

If obedience is taught while a child is still in babyhood, by the time he is three or four he will have learned the basic principles of obedience, and his life will be easier and happier. Dr. Patri explains in booklet No. 31. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

It's Your Deal

Liven Up Stud Poker Game

If your stud poker game is too tame, you can liven it up immensely with the four-flush as a hand that beats one pair but loses to two pairs. Whenever you have four cards of the same suit at the showdown, therefore, your hand beats a pair of aces but loses to any two pairs.

One of the chief advantages of this novelty is that more players tend to stay in until the end. This produces more action and more excitement.

Suppose, for example, that you are dealt the three of clubs down and the nine of clubs up. You would promptly fold that start in any normal game of stud poker, but it has its possibilities when the game rewards the four-flush.

If you get three cards of the same suit on the first three cards, you have very fine winning possibilities. You may now draw a pair or a fourth card of the same suit—to say nothing of the chance of drawing an even better hand.

Suppose you show three cards of the same suit up when the last card is dealt. The other players must worry about the chance that you have a fourth card of the same suit as your down card. If so, your four-flush will beat any pair at the table. Even if you don't have a four-flush, you may still have a pair. There are many possibilities.

Q—At auction pinochle, I buried a trump before beginning to play. I made no announcement of this fact, and the opponents claimed that this was the same as reneg. Is this true?

A—No. You are allowed to bury any card that is not part of your meld, and you need not announce anything about your three buried cards.

Q—In a game of seven-card rummy, my husband discarded before he drew. Then he discovered that the card he drew gave him rummy. To make it more complicated, the card he discarded gave me rummy. Who wins the hand, and what is the rule?

A—The wife wins the hand. When the husband discards before drawing, he gives up all right to meld at that turn. He is entitled to draw, but then his play is complete. The wife is now entitled to draw the previous discard—which allows her to go rummy.

OLD ART OBJECTS

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)— Experts are trying to crack the mystery of weird carvings and paintings on walls of caves and rock shelters in South Illinois.

Figures represent mythological characters, the sun, the swastika and animal life. Irvin Peithman, curator of archaeology at Southern Illinois University, says there is no art works. The explanation may come from digging into prehistoric villages.

Letter About Policemen

In Shreveport, after an 11-year-old boy had said, "Me and cops never liked each other," Chief of Police E. G. Huckabay wrote a letter to the boy. The letter is so good and understanding and expresses so well the relationship that policeman bear to citizens that we think it would be well worth the while for every boy and girl and man and woman to read it.

The boy, Ray O. Neyland, Jr., lost in Bodcau swamp Sunday afternoon, missed being rescued several times because he would hide each time he saw a policeman searching for him.

Chief Huckabay was disturbed by the boy's aversion to policemen and sent the boy a junior policeman card, junior policeman badge and the following friendly letter:

"Dear Ray,

"I am one of those "cops" you mistakenly regard as your enemies. I think the sooner you and I straighten out a few things, the happier we'll both be.

"I don't know where you got your ideas about policemen, Ray, but I suspect you have never really known one. Perhaps some misguided older person instilled in you a feeling of bitterness you don't quite understand yourself. It is not natural for an 11-year-old boy to hate anyone.

"Policemen are not interested in putting boys your age into jail, Ray. Their interest lies in keeping your home, your neighborhood, your town and your state so orderly and pleasant that there will be no need for jails to exist.

"Unfortunately, there probably will always be those who think only of themselves. There will always be some among us who take what they want and do as they please without regard for the effect of their actions on others. It is for such persons that jails are built.

"Policemen, Ray, are eternal optimists who keep on hoping that perhaps some day all men may learn to get along together happily. They regret having to put anyone in a jail cell, but often there is no other way to make the streets safe for you and your young pals.

"Every good policeman has a special place in his heart for small boys. He realizes that life can be difficult, sometimes, for boys thrust into a world designed for adults. He has not forgotten that he was once a small boy himself. He probably has sons of his own to remind him of that fact.

"He knows how a boy feels when he sees his beloved dog struck down by the wheels of some speeder's automobile. He understands the fright that enters a boy's heart when he cannot find the way back home. He gets mad clear through and a little sick at the stomach, too, when he lifts up a child knocked to the pavement by some driver who thought only of saving a few minutes' time.

"The next time you see a policeman, Ray, take a good look at him. You will probably notice that he has a twinkle in his eyes and a smile that says he is eager to be your friend.

"If you get to know him, you may learn that he can tell you the haunts where the biggest bass lie waiting for your fish hook. He may be able to give you a few pointers when it comes to fixing that broken wheel on your bicycle. He might be just the fellow to show you how to pitch a mean curve on the baseball diamond, and he probably knows a few things about taking the purple out of that eye that got in the way of a playmate's fist.

"He may even admit that he once had as much trouble with arithmetic as you are having now.

"I am just one of the thousands of policemen trying to make the world the kind of place where small boys can sleep safely and soundly in their beds after a long day of school and play. I can do a better job if I know you and your young friends are with me all the way.

"Ray, so long as there are boys in the world, there will be men in blue to help them across the streets, to show them the way to where they're going and to arrest those who make dangerous the towns which should be happy places where boys can grow to useful manhood.

"How about it, Ray? Now that we understand each other, can't you regard me and all other policemen as friends?"

Navy's Neatest Trick

Two aircraft carriers which exchanged crews at Bayonne, N. J., reminded some persons of the old puzzle of the cannibals and the missionaries. All had to cross a river in a boat. There had to be more missionaries than cannibals in the boat on each trip, or the missionaries would get eaten.

The Navy's project was how to save money, not lives, in the exchange of sister ships between the Atlantic and the Pacific. And everything worked out beautifully to leave the taxpayers an uneaten $1,500,000.

That sum is what it would have cost to send the families and belongings of the two crews in opposite directions from coast to coast. The Antietam, late of the Pacific, had come for duty in the Atlantic for which she was specially fitted. The Shangri-La was ticketed for the Pacific and decommissioning, her crew for Pacific reassignment. Wasn't there a sensible, easy and inexpensive way to move the ships without moving families?

There was. The two 1-year-old, Essex-type ships were tied up next to each other at Bayonne. Like files of burdened ants, men with seabags walked from their quarters in one ship to corresponding quarters in the other. Officers and petty officers exchanged records and wisecracks with their opposite numbers.

The two skippers swapped commands in two separate ceremonies, while crews at attention smiled approval. Then, quite suddenly, all the commotion ended. The job was done. together that night in New York. It isn't difficult to imagine

The liberty sections of those crews must have rejoiced the happy long-distance calls to families in San Diego, San Francisco and Bremerton. It's also a pleasure to think of that $1,500,000 which the Navy could have spent but didn't.

Would Try It Again

Although England's recent labor government brought the country to a new economic low, and finally was repudiated by the voters, union leaders urge further nationalisation of industry, and a return of the former regime. Their battle cry is that the Conservatives must never again be given control of the government.

The point at issue is the steel industry, which was taken over by the government during the labor regime. The Churchill government plans to return the steel mills to their former owners as a move toward improving industries which are lagging in output.

Union leaders view return of the steel mills to private ownership as a blow to hard won rights of the workers. It is not clear what rights they refer to. Judging by results under socialist operation of the mills, it may be the right to loaf.

Government ownership as tried in England has proved to be a curse, as is always the case. When the government [illegible] outside the function of administration, there is always the fiddler to pay.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

THE ROLE OF SENATOR TAFT

Oftimes when a candidate for the nomination for the Presidency is defeated at his party's convention, he subsides politically. Sometimes, as in the instance of William Jennings Bryan, he remains a life long candidate. Sometimes, as in the instance of Thomas E. Dewey, he tries again and gets the nomination.

Senator Taft's situation is different because he remains the leader of his party in Congress. It would take two elections to unseat him from this leadership because of senatorial seniority It would take the election to the Senate of an intellect superior to Taft's to achieve his present moral position. There is no one like that running for congressional office in the Republican Party in this election.

Another factor in this situation was wholly unexpected by Taft or anyone else at the time of the convention. A die-hard Taft element has appeared in the Republican Party. That did not happen in 1948 when Dewey defeated Taft. Taft, himself, on holiday at Murray Bay, Quebec, was not at all conscious of the dimensions or character of this element.

A part of the Eisenhower management has sought to win Senator Taft to the idea of active campaigning. It was suggested to him that he come to the Commodore Hotel in New York during American Legion convention week to meet General Eisenhower. Obviously this was a set-up for a photographers' picnic, with a press conference in public and no discussion of issues, principles or the conduct of the nation in private.

Accompanying this proposal, a press blitz was arranged to give the impression that the senator was coming to Ike at the senator's suggestion, with various stories that lacked even interesting imagination. I was told by an unusually responsible man one night during that week that Taft was actually in New York for this conference with Eisenhower. I knew that at the moment he was at Murray Bay.

Senator Taft will make two or three speeches, as he is committed to campaign for some of his colleagues in the Senate who are running this year. As a Republican who believes in party loyalty, and recognizing that the Republican Party has showered honors upon his father, himself and other members of his family, he will support the party's candidate.

If that is not sufficient, then the Eisenhower management needs to deal with Senator Taft on the high level of ideas and purposes and their implementation. In other words, he has a program which he is willing to advocate. Actually he has presented his program in writing. His preliminary discussions with Governor Carlson and National Committee Chairman Summerfield made it clear that it is the program that he wants to discuss with General Eisenhower. He does not want a pat on the back; a brotherly smile; pictures taken shaking hands, with a joint press interview.

The growth of Taft's personal following involves him in the responsibility of recognizing their claims to his leadership. They do

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Associated Press News Aanlyst
Associated Press News Analyst

Europeans are beginning to say about the United States what Americans say so habitually about Britain, that the result of elections makes little difference in foreign policy.

Amid the distortions and overemphasis of superficial angles common to political campaigning, there is one thing that still seems to stand out as an historical truth.

A nation's foreign policy is only in small part a product of the men who handle it, but rather is the result of the pressures under which that nation lives.

Ignorance of what these pressures actually are, especially on the part of the general public in a democracy, sometimes produces delayed or temporarily incorrect reactions. In totalitarian states the lodgment of power in the hands of a single individual, or a few, sometimes results in subversion of the national interest to the ambitions of the rulers. But in the democracies the public eventually catches up, and if dictators go wrong for long, as Mussolini and Hitler, they are eliminated.

Politicians are trained to outbid one another. When their appeals run, generally, along similar lines, when their programs are not fundamentally different, it is a strong indication that the major matters are hardly debatable, and that they sense a common basis of thinking among the people.

That does not, of course, prevent them from inventing certain fringe appeals, in an effort to make it appear their party will do better things, or do things better.

Nor does it prevent them from dreaming out loud about things that everyone knows should be done, but nobody knows how to do.

The main factors about foreign policy are how good is your intelligence service; how well do you evaluate the facts of life; how realistic is your weighing of your own powers, your own intentions, against the power and intent of other nations; and how well do you implement the program thus produced.

Whether you call it containment, establishment of a balance of power or what not, America's national interest demands a facing up to Communist aggressiveness with whatever means can be grasped on any sector of the front, and that's the way it's going to be.

The Broadway Lights

Now comes again the ancient cry:
"The Theater's just about to die."
They mouthed it in the days of Booth
And when La Siddons played a youth.
From thespis down to Russell Crouse,
Someone's always had a grouse;
But the invalid snorts, "Go fly a kite—
"Try to get two for 'Wish' tonight!"

—Tom Weatherly

Stage Entrance: "Seagulls Over Sorrento" (which involves the British Empahr's seamen in alleged comedy manuevers) launched the American Theatre Year in traditional style with a sinking ship. Most of the aisle-admirals offered Stout Fellas (for the cast), but found the show more turkey than seagull. Brooks Atkinson of the S. S. Times reported: "A routine, loquacious comedy." Robert Coleman's minority report: "Packed with heart and hilarity". . .Variety's play-by-play reporter (at Skowhegan, Me.) gave his blessings to "Be Your Age." His citation: "A Broadway winner" . . .There was a cloudy reaction for "The Sun Looks Down" at Holyoke, Mass. The eulogy: "A play which starts from nowhere and never gets much further". . .Not one show (on its way to Broadway) has the ticket brokers "licking their chops." When a hit is en route— they hear about it months ahead. . . . "Dances of Bali" tickets are in demand. This is the ballet due at the Fulton on the 16th. . .The Theatre Guild's "Tin Wedding" opened at Westport (Conn.), where critics noted that it catered to people who enjoy realism. One summed up: "It is actually begging for tinsel". . .Add odd-named plays, now trying out: "The Hairless Wave of Lodi Bogg."

In the Wings: Some showfolk were chopping up showman Billy Rose—about his surrender just as his wife's case began. . . "Oh," oh'd a rival producer, "it's not the first time one of Billy's shows closed suddenly". . .Broadway Definition of a plot: The thing they bury the backers in.

The Cinemagic: A realistic film christened "My Man and I" offers an unusual love story: An immigrant's devotion to Uncle Samsational. Its stars are Ricardo Montalban, Shelley Winters, and the 48. . ."Last Train to Bombay" is a short cut to Dulltown . . ."The Amazing Monsieur Fabre" is a touching testimonial to an eminent Gallic educator, presented in Phi Beta Kappa style. . ."Sally and St. Anne" has lovely Anne Blyth brightening a light-as-cork spoof, albeit the whimsical tale isn't always whamsical. . . "Beware, My Lovely" is a boo-meets-girl exciter with Ida Lupino as the wide-orb'd damsel in distress. . ."The Hawk of Wild River" stars a sheriff who solves every crime except one —the film's mediocrity.

The Telebrities: The Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca carnival retains its daffy-dilly drive. Their German double-talk sketch was hilarious hassenpheffer. . ."Mama" has a pleasant and honest home-spun quality. You almost expect a member of The Goldbergs to drop in for a cuppa sugar. . .Gad, some forumites are still snarling about FDR's policies. A long memory is no substitute for brains. . .Television Playhouse offered a rarity: An anti-Red drama that was proentertainment. Maria Riva emoted skillfully. . .Millie Considine predicts that "What's New?" (debuts the 18th) will click. A teevy show offering the latest on news, fashions, etc. . . . .Records I enjoyed: Tutti Camarata's "Veradero". . .Nat Brooks' "Number Mambo". . .Patti Page's "You Belong to Me". . .Pearl Bailey's "Two to Tango," her first hit platter—and her first to land on top of Variety's list. . .Blackie Jordan's warbling (on Garroway's noontimer) comforts these ears almost as much as the shrieks of "Foul"! from a disc jockass over WMCA. (We Make Chiselers Admirable.)

Stairway to the Stars: Gertrude Lawrence's estate gets a percentage of 'The King and I" for the life of that hit. . .CBS Radio will star Bing and Doris Day (back-to-back) Thursday evenings next month. Surefire. . .Capitol Records will get richer with Marilyn Monroe's vocallure. . .New trend among the kids of the ballet: They refuse to chuck their American names for Rooshian handles, to help fool the pipple. . .Tallulah is the latest to misquote the much repartee between us (when reported we first met) in her upcoming tome. It alleges that I said: "I've heard a lot about you" . . . It was Talu who said: 'I'll bet you've heard plenty about me" . . ."Plenty," I giggled. . . To which she niftied: "Well, it's awilll trooool"

The Press-Box: If the following appeared in the N. Y. Times, it eluded us. James Reston (the Times ace in Washington) got it printed in The Minneapolis Tribune on Sept. 5, 1952, confirming what we reported: That "former Communist" Wechsler of The N. Y. Compost (look itup and have a giggle) 'contributed quite a bit to the Stevenson speech. . .in New York." This editor, whose staff numbers many 'former Communists" (and some not so former), assigned Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., of his staff to help HSTevensen prepare speeches until the campaign ends. . .Therefore, we did not inject the candidate's name into our fumigation of this 'ex-Commy" editor as any grudge as sour-gripers claim. We reported it as a bunka news based on truth and fact. . .The N. Y. Compost (which claims being anti-Commy all along) ran its first anti-Red editorial (on Red teachers here) Wednesday afternoon. Prob'ly efter reading WW's barrage the night before. Their previous slaps at Russia (token demonstrations) included tweaking Joe's mustache for claiming a Russian invented baseball, etc.

Love-Letter of the Week: 'Dear WW: Your column Wednesday morning debunking that 'ex-reditor' was a smashing piece of journalism. I had read with disgust in that pinko-stinko sheet the feeble but malicious attempt at an expose on you. I wondered what was behind it. Your column Wednesday lays open the whole thing, the motivation, the real reason for the attempted smear. Yours is in the best tradition of old-time, expert journalism all the facts marshalled with telling force, not one fact missing. It should be in all future journalism text books. Congratulations. IN HOLLYWOOD

BY FERNANDO LAMAS

HOLLYWOOD, September 13. — Everyone appreciates the fact, Jimmie, that America was originally discovered by Christopher Columbus several hundred years ago.

But only one born in another country can appreciate one's discovery of America in the 20th Century. Since I am foreign born and just made such a discovery, I'm going to tell you about it.

You see, when I first came to the United States two years ago, I spoke very few words of English. I also knew very few people. And I wasn't sure if this country would accept me — professionally or otherwise.

This made me feel extremely low — even though I was under contract at that time to MGM. One night I was invited to a dinner party with some friends. On the way I became hopelessly lost. After an hour and a half of frantic wandering I pulled into a gasoline station to get some directions.

That's when I made by first discovery about the Americans.

I told the attendant that I was sorry to bother him, but that I was lost and I was a foreigner. I could get no further. The man asked me —and he was very man—what I meant by saying I was a foreigner? In America there are no foreigners, he said; everyone is in it together.

He then said his mother was Polish and his father was English. Then he pointed to another man. He told me that the man's mother was French and his father Italian. Then he said "That doesn't make us foreigners!"

Ever since then I have remained "sold" on this country. For in addition to it being great for Americans, I feel it is a most wonderful spot in the world for a man or woman born on foreign shores.

After that gasoline station attendant's speech, I decided to really find out about the United Sates—through its language and its people.

My English at that time was faltering. It was a wonder that people understood me at all. Then I found tutors and took many diction lessons. Still, inside of me I was worried. I kept asking myself what would happen if I did not learn English well enough? Would I go home a failure?

Then I was given my first film role — and made it without tripping over my tongue. And I felt a greater elation than I can describe when the American public accepted this film and my second one.

Since then I feel I have been the luckiest man in the country — any country for that matter. I have made five pictures in the short time I have been here. After "The Merry Widow" I made "The Girl Who Had Everything" with Elizabeth Taylor — and I am now swimming with Esther Williams in "Dangerous When Wet."

I like working with Esther, since she is a special favorite in South American countries. Sometimes her swimming scenes are so popular the audiences won't stop applauding until they are screened again. And I used to be among those audiences.

One of my discoveries in America came about after I learned to read the English written word. It was a literary discovery and an experience only one born in another country can appreciate. You see, I had read Shakespear's plays and "Gone With The Wind," "Ivanhoe," Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography — in fact most of the great English and American books

Although the senate is traditionally known as the chamber of elder statesmen in the American government, so many of its elderly members have been retiring in recent years that the mantle of Dean of the Senate may soon rest on the shoulders of Sen. Richard B. Russell (Dem. - Ga.) who will be only 55 years of age on this election day.

When the 83rd Congress meets in January only two of its members will outrank Russell in point of continuous service.

One of them is his own colleague Sen. Walter F. George (Dem.-Ga.) who upon the retirement of Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar (Dem.-Tenn.) will become dean of the senate.

McKellar, elected in 1916, was defeated in his bid for re-election, so he will leave the political scene on the threshold of his 84th birthday.

The only other senator outranking Russell is Sen. Carl Hayden (Dem.-Ariz.) who has served continuously since 1926. Both George and Jayden will be 75 on their approaching birthdays. Their terms still have four years to run and it would not be surprising if they seek to retire at the end of that time.

Russell entered the senate in a special election January 12, 1933, after having served as the youngest governor in Georgia's history. He has a two - month edge in seniority over Sens. Harry F. Byrd (Dem. - Va.) and Pat McCarran (Dem. - Nev.) who both entered March 4, 1933, the day Franklin D. Roosevelt (whom neither of them other than infrequently supported) took the oath of office.

Russell's long term of service catches some folks by surprise because he is still the 'junior senator from Georgia," his light somewhat eclipsed by his eminent colleague, Senator George.

This is undoubtedly the longest time a senator has ever had to serve as 'junior senator" from his state (the ranking depends on seniority and the term is used in senate debate in order to avoid referring to senators by their proper names, a senate rule designed to keep debate from getting to a personal level).

Russell hasn't minded the long apprenticeship, however, and now that he is at last chairman of a ranking senate committee (armed services) he has come into his own as a powerful figure in that body.

The oldest senator in point of age will still be Sen. Theodore Francis Green (Dem. - Rhode Island), 84, but Green has only been a member of the senate since 1936.

In actual point of continuous congressional service, the senate's 'dean" will be Sen. Lister Hill (Dem. - Ala.), who although only 57, has served in congress for 30 years. However, 15 of those years were in the house. He came to the senate in January, 1938, and will be 9th in seniority next congress.

In the house of representatives, 86 year old Rep. Adolph J. Sabath (Dem. - Ill.), who has served continuously since 1906, will be Dean in point of age as well as of service. With the retirement of 89-year-old Rep. Robert L. Doughton (Dem N. C.), Sabath will now be the oldest man in congress as well as the one who has served there longest.

Immediately behind him will be Speaker Sam Rayburn (Dem.-Tex.) who entered congress March 4, 1913, the day Woodrow Wilson took his oath of office. It is without precedent for a man to both Dean and Speaker, but if the Democrats continue to control congress Rayburn, at 70, is a good bet to achieve that record.

Incidentally, Rayburn has already set a record for length of srvice as speaker, having served nearly a decade in that post.

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)—Behind the Screen: It's make the grade as a dramatic actress or bust in the case of Gale Robbins.

Gale wants to rest her singing voice long enough to try the Duse racket, and it looks like she's going to get her chance.

The offers to make like Greer and Jennifer have been coming in, she told me, since the release of Columbia's "The Brigand," in which she plays her first straight role.

"I really haven't done anything important in Hollywood until now," she declared. "Just chucking Red Skelton under the chin and making eyes at Fred Astaire."

What about that see-right-through-the-skin dress she wears in "The Brigand"?

"I admit it was transparent," Gale said. "The censors came around every day while I was wearing it. They could see my whole body through the material, but they couldn't do a thing about it. How about that?"

If 20th Century-Fox gives him the green light, Gary Merrill will do a Broadway play, "The Fragile Fox." The play, once owned by the late John Garfield, is a war story about a lieutenant who shoots his captain.

Benny Can't Afford It

Jack Benny has finally decided to retire from the screen—a good seven years after release of his last feature film. Jack's reason: "I simply cannot afford to make a bad picture."

"The Horn Blows at Midnight" was released in 1945 and Jack hasn't starred in a movie since. He told me:

"Now, with television, I doubt that I ever will. Making movies is a full-time job. You can't do it and radio and TV at one time and be successful in all three. And failure in one field hazards your chances in the others."

Jack plays a bit, as himself, in Betty Hutton's new film, "Somebody Loves Me," but he did it only as a favor to his long-time pal, Producer Bill Perlberg.

IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— President Truman's latest attack—the one he directed at the Saturday Evening Post—has now been fired back at him in a nice, polite and unintentional way.

The President took his swing at the Post because it had printed an article charging that the farmers had been given false information on grain storage in the 1948 campaign.

In his press conference, the President commented that he didn't read the Post very often because it was wrong on most things. Later he added insult to injury by saying it was always wrong.

It just happened that in the same week, the Post had an article by its Washington editor, Beverly Smith, on "The Curious Case of the President's Bathtub."

Smith got interested some months ago on when the first bathtub was installed in the White House. He had a terrible time running down the answer. In the course of his research, he came across a remark President Truman had made on that subject four years ago.

It was in a press conference during which the President was defending his plan to build a balcony on the White House south portico. The same objections arose, the President said, when the first bathtub made its appearance. Why, they wanted to lynch Mrs. Fillmore, wife of the President, who sponsored that first bathtub.

That would have put the first bathtub in the White House around 1850. Smith ran that clue down and found it stemmed from a great fake H. L. Mencken had put over on a dull day in World War I to spoof the public. Not a word of truth in it.

Smith never coul find any reference to anyone wanting to lynch Mrs. Fillmore. Instead, he found a voucher dated Jan. 1, 1814, for a $30 expense in installing one large tin tub painted green in the White House.

That would have been in James Madison's second term. And the first regular bath was installed by Old Hickory Andrew Jackson between 1829 and 1833.

Who's wrong now?

Ex-Gov. M. Q. Sharpe of South Dakota has been circulating around his state a story on his delegation's interview with General Eisenhower at Chicago after the convention.

South Dakota had gone for Taft in the primary and its delegation to Chicago wanted to find out how the general stood on some of the things they were most interested in. The conversation finally got around to rural electrification. How did the general stand on that?

"Well," Ike is quoted as saying, "I think the farmers should have lights."

Though both General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson favor a change in Senate rules to limit filibusters, the prospects for getting anything done about it don't look too good in case the Democrats win the presidential election and control of the Senate.

The reason being given is that if the Democrats win, Vice-President John Sparkman of Alabama would be presiding officer of the Senate, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia would probably be majority floor leader, and Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia would probably be president pro-tempore of the Senate.

Senator George will be senior member, with 30 years of continuous service. He will succeed Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who had 35 years service, but was defeated in the recent Democratic primary.

The combination of George, Russell and Sparkman could effectively hamstring any change in Senate rules if they were of a mind to do so.

That worm's-eye-view photograph of Governor Stevenson, showing a hole worn in the sole of one shoe, probably won him a lot of votes from many common people similarly afflicted. With Governor Stevenson, however, this is not an act.

He is naturally very much old hat, old clothes and old shoes. There is nothing of the haberdashery salesman about his sartorial appearance.

There is a story around Springfield, Ill., that all the time he was governor, Stevenson never bought a new suit. His wardrobe finally got so disreputable that his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives, told him he would have to get some new clothes.

Under pressure, Stevenson went to the store but couldn't find anything he liked. He came home without having bought even a new necktie. Desperate, Mrs. Ives went back to the store herself and bought a suit for him.

"Dear Ray,

"I am one of those "cops" you mistakenly regard as your enemies. I think the sooner you and I straighten out a few things, the happier we'll both be.

"I don't know where you got your ideas about policemen, Ray, but I suspect you have never really known one. Perhaps some misguided older person instilled in you a feeling of bitterness you don't quite understand yourself. It is not natural for an 11-year-old boy to hate anyone.

"Policemen are not interested in putting boys your age into jail, Ray. Their interest lies in keeping your home, your neighborhood, your town and your state so orderly and pleasant that there will be no need for jails to exist.

"Unfortunately, there probably will always be those who think only of themselves. There will always be some among us who take what they want and do as they please without regard for the effect of their actions on others. It is for such persons that jails are built.

"Policemen, Ray, are eternal optimists who keep on hoping that perhaps some day all men may learn to get along together happily. They regret having to put anyone in a jail cell, but often there is no other way to make the streets safe for you and your young pals.

"Every good policeman has a special place in his heart for small boys. He realizes that life can be difficult, sometimes, for boys thrust into a world designed for adults. He has not forgotten that he was once a small boy himself. He probably has sons of his own to remind him of that fact.

"He knows how a boy feels when he sees his beloved dog struck down by the wheels of some speeder's automobile. He understands the fright that enters a boy's heart when he cannot find the way back home. He gets mad clear through and a little sick at the stomach, too, when he lifts up a child knocked to the pavement by some driver who thought only of saving a few minutes' time.

"The next time you see a policeman, Ray, take a good look at him. You will probably notice that he has a twinkle in his eyes and a smile that says he is eager to be your friend.

"If you get to know him, you may learn that he can tell you the haunts where the biggest bass lie waiting for your fish hook. He may be able to give you a few pointers when it comes to fixing that broken wheel on your bicycle. He might be just the fellow to show you how to pitch a mean curve on the baseball diamond, and he probably knows a few things about taking the purple out of that eye that got in the way of a playmate's fist.

"He may even admit that he once had as much trouble with arithmetic as you are having now.

"I am just one of the thousands of policemen trying to make the world the kind of place where small boys can sleep safely and soundly in their beds after a long day of school and play. I can do a better job if I know you and your young friends are with me all the way.

"Ray, so long as there are boys in the world, there will be men in blue to help them across the streets, to show them the way to where they're going and to arrest those who make dangerous the towns which should be happy places where boys can grow to useful manhood.

"How about it, Ray? Now that we understand each other, can't you regard me and all other policemen as friends?"

Navy's Neatest Trick

Two aircraft carriers which exchanged crews at Bayonne, N. J., reminded some persons of the old puzzle of the cannibals and the missionaries. All had to cross a river in a boat. There had to be more missionaries than cannibals in the boat on each trip. or the missionaries would get eaten.

The Navy's project was how to save money, not lives, in the exchange of sister ships between the Atlantic and the Pacific. And everything worked out beautifully to leave the taxpayers an uneaten $1,500,000.

That sum is what it would have cost to send the families and belongings of the two crews in opposite directions from coast to coast. The Antietam, late of the Pacific, had come for duty in the Atlantic for which she was specially fitted. The Shangri-La was ticketed for the Pacific and decommissioning, her crew for Pacific reassignment. Wasn't there a sensible, easy and inexpensive way to move the ships without moving families?

There was. The two 1-year-old, Essex-type ships were tied up next to each other at Bayonne. Like files of burdened ants, men with seabags walked from their quarters in one ship to corresponding quarters in the other. Officers and petty officers exchanged records and wisecracks with their opposite numbers.

The two skippers swapped commands in two separate ceremonies, while crews at attention smiled approval. Then, quite suddenly, all the commotion ended. The job was done. together that night in New York. It isn't difficult to imagine

The liberty sections of those crews must have rejoiced the happy long-distance calls to families in San Diego, San Francisco and Bremerton. It's also a pleasure to think of that $1,500,000 which the Navy could have spent but didn't.

Would Try It Again

Although England's recent labor government brought the country to a new economic low, and finally was repudiated by the voters, union leaders urge further nationalization of industry, and a return of the former regime. Their battle cry is that the Conservatives must never again be given control of the government.

The point at issue is the steel industry, which was taken over by the government during the labor regime. The Churchill government plans to return the steel mills to their former owners as a move toward improving industries which are lagging in output.

Union leaders view return of the steel mills to private ownership as a blow to hard won rights of the workers. It is not clear what rights they refer to. Judging by results under socialist operation of the mills, it may be the right to loaf.

Government ownership as tried in England has proved to be a curse, as is always the case. When the government strays outside the function of administration, there is always the fiddler to pay.

Government in business is an unnatural arrangement that can thrive only on slave labor, as in Russia. Despite this fact, the Russian system is what British union leaders seem to want.

Hot weather has departed, which leaves only the political campaign to promote a felling of ennui.

One automobile manufacturer is reported to be toying with a revolutionary new design for an automobile. Instead of an altered grill, it would have none at all.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

THE ROLE OF SENATOR TAFT

Oftimes when a candidate for the nomination for the Presidency is defeated at his party's convention, he subsides politically. Sometimes, as in the instance of William Jennings Bryan, he remains a life long candidate. Sometimes, as in the instance of Thomas E. Dewey, he tries again and gets the nomination.

Senator Taft's situation is different because he remains the leader of his party in Congress. It would take two elections to unseat him from this leadership because of senatorial seniority It would take the election to the Senate of an intellect superior to Taft's to achieve his present moral position. There is no one like that running for congressional office in the Republican Party in this election.

Another factor in this situation was wholly unexpected by Taft or anyone else at the time of the convention. A die-hard Taft element has appeared in the Republican Party. That did not happen in 1948 when Dewey defeated Taft. Taft, himself, on holiday at Murray Bay, Quebec, was not at all conscious of the dimensions or character of this element.

A part of the Eisenhower management has sought to win Senator Taft to the idea of active campaigning. It was suggested to him that he come to the Commodore Hotel in New York during American Legion convention week to meet General Eisenhower. Obviously this was a set-up for a photographers' picnic, with a press conference in public and no discussion of issues, principles or the conduct of the nation in private.

Accompanying this proposal, a press blitz was arranged to give the impression that the senator was coming to Ike at the senator's suggestion, with various stories that lacked even interesting imagination. I was told by an unusually responsible man one night during that week that Taft was actually in New York for this conference with Eisenhower. I knew that at the moment he was at Murray Bay.

Senator Taft will make two or three speeches, as he is committed to campaign for some of his colleagues in the Senate who are running this year. As a Republican who believes in party loyalty, and recognizing that the Republican Party has showered honors upon his father, himself and other members of his family, he will support the party's candidate.

If that is not sufficient, then the Eisenhower management needs to deal with Senator Taft on the high level of ideas and purposes and their implementation. In other words, he has a program which he is willing to advocate. Actually he has presented his program in writing. His preliminary discussions with Governor Carlson and National Committee Chairman Summerfield made it clear that it is the program that he wants to discuss with General Eisenhower. He does not want a pat on the back; a brotherly smile; pictures taken shaking hands, with a joint press interview.

The growth of Taft's personal following involves him in the responsibility of recognizing their claims to his leadership. They do

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Associated Press News Aanlyst
Associated Press News Analyst

Europeans are beginning to say about the United States what Americans say so habitually about Britain, that the result of elections makes little difference in foreign policy.

Amid the distortions and overemphasis of superficial angles common to political campaigning, there is one thing that still seems to stand out as an historical truth.

A nation's foreign policy is only in small part a product of the men who handle it but rather is the result of the pressures under which that nation lives.

Ignorance of what these pressures actually are, especially on the part of the general public in a democracy, sometimes produces delayed or temporarily incorrect reactions. In totalitarian states the lodgment of power in the hands of a single individual, or a few, sometimes results in subversion of the national interest to the ambitions of the rulers. But in the democracies the public eventually catches up, and if dictators go wrong for long, as Mussolini and Hitler, they are eliminated.

Politicians are trained to outbid one another. When their appeals run, generally, along similar lines, when their programs are not fundamentally different, it is a strong indication that the major matters are hardly debatable, and that they sense a common basis of thinking among the people.

That does not, of course, prevent them from inventing certain fringe appeals, in an effort to make it appear their party will do better things, or do things better.

Nor does it prevent them from dreaming out loud about things that everyone knows should be done, but nobody knows how to do.

The main factors about foreign policy are how good is your intelligence service; how well do you evaluate the facts of life; how realistic is your weighing of your own powers, your own intentions, against the power and intent of other nations; and how well do you implement the program thus produced.

Whether you call it containment, establishment of a balance of power or what not, America's national interest demands a facing up to Communist aggressiveness with whatever means can be grasped on any sector of the front, and that's the way it's going to be.

The Broadway Lights

Now comes again the ancient cry:
"The Theater's just about to die."
They mouthed it in the days of Booth
And when La Siddons played a youth.
From thespis down to Russell Crouse,
Someone's always had a grouse;
But the invalid snorts, "Go fly a kite—
—Tom Weatherly

Stage Entrance: "Seagulls Over Sorrento" (which involves the British Empahr's seamen in alleged comedy manuevers) launched the American Theatre Year in traditional style with a sinking ship. Most of the aisle-admirals offered Stout Fellas (for the cast), but found the show more turkey than seagull. Brooks Atkinson of the S. S. Times reported: "A routine, loquacious comedy." Robert Coleman's minority report: "Packed with heart and hilarity". . .Variety's play-by-play reporter (at Skowhegan, Me.) gave his blessings to "Be Your Age." His citation: "A Broadway winner" . . .There was a cloudy reaction for "The Sun Looks Down" at Holyoke, Mass. The eulogy: "A play which starts from nowhere and never gets much further". . .Not one show (on its way to Broadway) has the ticket brokers "licking their chops." When a hit is en route— they hear about it months ahead. . . . "Dances of Bali" tickets are in demand. This is the ballet due at the Fulton on the 16th. . .The Theatre Guild's "Tin Wedding" opened at Westport (Conn.), where critics noted that it catered to people who enjoy realism. One summed up: "It is actually begging for tinsel". . .Add odd-named plays, now trying out: "The Hairless Wave of Lodi Bogg."

In the Wings: Some showfolk were chopping up showman Billy Rose—about his surrender just as his wife's case began. . ."Oh," oh'd a rival producer, "it's not the first time one of Billy's shows closed suddenly". . .Broadway Definition of a plot: The thing they bury the backers in.

The Cinemagic: A realistic film christened "My Man and I" offers an unusual love story: An immigrant's devotion to Uncie Samsational. Its stars are Ricardo Montalban, Shelley Winters, and the 48. . ."Last Train to Bombay" is a short cut to Dulltown . . ."The Amazing Monsieur Fabre" is a touching testimonial to an eminent Gallic educator, presented in Phi Beta Kappa style. . . ."Sally and St. Anne" has lovely Anne Blyth brightening a light-as-cork spoof, albeit the whimsical tale isn't always whamsical. . . ."Beware, My Lovely" is a boo-meets-girl exciter with Ida Lupino as the wide-orb'd damsel in distress. . ."The Hawk of Wild River" stars a sheriff who solves every crime except one —the film's mediocrity.

The Telebrities: The Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca carnival retains its daffy-dilly drive. Their German double-talk sketch was hilarious hassenpheffer. . ."Mama" has a pleasant and honest home-spun quality. You almost expect a member of The Goldbergs to drop in for a cuppa sugar. . .Gad, some forumites are still snarling about FDR's policies. A long memory is no substitute for brains. . .Television Playhouse offered a rarity: An anti-Red drama that was pro-entertainment. Maria Riva emoted skillfully. . .Millie Consideine predicts that "What's New?" (debuts the 18th) will click. A teevy show offering the latest on news, fashions, etc. . . . .Records I enjoyed: Tutti Camarata's "Veradero". . .Nat Brooks' "Number Mambo". . .Patti Page's "You Belong to Me". . .Pearl Bailey's "Two to Tango," her first hit platter—and her first to land on top of Variety's list. . ,Blackie Jordan's warbling (on Garroway's noontimer) comforts these ears almost as much as the shrieks of "Foul"! from a disc jockass over WMCA. (We Make Chiselers Admirable.)

Stairway to the Stars: Gertrude Lawrence's estate gets a percentage of 'The King and I" for the life of that hit. . .CBS Radio will star Bing and Doris Day (back-to-back) Thursday evenings next month. Surefire. . .Capitol Records will get richer with Marilyn Monroe's vocallure. . .New trend among the kids of the ballet: They refuse to chuck their American names for Rooshian handles, to help fool the pipple. . .Tallulah is the latest to misquote the much repartee between us (when reported we first met) in her upcoming tome. It alleges that I said: "I've heard a lot about you" . . . It was Talu who said: 'I'll bet you've heard plenty about me" . . ."Plenty," I giggled. . . To which she niftied: "Well, it's awllll troooo!"

The Press-Box: If the following appeared in the N. Y. Times, it eluded us. James Reston (the Times ace in Washington) got it printed in The Minneapolis Tribune on Sept. 5, 1952, confirming what we reported: That "former Communist" Wechsler of The N. Y. Compost (look itup and have a giggle) 'contributed quite a bit to the Stevenson speech. . .in New York." This editor, whose staff numbers many 'former Communists" (and some not so former), assigned Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., of his staff to help HSTevenson prepare speeches until the campaign ends. . .Therefore, we did not inject the candidate's name into our fumigation of this 'ex-Commy" editor as any grudge as sour-gripers claim. We reported it as a hunka news based on truth and fact. . .The N. Y. Compost (which claims being anti-Commy all along) ran its first anti-Red editorial (on Red teachers here) Wednesday afternoon. Prob'ly efter reading WW's barrage the night before. Their previous slaps at Russia (token demonstrations) included tweaking Joe's mustache for claiming a Russian invented baseball, etc.

Love-Letter of the Week: 'Dear WW: Your column Wednesday morning debunking that 'ex-reditor' was a smashing piece of journalism. I had read with disgust in that pinko-stinko sheet the feeble but malicious attempt at an expose on you. I wondered what was behind it. Your column Wednesday lays open the whole thing, the motivation, the real reason for the attempted smear. Yours is in the best tradition of old-time, expert journalism all the facts marshalled with telling force, not one fact missing. It should be in all future journalism text books. Congratulations. That column will aid our country. 25 years ago I was ass't editor of the old Life magazine.—W. W. Scott."

IN HOLLYWOOD

BY FERNANDO LAMAS

HOLLYWOOD, September 13. — Everyone appreciates the fact, Jimmie, that America was originally discovered by Christopher Columbus several hundred years ago.

But only one born in another country can appreciate one's discovery of America in the 20th Century. Since I am foreign born and just made such a discovery, I'm going to tell you about it.

You see, when I first came to the United States two years ago, I spoke very few words of English. I also knew very few people. And I wasn't sure if this country would accept me — professionally or otherwise.

This made me feel extremely low — even though I was under contract at that time to MGM. One night I was invited to a dinner party with some friends. On the way I became hopelessly lost. After an hour and a half of frantic wandering I pulled into a gasoline station to get some directions.

That's when I made by first discovery about the Americans.

I told the attendant that I was sorry to bother him, but that I was lost and I was a foreigner. I could get no further. The man asked me —and he was very man—what I meant by saying I was a foreigner? In America there are no foreigners, he said; everyone is in it together.

He then said his mother was Polish and his father was English. Then he pointed to another man. He told me that the man's mother was French and his father Italian. Then he said "That doesn't make us foreigners!"

Ever since then I have remained "sold" on this country. For in addition to it being great for Americans, I feel it is a most wonderful spot in the world for a man or woman born on foreign shores.

After that gasoline station attendant's speech, I decided to really find out about the United Sates—through its language and its people.

My English at that time was faltering. It was a wonder that people understood me at all. Then I found tutors and took many diction lessions. Still, inside of me I was worried. I kept asking myself what would happen if I did not learn English well enough? Would I go home a failure?

Then I was given my first film role — and made it without tripping over my tongue. And I felt a greater elation than I can describe when the American public accepted this film and my second one.

Since then I feel I have been the luckiest man in the country — any country for that matter. I have made five pictures in the short time I have been here. After "The Merry Widow" I made "The Girl Who Had Everything" with Elizabeth Taylor — and I am now swimming with Esther Williams in "Dangerous When Wet."

I like working with Esther, since she is a special favorite in South American countries. Sometimes her swimming scenes are so popular the audiences won't stop applauding until they are screened again. And I used to be among those audiences.

One of my discoveries in America came about after I learned to read the English written word. It was a literary discovery and an experience only one born in another country can appreciate. You see, I had read Shakespear's plays and "Gone With The Wind," "Ivanhoe," Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography — in fact most of the great English and American books

Although the senate is traditionally known as the chamber of elder statesmen in the American government, so many of its elderly members have been retiring in recent years that the mantle of Dean of the Senate may soon rest on the shoulders of Sen. Richard B. Russell (Dem. - Ga.) who will be only 55 years of age on this election day.

When the 83rd Congress meets in January only two of its members will outrank Russell in point of continuous service.

One of them is his own colleague Sen. Walter F. George (Dem.-Ga.) who upon the retirement of Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar (Dem.-Tenn.) will become dean of the senate.

McKellar, elected in 1916, was defeated in his bid for re-election, so he will leave the political scene on the threshold of his 84th birthday.

The only other senator outranking Russell is Sen. Carl Hayden (Dem.-Ariz.) who has served continuously since 1926. Both George and Jayden will be 75 on their approaching birthdays. Their terms still have four years to run and it would not be surprising if they seek to retire at the end of that time.

Russell entered the senate in a special election January 12, 1933, after having served as the youngest governor in Georgia's history. He has a two - month edge in seniority over Sens. Harry F. Byrd (Dem. - Va.) and Pat McCarran (Dem. - Nev.) who both entered March 4, 1933, the day Franklin D. Roosevelt (whom neither of them other than infrequently supported) took the oath of office.

Russell's long term of service catches some folks by surprise because he is still the 'junior senator from Georgia," his light somewhat eclipsed by his eminent colleague, Senator George.

This is undoubtedly the longest time a senator has ever had to serve as 'junior senator" from his state (the ranking depends on seniority and the term is used in senate debate in order to avoid referring to senators by their proper names, a senate rule designed to keep debate from getting to a personal level).

Russell hasn't minded the long apprenticeship, however, and now that he is at last chairman of a ranking senate committee (armed services) he has come into his own as a powerful figure in that body.

The oldest senator in point of age will still be Sen. Theodore Francis Green (Dem. - Rhode Island), 84, but Green has only been a member of the senate since 1936.

In actual point of continuous congressional service, the senate's 'dean" will be Sen. Lister Hill (Dem. - Ala.), who although only 57, has served in congress for 30 years. However, 15 of those years were in the house. He came to the senate in January, 1938, and will be 9th in seniority next congress.

In the house of representatives, 86 year old Rep. Adolph J. Sabath (Dem. - Ill.), who has served continuously since 1906, will be Dean in point of age as well as of serice. With the retirement of 89-year-old Rep. Robert L. Doughton (Dem N. C.), Sabath will now be the oldest man in congress as well as the one who has served there longest. ,

Immediately behind him will be Speaker Sam Rayburn (Dem.-Tex.) who entered congress March 4, 1913, the day Woodrow Wilson took his oath of office. It is without precedent for a man to both Dean and Speaker, but if the Democrats continue to control congress Rayburn, at 70, is a good bet to achieve that record.

Incidentally, Rayburn has already set a record for length of srvice as speaker, having served nearly a decade in that post.

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)—Behind the Screen: It's make the grade as a dramatic actress or bust in the case of Gale Robbins.

Gale wants to rest her singing voice long enough to try the Duse racket, and it looks like she's going to get her chance.

The offers to make like Greer and Jennifer have been coming in, she told me, since the release of Columbia's "The Brigand," in which she plays her first straight role.

"I really haven't done anything important in Hollywood until now," she declared. "Just chucking Red Skelton under the chin and making eyes at Fred Astaire."

What about that see-right-through-the-skin dress she wears in "The Brigand"?

"I admit it was transparent," Gale said. "The censors came around every day while I was wearing it. They could see my whole body through the material, but they couldn't do a thing about it. How about that?"

If 20th Century-Fox gives him the green light, Gary Merrill will do a Broadway play, "The Fragile Fox." The play, once owned by the late John Garfield, is a war story about a lieutenant who shoots his captain.

Benny Can't Afford It

Jack Benny has finally decided to retire from the screen—a good seven years after release of his last feature film. Jack's reason: "I simply cannot afford to make a bad picture."

"The Horn Blows at Midnight" was released in 1945 and Jack hasn't starred in a movie since. He told me:

"Now, with television, I doubt that I ever will. Making movies is a full-time job. You can't do it and radio and TV at one time and be successful in all three. And failure in one field hazards your chances in the others."

Jack plays a bit, as himself, in Betty Hutton's new film, "Somebody Loves Me," but he did it only as a favor to his long-time pal, Producer Bill Perlberg.

IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— President Truman's latest attack—the one he directed at the Saturday Evening Post—has now been fired back at him in a nice, polite and unintentional way.

The President took his swing at the Post because it had printed an article charging that the farmers had been given false information on grain storage in the 1948 campaign.

In his press conference, the President commented that he didn't read the Post very often because it was wrong on most things. Later he added insult to injury by saying it was always wrong.

It just happened that in the same week, the Post had an article by its Washington editor, Beverly Smith, on "The Curious Case of the President's Bathtub."

Smith got interested some months ago on when the first bathtub was installed in the White House. He had a terrible time running down the answer. In the course of his research, he came across a remark President Truman had made on that subject four years ago.

It was in a press conference during which the President was defending his plan to build a balcony on the White House south portico. The same objections arose, the President said, when the first bathtub made its appearance. Why, they wanted to lynch Mrs. Fillmore, wife of the President, who sponsored that first bathtub.

That would have put the first bathtub in the White House around 1850. Smith ran that clue down and found it stemmed from a great fake H. L. Mencken had put over on a dull day in World War I to spoof the public. Not a word of truth in it.

Smith never coul find any reference to anyone wanting to lynch Mrs. Fillmore. Instead, he found a voucher dated Jan. 1, 1814, for a $30 expense in installing one large tin tub painted green in the White House.

That would have been in James Madison's second term. And the first regular bath was installed by Old Hickory Andrew Jackson between 1829 and 1833.

Who's wrong now?

Ex-Gov. M. Q. Sharpe of South Dakota has been circulating around his state a story on his delegation's interview with General Eisenhower at Chicago after the convention.

South Dakota had gone for Taft in the primary and its delegation to Chicago wanted to find out how the general stood on some of the things they were most interested in. The conversation finally got around to rural electrification. How did the general stand on that?

"Well," Ike is quoted as saying, "I think the farmers should have lights."

Though both General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson favor a change in Senate rules to limit filibusters, the prospects for getting anything done about it don't look too good in case the Democrats win the presidential election and control of the Senate.

The reason being given is that if the Democrats win, Vice-President John Sparkman of Alabama would be presiding officer of the Senate, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia would probably be majority floor leader, and Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia would probably be president pro-tempore of the Senate.

Senator George will be senior member, with 30 years of continuous service. He will succeed Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who had 35 years service, but was defeated in the recent Democratic primary.

The combination of George, Russell and Sparkman could effectively hamstring any change in Senate rules if they were of a mind to do so.

That worm's-eye-view photograph of Governor Stevenson, showing a hole worn in the sole of one shoe, probably won him a lot of votes from many common people similarly afflicted. With Governor Stevenson, however, this is not an act.

He is naturally very much old hat, old clothes and old shoes. There is nothing of the haberdashery salesman about his sartorial appearance.

There is a story around Springfield, Ill., that all the time he was governor, Stevenson never bought a new suit. His wardrobe finally got so disreputable that his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives, told him he would have to get some new clothes.

Under pressure, Stevenson went to the store but couldn't find anything he liked. He came home without having bought even a new necktie. Desperate, Mrs. Ives went back to the store herself and bought a suit for him.

MYERS LEADS AT McGUIRE

Former Louisiana P. G. O. Champ Fires Sub-Par 32-39—71; Girault Shoots 73 For 2nd Place; Defending Champ Doss Has 74, Is Third

Johnny Myers, Bastrop insurance agent, fired a one-under par 71 Saturday afternoon to lead the field by two strokes in the McGuire Park Golf Club 36-hole medal play championship over the difficult course under adverse weather conditions.

Rain delayed play for more than an hour as this area witnessed its first rainfall in many a moon.

E. S. "Shep" Girault posted a 73, 1 over par, to finish in second place in the initial round, sinking two approach shots for birdies.

Only eight players finished the first round due to weather, and it was announced that players would be allowed to play all 36 holes on Sunday, if so desired.

One player withdrew, Bill Jones, after not going too well after playing only ten holes.

In third place was Defending Titleholder Jackie Doss with a 2 over par 74, followed by Louis Whitfield with an 80, and Clyde Nash with an 81.

Myers, playing well and hitting all the greens on the outgoing nine, knocked in birdie putts of 3, 7, 20, 40 and 10 feet to post his scorching 32, and was five under par coming to number nine green where he three-putted for a bogie five.

Myers got a par on number 10, birdied number eleven, to go five under par again, but here he seemed to develop putter trouble and bogied thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and eighteen, three-putting four greens out of the last six holes.

Myers out	433 533 425—32
Par in	545 434 434—36-36—72
Myers in	535 545 435—39-32—71

Girault, steady, long knocker, played well, especially around and on the greens. On number 6 hole, he sank a wedge shot from across a sand trap with the hole only about eight feet from the sand trap and on number 17, using a number 8 iron, he pitched in the cup for another birdie from off the green.

Girault is another favorite and could very easily come back to give Myers a run for the title along with Jackie Doss.

Doss, with a ball out of bounds, costing him two strokes, was very consistent with his 74, and is very capable of coming back today and overtaking both Girault and Myers and remaining champ.

Posting 18-hole scores for Saturday's play were:

Johnny Myers	71
E. S. "Shep" Girault	73
Jackie Doss	74
Louis Whitfield	80
Clyde Nash	81
James Aulds	87
Bobbie Kellogg	87
Dr. Gregory	89

A large number of players are expected to play 36 holes today and the public is welcomed to watch the fast field perform.

Also players are expected to participate in the handicap sweepstakes regardless of handicap.

BASTROP PLANS LA. OPEN MEET

Preparations Made For 4th Annual Tourney, October 10, 11, 12

Announcement was made Saturday by the Morehouse Golf and Country Club at Bastrop that plans are under way for the Louisiana Open Golf championship to be played over the beautiful, difficult course, October 10, 11 and 12.

Prizes and awards will be made totalling $2,100 for the 72-hole medal play affair, open to professionals and amateurs of the state of Louisiana.

Friday with initiate the tournament with first round play and the Pro-Am tourney will be held Saturday. Sunday with be the final day of play and awards will be given immediately following.

Last year's Open was held at the Querbes Club in Shreveport with little Tommy Morrow carrying off top honors.

This is the first time in the history of the tournament that it has been held in North Louisiana, and a large number of out-of-town pros and amateurs are expected, in fact it is believed that there will be an exceptionally fast field and the largest number of entrants ever to play in this event.

L. S. U.'s golf team is expected to be on hand, which consists of Tommy Morrow, Eddie Merrins, Burt Weaver, Jackie Doss and others.

Also expected to be on hand are quite a contingent from Monroe and Johnny Myers, Louisiana 1950 pro champ, has already entered the event.

Professionals from Monroe include Winnie Cole, Mississippi 1947 Open champ, and present pro at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, and Jack Finlay, McGuire Park Golf Club, West Monroe, pro.

Out-of-town players who have contacted the Morehouse club assuring their entrance are: Ned White, Cotton Hill, Everette Nelson, and Frank Stagner, of Shreveport; Southpaw C. D. Smith, of Barksdale Field; and Henry Castello, of Alexandria.

Tommy Morrow is expected to have his hands full defending his title against these and many more sure to participate in this fast-growing event.

Pro. Mattinson announces that the course is in excellent shape and expects to have it in the best shape it has ever been in for the tournament.

SNEAD LEAVES FIELD IN DUST

Turns On Steam, Leads At ¾ Mark Of Eastern Open

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sam Snead turned on the steam today to leave the field in the dust at the three-quarter mark of the Eastern Open with a three stroke lead over his closest pursuer.

The golf craftsman from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., birdied his way to a four-under par 68 and 54-hole total of 206, 10 strokes better than par for that distance.

That put Snead in line tomorrow to break the record winning score of the past two tourneys, 279 for 72 holes.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. 71-67-68—206.

Oilers Completed Season Unbeaten

The North Louisiana Oilers softball team completed its season undefeated with 22 wins for the best record ever compiled by a Negro softball club here. The Oilers also swept their championship series from Dairy Queen in straight games.

The Oilers collected 35 home runs for the season, 47 doubles, 26 triples and had 39 stolen bases.

Jones Barbecue feted the team at the completion of its season.

Recreation Grid Quiz

For the football fans of northeast Louisiana who like to test their skill at forecasting games, the Monroe Recreation department is again offering the "recreation Grid Quiz" to run weekly through the full season.

Divisions will be conducted for men and women with a "champion" to be proclaimed in each division at the close of the season.

All that is necessary to participate is that contestants circle the name of the team they pick to win from each week's selections, sign their name and address, and mail to "The Monroe Recreation department, P. O. Box 1293, Monroe." To be accepted, the entires must be postmarked not later than midnight each Thursday.

Here are this week's selections:

Friday

ANNUAL LADIES' GOLF TOURNEY AT DESIARD C. C.

Plans Complete For Medal Meet Here; Many State Golfers Are Expected

Plans and preparations are under way at Bayou DeSiard Country Club for the Fourth Annual Ladies' Medal Tournament, to be played Sunday, October 5.

A large and fast field is expected, even greater than last year when 110 ladies from all parts of Louisiana and parts of Mississippi and Arkansas participated.

Mrs. George Miller, defending champ, will be on hand to defend her title, and is expected to be a strong contender as she has been playing quite a lot this summer and has posted many creditable scores. Mrs. Miller ranks as one of the favorites.

Another heavy favorite to cop the coveted trophy is Mrs. Gordon Perrin, Arkansas state champion, and winner of the first Bayou DeSiard Ladies' meet.

Other well known and top-notch women players expected to be on hand are: Mal Blankenship, former Mississippi state champion; Mrs. William Roundtree, Shreveport city champ; Miss Clifford Ann Crud, 14-year-old Alexandria city titleholder.

It is announced that there will be 16 players to each flight and prizes will be awarded for first and second low gross and low net in each flight. Prizes will also be given for putting and hole-in-one contests.

Pairings will be made by handicaps, and all ladies expecting to enter are asked to list their handicaps with the DeSiard club not later than Saturday night, October 4.

Starting time for the opening of the meet will be at 9 a. m. Sunday, and a buffet luncheon will be served at noon. Refreshments will be served prior to awarding the prizes.

TECHMEN GIVEN HARD WORKOUT

RUSTON, Sept. 13 (Special)—With only a week separating them from their season's opener with McNeese State College of Lake Charles, Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs held another full-dress workout for Saturday afternoon.

The general scrimmage was the second major intra-squad clash put on by the Canines. It followed a week of intensive drilling and minor rough workouts aimed at polishing the Techsters' offense and defense.

Lacking depth in many spots in campaign-tested material, Louisiana Tech's coaches will have to rely heavily on the efforts of the 24 freshmen and 17 sophomores who form the major portion of their 54-man football corps.

But the neophytes have been coming through in fine fashion during the practice sessions and show promise of giving the more-experienced players a run for their money before the season ends.

Head Coach Joe Aillet has a strong crew of freshman backs, with 12 of the Bulldog array in this category.

Working at the quarterback post are Tommy Lockhart, MdGehee, Ark.; Milford Andrews, Delhi; and Jim Coleman, Jena.

Fullback chores are occupying the attention of freshmen Leo Harelson, Baton Rouge; Dean Walker, Jonesboro; and Hup Garner, Rodessa.

SIKES RAMRODS CROWVILLE WIN

CROWVILLE, La., Sept. 13.—(Special)—The Crowville Bulldogs romped over the Clarks Lumberjacks Friday night by a score of 34-0 in a game played at Crowville.

The first quarter was fought on even terms and no scoring was done. In the second period Fay Riser went over from three yards out to put Crowville ahead 6-0. Sikes' conversion kick was good, making the score at the half 7-0.

Crowville got rolling in the third period Sikes plunging over from the one-yard line and booting the placement again to give the Bulldogs a 14-0 lead. Later in the period Sikes tossed a 40-yard aerial to end Laird good for another TD. This time Sikes' conversion kick was no good.

In the final stanza, Sikes again completed a pass to Laird for a fourth score, and his try for point was good, making the score 27-0. In the final three minutes of the game, Sikes broke loose for 55 yards and the final tally and again booted the placement.

Riser Crowville halfback broke away for several long gains, while Billy Joe Laird and Lineman O'Brien were stalwarts on the defense. For Clarks, Christman was defensive and offensive standout.

Brooklyn's Pennant Drive Stalled By St. Louis Cardinals 5-2

Loss Cuts Dodger Lead To 3 Games As Giants Win

BROOKLYN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Stu Miller, precocious rookie righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals, stalled Brooklyn's National League pennant drive today as he pitched the Red Birds to a 5-2 victory over the Dodgers.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's lead over the runner-up New York Giants to three games. The Giants advanced by nosing out the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2.

Miller also played a leading role in the Cards' 11-hit attack against recruit lefthander Ken Lehman and two relief pitchers, driving in three runs on a single and ground ball.

The youngster's vast assortment of pitches completely baffled the Dodgers who managed to solve his offerings for only four hits. Miller walked only two and fanned eight in gaining his fifth victory of his brief major league career.

GIANTS CLOSE GAP

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Young Hoyt Wilhelm saved the day again and the New York Giants shaved their deficit in the National League race to three games by overcoming the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, before a crowd of 8,843 at the Polo Grounds.

Combined with the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers' 5-2 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals, the Giant's victory gained Leo Durocher's men a full game in the red-hot pennant chase.

But for the second day in a row, the story was Wilhelm, the remarkable youngster who made his 64th appearance of the year for the New Yorkers.

MYERS LEADS AT McGUIRE

Former Louisiana P. G. O. Champ Fires Sub-Par 32-39—71; Girault Shoots 73 For 2nd Place; Defending Champ Doss Has 74, Is Third

Johnny Myers, Bastrop insurance agent, fired a one-under par 71 Saturday afternoon to lead the field by two strokes in the McGuire Park Golf Club 36-hole medal play championship over the difficult course under adverse weather conditions.

Rain delayed play for more than an hour as this area witnessed its first rainfall in many a moon.

E. S. "Shep" Girault posted a 73, 1 over par, to finish in second place in the initial round, sinking two approach shots for birdies.

Only eight players finished the first round due to weather, and it was announced that players would be allowed to play all 36 holes on Sunday, if so desired.

One player withdrew, Bill Jones, after not going too well after playing only ten holes.

In third place was Defending Titleholder Jackie Doss with a 2 over par 74, followed by Louis Whitfield with an 80, and Clyde Nash with an 81.

Myers, playing well and hitting all the greens on the outgoing nine, knocked in birdie putts of 3, 7, 20, 40 and 10 feet to post his scorching 32, and was five under par coming to number nine green where he three-putted for a bogie five.

Myers got a par on number 10, birdied number eleven, to go five under par again, but here he seemed to develop putter trouble and bogied thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and eighteen, three-putting four greens out of the last six holes.

Myers out	433	533	425—32
Par in	545	434	434—36	36—72
Myers in	535	545	435—39	32—71

Girault, steady, long knocker, played well, especially around and on the greens. On number 6 hole, he sank a wedge shot from across a sand trap with the hole only about eight feet from the sand trap and on number 17, using a number 8 iron, he pitched in the cup for another birdie from off the green.

Girault is another favorite and could very easily come back to give Myers a run for the title along with Jackie Doss.

Doss, with a ball out of bounds, costing him two strokes, was very consistent with his 74, and is very capable of coming back today and overtaking both Girault and Myers and remaining champ.

Posting 18-hole scores for Saturday's play were:

Johnny Myers	71
E. S. "Shep" Girault	73
Jackie Doss	74
Louis Whitfield	80
Clyde Nash	81
James Aulds	87
Dr. Gregory	89

A large number of players are expected to play 36 holes today and the public is welcomed to watch the fast field perform.

Also players are expected to participate in the handicap sweepstakes regardless of handicap.

Preparations Made For 4th Annual Tourney, October 10, 11, 12

Announcement was made Saturday by the Morehouse Golf and Country Club at Bastrop that plans are under way for the Louisiana Open Golf championship to be played over the beautiful, difficult course, October 10, 11 and 12.

Prizes and awards will be made totalling $2,100 for the 72-hole medal play affair, open to professionals and amateurs of the state of Louisiana.

Friday with initiate the tournament with first round play and the Pro-Am tourney will be held Saturday. Sunday with be the final day of play and awards will be given immediately following.

Last year's Open was held at the Querbes Club in Shreveport with little Tommy Morrow carrying off top honors.

This is the first time in the history of the tournament that it has been held in North Louisiana, and a large number of out-of-town pros and amateurs are expected, in fact it is believed that there will be an exceptionally fast field and the largest number of entrants ever to play in this event.

L. S. U.'s golf team is expected to be on hand, which consists of Tommy Morrow, Eddie Merrins, Burt Weaver, Jackie Doss and others.

Also expected to be on hand are quite a contingent from Monroe and Johnny Myers, Louisiana 1950 pro champ, has already entered the event.

Professionals from Monroe include Winnie Cole, Mississippi 1947 Open champ, and present pro at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, and Jack Finlay, McGuire Park Golf Club, West Monroe, pro.

Out-of-town players who have contacted the Morehouse club assuring their entrance are: Ned White, Cotton Hill, Everette Nelson, and Frank Stagner, of Shreveport; Southpaw C. D. Smith, of Barksdale Field; and Henry Castello, of Alexandria.

Tommy Morrow is expected to have his hands full defending his title against these and many more sure to participate in this fast-growing event.

Pro. Mattinson announces that the course is in excellent shape and expects to have it in the best shape it has ever been in for the tournament.

SNEAD LEAVES FIELD IN DUST

Turns On Steam, Leads At 3/4 Mark Of Eastern Open

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sam Snead turned on the steam today to leave the field in the dust at the three-quarter mark of the Eastern Open with a three stroke lead over his closest pursuer.

The golf craftsman from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., birdied his way to a four-under par 68 and 54-hole total of 206, 10 strokes better than par for that distance.

That put Snead in line tomorrow to break the record winning score of the past two tourneys, 279 for 72 holes.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. 71-67-68—206.
Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y. 73-67-69—209.

Oilers Completed Season Unbeaten

The North Louisiana Oilers softball team completed its season undefeated with 22 wins for the best record ever compiled by a Negro softball club here. The Oilers also swept their championship series from Dairy Queen in straight games.

The Oilers collected 35 home runs for the season, 47 doubles, 26 triples and had 39 stolen bases.

Jones Barbecue feted the team at the completion of its season.

Recreation Grid Quiz

For the football fans of northeast Louisiana who like to test their skill at forecasting games, the Monroe Recreation department is again offering the "recreation Grid Quiz" to run weekly through the full season.

Divisions will be conducted for men and women with a "champion" to be proclaimed in each division at the close of the season.

All that is necessary to participate is that contestants circle the name of the team they pick to win from each week's selections, sign their name and address, and mail to "The Monroe Recreation department, P. O. Box 1293, Monroe." To be accepted, the entires must be postmarked not later than midnight each Thursday.

Here are this week's selections:

Friday

Ouachita vs. Ruston.
Homer vs. Neville.
St. Mathew's vs. Wisner.
Washington State. vs. Southern California.

Saturday

Northeasts Louisiana vs. Southeastern.

ANNUAL LADIES' GOLF TOURNEY AT DESIARD C. C.

Plans Complete For Medal Meet Here; Many State Golfers Are Expected

Plans and preparations are under way at Bayou DeSiard Country Club for the Fourth Annual Ladies' Medal Tournament, to be played Sunday, October 5.

A large and fast field is expected, even greater than last year when 110 ladies from all parts of Louisiana and parts of Mississippi and Arkansas participated.

Mrs. George Miller, defending champ, will be on hand to defend her title, and is expected to be a strong contender as she has been playing quite a lot this summer and has posted many creditable scores. Mrs. Miller ranks as one of the favorites.

Another heavy favorite to cop the coveted trophy is Mrs. Gordon Perrin, Arkansas state champion, and winner of the first Bayou DeSiard Ladies' meet.

Other well known and top-notch women players expected to be on hand are: Mal Blankenship, former Mississippi state champion; Mrs. William Roundtree, Shreveport city champ; Miss Clifford Ann Crud, 14-year-old Alexandria city titleholder.

It is announced that there will be 16 players to each flight and prizes will be awarded for first and second low gross and low net in each flight. Prizes will also be given for putting and hole-in-one contests.

Pairings will be made by handicaps, and all ladies expecting to enter are asked to list their handicaps with the DeSiard club not later than Saturday night, October 4.

Starting time for the opening of the meet will be at 9 a. m. Sunday, and a buffet luncheon will be served at noon. Refreshments will be served prior to awarding the prizes.

TECHMEN GIVEN HARD WORKOUT

RUSTON, Sept. 13 (Special)—With only a week separating them from their season's opener with McNeese State College of Lake Charles, Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs held another full-dress workout for Saturday afternoon.

The general scrimmage was the second major intra-squad clash put on by the Canines. It followed a week of intensive drilling and minor rough workouts aimed at polishing the Techsters' offense and defense.

Lacking depth in many spots in campaign-tested material, Louisiana Tech's coaches will have to rely heavily on the efforts of the 24 freshmen and 17 sophomores who form the major portion of their 54-man football corps.

But the neophytes have been coming through in fine fashion during the practice sessions and show promise of giving the more-experienced players a run for their money before the season ends.

Head Coach Joe Aillet has a strong crew of freshman backs, with 12 of the Bulldog array in this category.

Working at the quarterback post are Tommy Lockhart, McGehee, Ark.; Milford Andrews, Delhi; and Jim Coleman, Jena.

SIKES RAMRODS CROWVILLE WIN

CROWVILLE, La., Sept. 13.—(Special)—The Crowville Bulldogs romped over the Clarks Lumberjacks Friday night by a score of 34-0 in a game played at Crowville.

The first quarter was fought on even terms and no scoring was done. In the second period Fay Riser went over from three yards out to put Crowville ahead 6-0. Sikes' conversion kick was good, making the score at the half 7-0.

Crowville got rolling in the third period Sikes plunging over from the one-yard line and booting the placement again to give the Bulldogs a 14-0 lead. Later in the period Sikes tossed a 40-yard aerial to end Laird good for another TD. This time Sikes' conversion kick was no good.

In the final stanza, Sikes again completed a pass to Laird for a fourth score, and his try for point was good, making the score 27-0. In the final three minutes of the game, Sikes broke loose for 55 yards and the final tally and again booted the placement.

Riser Crowville halfback broke away for several long gains, while Billy Joe Laird and Lineman O'Brien were stalwarts on the defense. For Clarks, Christman was defensive and offensive standout.

Brooklyn's Pennant Drive Stalled By St. Louis Cardinals 5-2

Loss Cuts Dodger Lead To 3 Games As Giants Win

BROOKLYN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Stu Miller, precocious rookie righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals, stalled Brooklyn's National League pennant drive today as he pitched the Red Birds to a 5-2 victory over the Dodgers.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's lead over the runner-up New York Giants to three games. The Giants advanced by nosing out the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2.

Miller also played a leading role in the Cards' 11-hit attack against recruit lefthander Ken Lehman and two relief pitchers, driving in three runs on a single and ground ball.

The youngster's vast assortment of pitches completely baffled the Dodgers who managed to solve his offerings for only four hits. Miller walked only two and fanned eight in gaining his fifth victory of his brief major league career.

GIANTS CLOSE GAP

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Young Hoyt Wilhelm saved the day again and the New York Giants shaved their deficit in the National League race to three games by overcoming the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, before a crowd of 8,843 at the Polo Grounds.

Combined with the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers' 5-2 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals, the Giant's victory gained Leo Durocher's men a full game in the red-hot pennant chase.

But for the second day in a row, the story was Wilhelm, the remarkable youngster who made his 64th appearance of the year for the New Yorkers.

YANKEES TRIUMPH; INDIANS FALL

N. Y. NIPS CHISOX, 6-5, WHILE TRIBE LOSES TO BOSOX

Ted Lepico's 10th Inning Homer Spoils Cleveland, 4-3

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees nosed a game and a half ahead of the Cleveland Indians in their torrid pennant scrap today and did it with a masterful relief job by Allie Reynolds and Billy Martin's sharp hitting for a 6-5 shading of the Chicago White Sox.

The victory, coupled with Cleveland's 4-3 loss to Boston gained a full game for the Yankees, whose ace Reynolds came in with Sox on second and first in the ninth with none out and cleaned up things with only one score and not a ball hit out of the infield.

Luckless loser Marv Grissom, 35-year-old right hander, struck out 13 to tie the Amelcan League's season high, but gave up 12 hits.

Reynolds came in after Johnny Sain, who had replaced starter and victor Vic Raschi at the start of the sixth, weakened in the last two innings and nearly drained away a 6-3 lead.

Second sacker Billy Martin, for the second straight day belted led belvc vcb mbmf gffbbmmvgf across three runs. He singled across the third Yankee run in the fourth for a 3-1 New York lead and settled the issue in the eighth by punching a two-run single through the box to make it 6-3.

DELHI TOPPLES START, 30 TO 13

Bruins Impressive In Reopening Defense Of Crown

DELHI, La., Sept. 13. —(Special) — Delhi's Bears opened the defense of their Class B state grid title here Friday with a 30 to 13 victory over the Start Owls.

Johnny Bradley, Bear quarterback, overcame his lack of experience to give a performance worthy of Milford Andrews, 1951 all-stater and passer extraordinary. The unpolished Delhi offense looked good at times with Dozier and Rich carrying and George Sumlin showed some powerful running. Monroe Fowler, a top-notch guard last year, rounded out the Bear starting backfield.

Halfback Rudolph "Sonny" Dozier plowed four yards through the middle for the first Bear score after Halfback Troy Rich, Fullback Fowler and Dozier had alternated in a drive from the Start 45 early in the first period.

Rich racked up the second Delhi tally in the same quarter on a 12 yard left end sweep, and scored the third marker in the second period on a six-yard smash through the middle.

Big Pat Patterson, a favorite Bear candidate for all-state honors at end, gathered in a long pass from Quarterback Johnny Bradley and loped across the goal line for the fourth Delhi touchdown scored in the first half.

Bradley made the final Bear TD on a short end sweep early in the third period.

J. Henry gathered in a long pass from Will Dark and raced by the Bear secondary for the Owls' first marker. The play was good for 67 yards for Coach G. J. Fleischman's losers. Park passed to D. Malone for the conversion. Dark scored the second touchdown for the Owls in the fourth period on a 24-yard jaunt through Coach Raymond Richard's second stringers.

Catholic Knocks Off Bastrop, 19-0

BASTROP, La., Sept. 13 (Special)— The Bastrop Rams went down to their first defeat of the '52 campaign here Friday night as Catholic High of Baton Rouge won by a 19-0 score.

Catholic High opened the scoring late in the first quarter after recovering a Ram fumble on the Ram 26-yard line. Catholic's Constantino lugged the pigskin to the six and Lieux went over from there for the touchdown. The attempt for extra point was no good.

In the third quarter after a sustained drive from the Bastrop 48, a pitchout from Bertrand to Lieux from the 14 scored the second TD. Again the try for extra point was missed. Another pitchout from Bertrand, this time to Lafaso from the 13-yard line in the fourth quarter, scored the final touchdown. A pass from Zimmerle to Atkinson accounted for the extra point.

Outstanding on defense for Catholic High were Atkinson, Zimmerle and Kleimtetero, while Atkinson, Cumbo, Schwalb, and Kleimtetero were the offensive stars.

Bastrop's outstanding defensive players were Reed, Johnson, while on the offense J. W. Brodnax, Jerry Henderson, and Lloyd Ray Smith starred.

Bastrop's next game is with Lake Providence at Bastrop next Friday night.

TICKETS GO FAST FOR TITLE FIGHT

Interest High For Walcott-Marciano Bout Sept. 23

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12 (AP)—A booming sale of $40 ringside tickets reflects the intense nation-wide interesst in the Sept. 23 heavyweight title bout between Champion Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano, the unbeaten challenger.

Orders for the top price tickets are flooding the offices of co-promoters Jim Norris and Herman Taylor. And they are coming from every section of the country.

"We'll do better than $600,000," said Norris. "I don't know how much better. But it may surprise everybody. It's the biggest heavyweight promotion since the Joe Louis-Walcott return, a real old fashion heavyweight championship promotion.

"It looks like the old days when people from all over the country felt they had to be on hand for a title fight. Maybe it's because there will be no home television. Maybe it's because of Marciano. Or maybe Walcott finally has caught on as the champ. Whatever the reason, it looks big."

Theater television outlets already are hanging out the sellout signs and some are charging as much as $4.80 per copy. The theater-TV chain will extend to California For the first time even drive-in theaters will be included. Motion pictures of the fight will be available the next day.

While the promoters greet the harvest of greenbacks, the two fighters step through their paces at widely separated points. Walcott, the 38-year-old champ, does his stuff at Atlantic City where he trained for his successful defense againzt Ezzard Charles. Marciano, just past his 28th birthday, works out at Grossinger, N. Y.

After watching both boys drill, ex-champ Jack Dempsey predicted "another Dempsey - Firpo bout." He wouldn't pick a winner. Others have not been so bashful about declaring themselves.

Although the odds have wavered slightly below the original 2 to 1 price favoring Marciano, there is strong support among the boxing folks for the old gaffer from Camden, N. J.

"A man is as old as he feels," said Walcott at a recent training session. "I feel young and I act young. When a man has an incentive for winning, as I have since winning the title, there's nothing going to stop him except a knockout punch. I don't think Marciano can knock me out. I think I can knock him out. We'll see."

Bums Purchase Pitcher To Bolster Mound Corps

BROOKLYN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Continuing their manhunt to bolster their wobbily pitching corps, the Brooklyn Dodgers today announced the purchase of Ron Negray, right-handed pitcher, from their St. Paul farm. Negray, 22-year-old "stuff" pitcher, won 11 and lost seven in the American Association. He will join the Brooks tomorrow.

Twin-A Grid Race Becomes Jumbled Puzzle Right From Start Of Season

Terrebonne Upset Victim; Ouachita, Fair Park Winners

By The Associated Press

Louisiana's double-A prep football is a jumbled puzzle even before many teams begin play—fourth-ranked Terrebonne of Houma is licking unexpected wounds and lightly-regarded Baton Rouge is sitting smugly atop a promising stack of two victories.

Terrebonne, the defending southwest district champions, was upset 20-19 by Lake Charles Friday night year. Lake Charles was ranked seventh in the state in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers. Terrebonne found some consolation in Bobby Kimball's performance, a trio of touchdowns.

Baton Rouge's surprising squad failed to read the advance notices and pulled out all the stops to top a favored Bolton eleven, 26-0 with fullback Ronnie Quillan scoring twice in the upset win.

Fair Park of Shreveport visited in Texas to wallop Marshall, 27-0. Abbeville's class A entry fought Lafayette's double-A team to a 7-7 standstill. Jonesboro-Hodge downed Bossier City 12-0; Sulphur went on a scoring spree to top Byrd of Shreveport 32-0; Warren Easton of New Orleans had to overcome a stout Bogalusa defense to win 6-0; Catholic high of Baton Rouge beat Bastrop 19-0; Ouachita rolled to a 48-14 win over Homer; Jennings downed Morgan City 27-6 and Menard of Alexandria beat New Iberia 27-14.

Terrebonne, regarded as a championship contender again this season, failed to live up to advance notices as they lost to Lake Charles Kimball's three touchdowns weren't enough to overcome a determined Lake Charles crew. Glenn Hathaway started the Lake Charles scoring in the first quarter on a six-yard dash. Charles Nourrcier got a pair of six-pointers with Jerry Lewis' conversion being one of the most important in his career.

Quillan solved the Bolton defense early and led Baton Rouge to its smashing triumph. J. D. Bookman also shared hero honors for the night, scoring on a 19-yard run and passing to end Ernest Kelly for Baton Rouge's finally tally.

Fair Park, long a power in north Louisiana prep football, gave indications that it had its sights on a championship season by walloping the Texans. A. L. Williams got Fair Park off to a fast start with a score in the first quarter. Tommy Davis tallied Fair Park's second tally late in the third quarter and seven minutes later Davis hit pay dirt for the second time. Quarterback Gene Saur concluded the Fair Park scoring with a touchdown late in the game. Keats Mullikin scored the Texans' lone tally.

Little Abbeville, sparked by Allen Peltier's 19-yard scoring run, fought Lafayette to a standstill. Lafayette scored on Frank Foreman's 27-yard dash.

Jonesboro-Hodge was powered by Kenneth Brown's two touchdowns in beating Bossier City. The defensive play of end Jerry Garvin stood out as he blocked both tries for extra points.

Warren Easton barely made its second start of the season a winning one, scoring a lone tally late in the fourth quarter to down Bogalusa. Jack Cahill's one - yard dash gave the Orleanians the edge.

Jimmy Lieux's two touchdowns sparked Catholic high against Bastrop in an inter-district game. A converted guard, Lieux scored twice from his fullback position with Bernard Lafaso adding the final touchdown.

Sulphur had a field night as it romped over Byrd. John Scofield ignited the Sulphur attack with a score in the first two minutes of the game and the Tornadoes breezed to victory, with Wayne Bourgeois, Jimmy Deaton and Jerry Wilburn getting into the scoring column.

Halfback Frank Mobley's three touchdowns in the first quarter paced Ouachita's lop - sided win over Homer. Mobley tallied three times in the first quarter and passed to a pair of touchdowns to Jerry Sikes and Norman Goza in the second stanza. Final quarter Ouachita scores were made by Goza and W. D. Perkins. John Robert Thomas and Charles Land tallied Homer's scores.

Jennings routed Morgan City in the season's opener for Jennings. Denny Marshall and John Prather collected first quarter scores, with Richard Clement and Charles Sonnier adding the final Jennings tallies. Roger Gaudet's seven-yard run accounted for Morgan City's lone score.

And Menard of Alexandria joined Abbeville in upsetting a double-A opponent when two Menard touchdowns in the final quarter spelled defeat for New Iberia. Dan Valdez' first quarter pass to Davis Valdez clocked for Menard's first score. Dan Valdez and Bob Mahfouz added the winning scores in the fourth quarter. Chick LaBauve and Del Bergeron scored for New Iberia.

Mansfield Loses To Jena, 48 To 7

JENA, Sept. 13 (Special)—Jean defeated Mansfield Friday, 46 to 7, behind the passing and running of Neil Thompson. Manchester scored four touchdowns, three on the ground and one on a pass from quarterback Thompson. Otwell scored on a pass from Thompson which was good for 55 yards and paydirt. Thompson also intercepted a pass and carried it 55 yards for another score, and Dan Andrews made his score on a 1-yard plunge. The final two points came from a blocked punt which resulted in a safety.

Mansfield gained their lone tally on a pass from Reynolds to Martin.

Jena made 312 yards rushing and 127 through the air and Mansfield collected 48 yards on the ground and 212 passing.

RACING 'SISTERS' SHARE BELDAME

Real Delight, Next Move Cop Split Of Aqueduct Event

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Two daughters of Bull Lea did themselves proud today as Calumet farms Real Delight and Alfred Gynne Vanderbilt's Next Move won split divisions of the rich Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct.

Next Move had an easy time in the first section, hitting the wire three lengths before the closest pursuer, but had to survive a claim of foul before dragging down $43,400 from a gross pot of $62,000.

It was a different story in the second division, as Real Delight and Eddie Arcaro had a battle right down to the finish before the Calumet star won in the final few jumps. They made it, however, and Real Delights share of the $62,000 in this scramble was $42,400.

Both were timed in 1:51 flat on a fast track, so maybe they'd have had a dead heat if they were in together. In fact, there was a dead heat in the 1942 Beldame, between Vagrancy and Barrancosa, with Arcaro who now has won this event four times, abroad Barrancosa.

Real Delight, a bay three-year-old daughter of Bull Lea—Blue Delight, got home three-quarters of a length ahead of the Woodvale farms Marta with Marian O'Connor's La Corredora third in the field of nine fillies and mares in the second division.

Real Delight paid $3.20, $2.70 and $2.40 and had highweight of 126 pounds.

Next move won the Beldame in 1950. It seemed for about 15 minutes they might take her number down this time after Jockey Nick Wall, riding Clifford Mooer's Miss Traffic, claimed a foul against Eric Guerin, aboard the Vanderbilt mare.

But after studying the movies, they let the result stand. Many in the sweltering crowd of 32,681 booed loudly, for it was obvious Next Move had drifted out near the head of the stretch and bothered Miss Traffic as well as Louis B. Mayer's Princess Lygia, the pace-setter.

Next Move had 125 pounds, and she now is the third leading money leading mare with $398,550, trailing Bewitch and Gallorette.

She paid $4.60, $3.40 and $2.80.

William Ransome Gaß Baker is said to be the only man to have a television station named for him. It's station WRGB at Schenectady, N. Y.

YANKEES TRIUMPH; INDIANS FALL

N. Y. NIPS CHISOX, 6-5, WHILE TRIBE LOSES TO BOSOX

Ted Lepico's 10th Inning Homer Spoils Cleveland, 4-3

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees nosed a game and a half ahead of the Cleveland Indians in their torrid pennant scrap today and did it with a masterful relief job by Allie Reynolds and Billy Martin's sharp hitting for a 6-5 shading of the Chicago White Sox.

The victory, coupled with Cleveland's 4-3 loss to Boston gained a full game for the Yankees, whose ace Reynolds came in with Sox on second and first in the ninth with none out and cleaned up things with only one score and not a ball hit out of the infield.

Luckless loser Marv Grissom, 35-year-old right hander, struck out 13 to tie the Ameican League's season high, but gave up 12 hits.

Reynolds came in after Johnny Sain, who had replaced starter and victor Vic Raschi at the start of the sixth, weakened in the last two innings and nearly drained away a 6-3 lead.

Second sacker Billy Martin, for the second straight day belted led belvc vcb mbmf gffbbmmvgf across three runs. He singled across the third Yankee run in the fourth for a 3-1 New York lead and settled the issue in the eighth by punching a two-run single through the box to make it 6-3.

INDIAN STREAK STOPPED

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ted Lepcio's 10th inning homer gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians today and dropped the Tribe a game and a half behind first place New York in the hot American League pennant race.

The Beantowners victory's, coming as the Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-5, snapped Cleveland's winning streak at nine games.

Lepcio, who also scored two other runs, belted Bob Lemon's 3-1 pitch over the left field fence with two outs in the top of the 10th after the Tribe had scrambled from behind to tie the game at three-all in the seventh.

The unpolished Delhi offense looked good at times with Dozier and Rich carrying and George Sumlin showed some powerful running. Monroe Fowler, a top-notch guard last year, rounded out the Bear starting backfield.

Halfback Rudolph "Sonny" Dozier plowed four yards through the middle for the first Bear score after Halfback Troy Rich, Fullback Fowler and Dozier had alternated in a drive from the Start 45 early in the first period.

Rich racked up the second Delhi tally in the same quarter on a 12 yard left end sweep, and scored the third marker in the second period on a six-yard smash through the middle.

Big Pat Patterson, a favorite Bear candidate for all-state honors at end, gathered in a long pass from Quarterback Johnny Bradley and loped across the goal line for the fourth Delhi touchdown scored in the first half.

Bradley made the final Bear TD on a short end sweep early in the third period.

J. Henry gathered in a long pass from Will Dark and raced by the Bear secondary for the Owls' first marker. The play was good for 67 yards for Coach G. J. Fleischman's losers. Park passed to D. Malone for the conversion. Dark scored the second touchdown for the Owls in the fourth period on a 24-yard jaunt through Coach Raymond Richard's second stringers.

Catholic Knocks Off Bastrop, 19-0

BASTROP, La., Sept. 13 (Special)— The Bastrop Rams went down to their first defeat of the '52 campaign here Friday night as Catholic High of Baton Rouge won by a 19-0 score.

Catholic High opened the scoring late in the first quarter after recovering a Ram fumble on the Ram 28-yard line. Catholic's Constantino lugged the pigskin to the six and Lieux went over from there for the touchdown. The attempt for extra point was no good.

In the third quarter after a sustained drive from the Bastrop 48, a pitchout from Bertrand to Lieux from the 14 scored the second TD. Again the try for extra point was missed. Another pitchout from Bertrand, this time to Lafaso from the 12-yard line in the fourth quarter, scored the final touchdown. A pass from Zimmerle to Atkinson accounted for the extra point.

Outstanding on defense for Catholic High were Atkinson, Zimmerle and Kleimtetero, while Atkinson, Cumbo, Schwalb, and Kleimtetero were the offensive stars.

Bastrop's outstanding defensive players were Reed, Johnson, while on the offense J. W. Brodnax, Jerry Henderson, and Lloyd Ray Smith starred.

Bastrop's next game is with Lake Providence at Bastrop next Friday night.

TICKETS GO FAST FOR TITLE FIGHT

Interest High For Walcott-Marciano Bout Sept. 23

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12 (AP)—A booming sale of $40 ringside tickets reflects the intense nation-wide interesst in the Sept. 23 heavyweight title bout between Champion Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano, the unbeaten challenger.

Orders for the top price tickets are flooding the offices of co-promoters Jim Norris and Herman Taylor. And they are coming from every section of the country.

"We'll do better than $600,000," said Norris. "I don't know how much better. But it may surprise everybody. It's the biggest heavyweight promotion since the Joe Louis-Walcott return, a real old fashion heavyweight championship promotion.

"It looks like the old days when people from all over the country felt they had to be on hand for a title fight. Maybe it's because there will be no home television. Maybe it's because of Marciano. Or maybe Walcott finally has caught on as the champ. Whatever the reason, it looks big."

Theater television outlets already are hanging out the sellout signs and some are charging as much as $4.80 per copy. The theater-TV chain will extend to California For the first time even drive-in theaters will be included. Motion pictures of the fight will be available the next day.

While the promoters greet the harvest of greenbacks, the two fighters step through their paces at widely separated points. Walcott, the 38-year-old champ, does his stuff at Atlantic City where he trained for his successful defense againzt Ezzard Charles, Marciano, just past his 28th birthday, works out at Grossinger, N. Y.

After watching both boys drill, ex-champ Jack Dempsey predicted "another Dempsey - Firpo bout." He wouldn't pick a winner. Others have not been so bashful about declaring themselves.

Although the odds have wavered slightly below the original 2 to 1 price favoring Marciano, there is strong support among the boxing folks for the old gaffer from Camden, N. J.

"A man is as old as he feels," said Walcott at a recent training session. "I feel young and I act young. When a man has an incentive for winning, as I have since winning the title, there's nothing going to stop him except a knockout punch. I don't think Marciano can knock me out. I think I can knock him out. We'll see."

Bums Purchase Pitcher To Bolster Mound Corps

BROOKLYN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Continuing their manhunt to bolster their wobbily pitching corps, the Brooklyn Dodgers today announced the purchase of Ron Negray, righthanded pitcher, from their St. Paul farm. Negray, 22-year-old "stuff" pitcher, won 11 and lost seven in the American Association. He will join the Brooks tomorrow.

Twin-A Grid Race Becomes Jumbled Puzzle Right From Start Of Season

Terrebonne Upset Victim; Ouachita, Fair Park Winners

By The Associated Press

Louisiana's double-A prep football is a jumbled puzzle even before many teams begin play—fourth-ranked Terrebonne of Houma is licking unexpected wounds and lightly-regarded Baton Rouge is sitting smugly atop a promising stack of two victories.

Terrebonne, the defending southwest district champions, was upset 20-19 by Lake Charles Friday night year. Lake Charles was ranked seventh in the state in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers. Terrebonne found some consolation in Bobby Kimball's performance, a trio of touchdowns.

Baton Rouge's surprising squad failed to read the advance notices and pulled out all the stops to top a favored Bolton eleven, 26-0 with fullback Ronnie Quillan scoring twice in the upset win.

Fair Park of Shreveport visited in Texas to wallop Marshall, 27-0. Abbeville's class A entry fought Lafayette's double-A team to a 7-7 standstill. Jonesboro-Hodge downed Bossier City 12-0; Sulphur went on a scoring spree to top Byrd of Shreveport 32-0; Warren Easton of New Orleans had to overcome a stout Bogalusa defense to win 6-0; Catholic high of Baton Rouge beat Bastrop 19-0; Ouachita rolled to a 48-14 win over Homer; Jennings downed Morgan City 27-6 and Menard of Alexandria beat New Iberia 27-14.

Terrebonne, regarded as a championship contender again this season, failed to live up to advance notices as they lost to Lake Charles Kimball's three touchdowns weren't enough to overcome a determined Lake Charles crew. Glenn Hathaway started the Lake Charles scoring in the first quarter on a six-yard dash. Charles Nourrcier got a pair of six-pointers with Jerry Lewis' conversion being one of the most important in his career.

Quillan solved the Bolton defense early and led Baton Rouge to its smashing triumph. J. D. Bookman also shared hero honors for the night, scoring on a 19-yard run and passing to end Ernest Kelly for Baton Rouge's finally tally.

Fair Park, long a power in north Louisiana prep football, gave indications that it had its sights on a championship season by walloping the Texans. A. L. Williams got Fair Park off to a fast start with a score in the first quarter. Tommy Davis tallied Fair Park's second tally late in the third quarter and seven minutes later Davis hit pay dirt for the second time. Quarterback Gene Saur concluded the Fair Park scoring with a touchdown late in the game, Keats Mullikin scored the Texans' lone tally.

Little Abbeville, sparked by Allen Peltier's 19-yard scoring run, fought Lafayette to a standstill. Lafayette scored on Frank Foreman's 27-yard dash.

Jonesboro-Hodge was powered by Kenneth Brown's two touchdowns in beating Bossier City. The defensive play of end Jerry Garvin stood out as he blocked both tries for extra points.

Warren Easton barely made its second start of the season a winning one, scoring a lone tally late in the fourth quarter to down Bogalusa. Jack Cahill's one - yard dash gave the Orleanians the edge.

Jimmy Lieux's two touchdowns sparked Catholic high against Bastrop in an inter-district game. A converted guard, Lieux scored twice from his fullback position with Bernard Lafaso adding the final touchdown.

Sulphur had a field night as it romped over Byrd. John Scofield ignited the Sulphur attack with a score in the first two minutes of the game and the Tornadoes breezed to victory, with Wayne Bourgeois, Jimmy Deaton and Jerry Wilburn getting into the scoring column.

Halfback Frank Mobley's three touchdowns in the first quarter paced Ouachita's lop - sided win over Homer. Mobley tallied three times in the first quarter and passed to a pair of touchdowns to Jerry Sikes and Norman Goza in the second stanza. Final quarter Ouachita scores were made by Goza and W. D. Perkins. John Robert Thomas and Charles Land tallied Homer's scores.

Jennings routed Morgan City in the season's opener for Jennings. Denny Marshall and John Prather collected first quarter scores, with Richard Clement and Charles Sonnier adding the final Jennings tallies. Roger Gaudet's seven-yard run accounted for Morgan City's lone score.

And Menard of Alexandria joined Abbeville in upsetting a double-A opponent when two Menard touchdowns in the final quarter spelled defeat for New Iberia. Dan Valdez' first quarter pass to Davis Valdez clocked for Menard's first score. Dan Valdez and Bob Mahfouz added the winning scores in the fourth quarter. Chick LaBauve and Del Bergeron scored for New Iberia.

Mansfield Loses To Jena, 48 To 7

JENA, Sept. 13 (Special)—Jean defeated Mansfield Friday, 46 to 7, behind the passing and running of Neil Thompson. Manchester scored four touchdowns, three on the ground and one on a pass from quarterback Thompson. Otwell scored on a pass from Thompson which was good for 55 yards and paydirt. Thompson also intercepted a pass and carried it 55 yards for another score, and Dan Andrews made his score on a 1-yard plunge. The final two points came from a blocked punt which resulted in a safety.

Mansfield gained their lone tally on a pass from Reynolds to Martin.

Jena made 312 yards rushing and 127 through the air and Mansfield collected 48 yards on the ground and 212 passing.

RACING 'SISTERS' SHARE BELDAME

Real Delight, Next Move Cop Split Of Aqueduct Event

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Two daughters of Bull Lea did themselves proud today as Calumet farms Real Delight and Alfred Gynne Vanderbilt's Next Move won split divisions of the rich Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct.

Next Move had an easy time in the first section, hitting the wire three lengths before the closest pursuer, but had to survive a claim of foul before dragging down $43,400 from a gross pot of $62,000.

It was a different story in the second division, as Real Delight and Eddie Arcaro had a battle right down to the finish before the Calumet star won in the final few jumps. They made it, however, and Real Delights share of the $62,000 in this scramble was $42,400.

Both were timed in 1:51 flat on a fast track, so maybe they'd have had a dead heat if they were in together. In fact, there was a dead heat in the 1942 Beldame, between Vagrancy and Barrancosa, with Arcaro who now has won this event four times, abroad Barrancosa.

Real Delight, a bay three-year-old daughter of Bull Lea—Blue Delight, got home three-quarters of a length ahead of the Woodvale farms Marta with Marian O'Connor's La Corredora third in the field of nine fillies and mares in the second division.

Real Delight paid $3.20, $2.70 and $2.40 and had highweight of 126 pounds.

Next move won the Beldame in 1950. It seemed for about 15 minutes they might take her number down this time after Jockey Nick Wall, riding Clifford Mooer's Miss Traffic, claimed a foul against Eric Guerin, aboard the Vanderbilt mare.

But after studying the movies, they let the result stand. Many in the sweltering crowd of 32,651 booed loudly, for it was obvious Next Move had drifted out near the head of the stretch and bothered Miss Traffic as well as Louis B. Mayer's Princess Lygia, the pace-setter.

Next Move had 125 pounds, and she now is the third leading money leading mare with $398,550, trailing Bewitch and Gallorette.

She paid $4.60, $3.40 and $2.80.

William Ransome Gall Baker is said to be the only man to have a television station named for him. It's station WRGB at Schenectady, N. Y.

MALONE NAMES 39-PLAYER INDIAN ROSTER

NORTHEAST AIMS FOR S'EAST TILT SATURDAY NIGHT

As Freshmen Go So Go The Redskins This Season

With a light load of "actual combat experience," but two weeks of hard work behind them, the Northeast State Indian gridders begin their last week of practice tomorrow in preparation for their opening game against the Lions of Southeastern Louisiana next Saturday night at Hammond.

With the two weeks of hard work behind them, and classes forcing a slowup of drills, the Indians still have plenty of work to do to be ready to face the Lions.

Head grid Coach James L. Malone has announced a 39-player roster for the 1952 Indian squad. With a good percentage of men on this years squad coming from the freshman class, Malone is counting heavily on the past two weeks' scrimmages to have them prepared to play the type of ball necessary to keep up with the competiton on the Indians' '52 schedule.

The men named to the Indian squad are:

Centers — Johnny Goodwin, Charles Calhoun, Gene Clark and Sammy Moore.

Guards — George Chambers, Doyle Craighead, Tommy Wilson, Percy Wheeler, Robert Parker, Jim Roberts and C. J. Millasaint.

Tackles — Pat Marnell, Wayne Corkran, Joe Harrison, Bill B[illegible]la, Francis Yocom, Robert Winkle and Sherrod McKoin.

Ends — Jack Brown, Charles Dortch, Herbert Manley, Vernon Wilson, Jim Knox, Ronald Gunter, Robert Gunter and Johnny Schmidt.

Named by Malone for backfield positions are: Donald Dedon, Lloyd Ray, Mark Boatright, Jimmy Childress, Eddie Brister, Vincent Zappone, Ed Plonsky, Louis Phelps, Camillo Detore, Press Berry, Bill Lee, Maurice Nix and Billy Joe Milstead.

Of these backfield men, the only definite assignments are Ray, Dedon and Boatright at quarterback and Childress and Zappone in the fullback slot. Malone has been switching the other men around to fit them in their most effective position.

Injuries received by Press Berry in Friday evening scrimmages are reported to be not serious. However, it isn't known whether he will be able to play at Hammond.

Passing assignments, which as it appears now will be a heavy part of the Indian offense, will fall to Ray and Boatright, with punting going off from the feet of Childress and Dedon. Childress, a sophomore non-letterman at Northeast last year, boots right footed, while Dedon, a freshman from Baton Rouge, uses his left.

Malone has spent the past two weeks putting special emphasis on fundamentals and physical conditioning. He announced to his squad Thursday that some of them would have to do duty on both offense and defense.

Labor Day was the first time that many of the men had worked together, and for this reason, Malone has put considerable stress on teamwork.

Individual and group spirit is quite high, but every man knows that he has a lot to do before he's ready to play against Southeasterns.

According to Malone, those of the freshmen, who up to the last two or three days have been "not up to expectations," have improved considerably. Since the team is heavily staffed with first year men, their development is of great importance, and the outcome of the Northeast State grid schedule rests heavily on how they turn out as college gridders.

Twin Cities Feminine Golf Gab

These past several scorching months has seen very few lady golfers wielding clubs around the three local golf courses, but now that the weather is getting cooler and we have at last had some RAIN, and too don't forget that school has started, lots of feminine golfers will be participating in handicap affairs, sweepstakes and last, but by no means least, the various tournaments planned for the very near future.

Quite a few ladies interested in golf are expected to participate in the Ladies' Day activities at their respective clubs each week, weather permitting.

McGuire Park Club in West Monroe hold their Ladies' Day on Tuesday and there is quite an array of participants.

At Bayou DeSiard Country Club each Wednesday has been designated as Ladies' Day and enthusiasm seems on the upgrade.

Ladies' Day at the Municipal Club is Friday each week and participants are increasing weekly. It is hoped by the three clubs that additional interest and play will result through this medium. So girls, let's get out to our club on these days. What you say?

Last week McGuire Park held its first Ladies' Day event of the season and, although it was hot, four tried and true lovers of the sport, turned up. Louise Eaves was the winner over Mary Irby, Bernice Watkins and Cynthia Feazel. Absent, but expected to be on hand next week, were: Mrs. Rachel Moses, Mrs. Blanche Maxwell, Mrs. Marie Pohlman, Mary Frost, Mrs. Tony Sword, Mrs. Stewart Scott, Mrs. Kenny Holt, Mrs. E. B. Peddy, Jr., and Mrs. W. C. Tucker.

Out at Bayou DeSiard Liz Miller and Suzanne Kellogg depart Tuesday for Evansville, Ind., to participate in an invitational golf meet at the Fendrick Golf and Country Club. Only 50 invitations were mailed, so congratulations are in order for these two fine women golfers.

We wish them luck.

Quite a few feminine players at Bayou DeSiard were seen the past week on the course that had been absent for some time. So we welcome back to the Wednesday play Thelma Faust, of Rayville; Florence Garrison, Aileen Guthrie and Juanita Crow. Club weilders absent, but expected next Wednesday are: Dit Cutler, Marie McCleary, Betty Gray, Ethel Boordman, Virginia Guerriero, Nadie Thatcher, Ruth Kelso, Dot Nash, Winnie Shaver, Olive Munholland, Mary Shamblin, Kent Millsaps, Helen Sherrouse, Margaret Davis, Como Prophit and Bessie Biedenharn.

Mrs. C. B. McMahan won last Wednesday's event with a low net of 34. Mrs. Charles Garretson won the low putt prize with on 12 putts. Other players and their net scores were: Mrs. Guy Campbell, 40; Mrs. George Beekman, 40; Mrs. Aileen Guthrie, 44; Mrs. Walter Kellogg, 44; Mrs. George Miller, 39; Mrs. Landry Ducote, 42; Mrs. W. C. Summer, 40; Mrs. G. L. Morgan, 43; Mrs. Ray Faust, 48; Mrs. Fred Fudickar, 39; Mrs. Clark Upp, 44; Mrs. Allan Barham, 41; Mrs. E. N. Hemphill, 38; Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, 39; and Mrs. Shep Girault and Mrs. Juanita Crow, no score.

Friday morning a nice turnout was on hand at Muny's Ladies' Day meet. Mrs. Goldie Copes, president of the Muny Ladies' Day Golf Association, deserves credit for this turnout.

Mrs. Carroll Summer was the winner last Friday at Muny with a low net of 32. Second low was Mrs. Eck Wheeler with 34. Mrs. H. N. McSherry won the putting award with 15 putts. Others participating were: Mrs. Jim Shamblin, Mrs. Dent Brown, Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. Jimmie Harbuck, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Joe Marx, Mrs. George Beekman, Mrs. Lester High, Mrs. John Oakland, Mrs. J. S. Williams, Mrs. Merton Abbington and Mrs. Landry Ducote.

Three new members were welcomed this week. Dorothy Williams, Trudy Aaron and Mary Shamblin.

Liz Miller and Suzanne Kellogg journeyed to Hodge last week and each won prizes. Liz won the championship flight and Suzanne was first flight consolation winner. Others journeying to Hodge were: Georgia Summer, Helen Campbell and Goldie Copes.

Only sad thought around the Bayou DeSiard Country Club these days is the approaching departure of Lawrence Crummett, assistant pro, who has received his "Greetings" card from dear old Uncle Sam. Lawrence leaves on the 18th and will be greatly missed.

Helen Wheeler showed her face at DeSiard C. C. last week after a long absence suffering from a sprained ankle.

Ruston Triumphs In Final Minutes

RUSTON, La., Sept. 13 (Special)—The Ruston High School Bearcats, who face one of their biggest tests in Ouachita of Monroe here next Friday night, knocked off double-A Haynesville, 7 to 0, here last night when Glenn Sandifer broke around left end for the winning touchdown in the waning seconds of play.

Sandifer scored from one yard out. Haynesville had repeatedly repulsed Ruston scoring threats before weakening as time ran out. The Bearcats were able to gain almost at will outside the Tornado's 20.

Charley Barham, leading Class A scorer in north Louisiana last season, and Fullback Bill Smith also were outstanding in the Ruston offense while defensive standouts for Coach "Hoss" Garrett's eleven were Tackles "Red" Deloney and Pat Hinton and Ends Lane Martin and David Oxford.

Washington Bidding For College Rowing Regatta

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Officials of the Washington Rowing Association said today they hope the intercollegiate rowing championships (known for years as the Poughkeepsie Regatta) can be switched to the Potomac.

Stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association will come here Tuesday to look over a three-mile course laid out by the army corps of engineers.

For years the championships were held at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. In 1950 and 1951, they were switched to Marietta, O. Last June they were held at Syracuse.

Newellton Bows To Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND, Sept. 13.—(Special)—The Sicily Island gridders defeated Newellton in the curtain-raiser here Friday night by the score of 19-0.

The Islander's two halfbacks, Cecil Thurman and Carey Pearson figured in all the scoring, Pearson scoring the first TD, Thurman the second in the second quarter on a beautiful 50 yard dash off tackle, and Pearson scoring again in the fourth period after taking a 20 yard toss from Thurman. The extra point in the fourth period was also kicked by a Thurman, this time Faye, a fullback.

Nezellton played a very scrappy game, and Sicily Island's defensive line played excellent ball.

Saigh Demands St. Louis Television For N. Y. Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, threatened Friday night to withdraw his team from any games televised from the Polo Grounds unless permission is Cardinals-New York Giants' game into St. Louis.

Sunday's game is the third game this season scheduled by Saigh for televising into St. Louis.

But Friday night he said sponsors of the New York game had refused permission.

"If the game can't be televised into St. Louis then I won't permit my club to engage in any game that is televised from the Polo Grounds," Saigh said.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, replied:

Monroe Bulldogs Take First Game

The Monroe Colored High Bulldogs, spearheaded by spectacular running of E. Spears, came from behind to outscore the North Little Rock Tigers of Arkansas, 25-20, Friday.

The Tigers recovered a fumble on the Bulldogs' 30-yard line in the first quarter and went for the first touchdown of the game. The Tigers pass for the extra point was good.

E. Spears scored the Bulldogs first touchdown from their own 30 on a 70-yard sprint. Monroe's fullback failed to drive over for the extra point. Just before the half ended Worthy's 45-yard dash set up the Bulldogs second touchdown. A flat pass to End E. Reed, who carried two would be tacklers over, accounted for their second touchdown. Another pass to E. Spears for the extra point put Monroe out in front 13-7. Late in the second quarter on two successive passes the Tigers scored and tied the scores at 13-13. Guard J. Spears blocked the Tiger's try for the extra point.

Early in the second half E. Spears scampered off tackle for 65 yard for Monroe's third touchdown to go out in front again 19-13.

A pass to Holman set up the Bulldogs fourth and final touchdown which was climaxed with a 10 yard drive. In the last minutes of play the Tigers recovered a Monroe fumble which enabled them to score their last touchdown making the scores 25-20 in Monroe's favor.

FROGS IMPORTED

CORNER BROOK, Canada (AP)—This west coast Newfoundland town has imported 300 frogs for a horticultural job. The croakers have been distributed in flower-filled areas to keep down insects.

Farmerville Tops Oak Grove, 6 To 0

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 13 (Special)—In a strictly defensive ball game, Farmerville scored early in the first quarter to defeat the Oak Grove Tigers here Friday night, 6-0.

The game was played on fairly even terms, with an Oak Grove fumble paving the way for the Farmer's score. The TD was scored by Billy Nolan, who also took the opening kickoff from his own 25 to the Oak Grove 42.

The game ended with the Tigers pounding at the Farmer's door, but time ran out before they could reach paydirt. Although Farmerville had eight first downs to Oak Grove's three, the issue was in doubt with the Tigers going full steam in the final half.

Injuries received by Press Berry in Friday evening scrimmages are reported to be not serious. However, it isn't known whether he will be able to play at Hammond.

Passing assignments, which as it appears now will be a heavy part of the Indian offense, will fall to Ray and Boatright, wtih punting going off from the feet of Childress and Dedon. Childress, a sophomore non-letterman at Northeast last year, boots right footed, while Dedon, a freshman from Baton Rouge, uses his left.

Malone has spent the past two weeks putting special emphasis on fundamentals and physical conditioning. He announced to his squad Thursday that some of them would have to do duty on both offense and defense.

Labor Day was the first time that many of the men had worked together, and for this reason, Malone has put considerable stress on teamwork.

Individual and group spirit is quite high, but every man knows that he has a lot to do before he's ready to play against Southeastern.

According to Malone, those of the freshmen, who up to the last two or three days have been "not up to expectations," have improved consideratly. Since the team is heavily staffed with first year men, their development is of great importance, and the outcome of the Northeast State grid schedule rests heavily on how they turn out as college gridders.

GETS REINDOCTRINATION

HONG KONG (AP)— The Communist part newspaper Ta Kung Pao in Chungking, wartime capital of China, seems to have strayed from the party line with dire results for the strayees.

A dispatch from Chungking says 90 per cent of the staff has been sent off to "reform school" for reindoctrination, and the circulation manager was marched off to Peoples Court.

The dispatch said an office boy got the circulation manager's job and a couple of typesetters moved up to editorial positions.

Twin Cities Feminine Golf Gab

These past several scorching months has seen very few lady golfers wielding clubs around the three local golf courses, but now that the weather is getting cooler and we have at last had some RAIN, and too don't forget that school has started, lots of feminine golfers will be participating in handicap affairs, sweepstakes and last, but by no means least, the various tournaments planned for the very near future.

Quite a few ladies interested in golf are expected to participate in the Ladies' Day activities at their respective clubs each week, weather permitting.

McGuire Park Club in West Monroe hold their Ladies' Day on Tuesday and there is quite an array of participants.

At Bayou DeSiard Country Club each Wednesday has been designated as Ladies' Day and enthusiasm seems on the upgrade.

Ladies' Day at the Municipal Club is Friday each week and participants are increasing weekly. It is hoped by the three clubs that additional interest and play will result through this medium. So girls, let's get out to our club on these days. What you say?

Last week McGuire Park held its first Ladies' Day event of the season and, although it was hot, four tried and true lovers of the sport, turned up. Louise Eaves was the winner over Mary Irby, Bernice Watkins and Cynthia Feazel. Absent, but expected to be on hand next week, were: Mrs. Rachel Moses, Mrs. Blanche Maxwell, Mrs. Marie Pohlman, Mary Frost, Mrs. Tony Sword, Mrs. Stewart Scott, Mrs. Kenny Holt, Mrs. E. B. Peddy, Jr., and Mrs. W. C. Tucker.

Out at Bayou DeSiard Liz Miller and Suzanne Kellogg depart Tuesday for Evansville, Ind., to participate in an invitational golf meet at the Fendrick Golf and Country Club. Only 50 invitations were mailed, so congratulations are in order for these two fine women golfers.

We wish them luck.

Quite a few feminine players at Bayou DeSiard were seen the past week on the course that had been absent for some time. So we welcome back to the Wednesday play Thelma Faust, of Rayville; Florence Garrison, Aileen Guthrie and Juanita Crow. Club weilders absent, but expected next Wednesday are: Dit Cutler, Marie McCleary, Betty Gray, Ethel Boordman, Virginia Guerriero, Nadie Thatcher, Ruth Kelso, Dot Nash, Winnie Shaver, Olive Munholland, Mary Shamblin, Kent Millsaps, Helen Sherrouse, Margaret Davis, Como Prophit and Bessie Biedenharn.

Mrs. C. B. McMahan won last Wednesday's event with a low net of 34. Mrs. Charles Garretson won the low putt prize with on 12 putts. Other players and their net scores were: Mrs. Guy Campbell, 40; Mrs. George Beekman, 40; Mrs. Aileen Guthrie, 44; Mrs. Walter Kellogg, 44 ;Mrs. George Miller, 39; Mrs. Landry Ducote, 42; Mrs. W. C. Summer, 40; Mrs. G. L. Morgan, 43; Mrs. Ray Faust, 48; Mrs. Fred Fudickar, 39; Mrs. Clark Upp, 44; Mrs. Allan Barham, 41; Mrs. E. N. Hemphill, 38; Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, 39; and Mrs. Shep Girault and Mrs. Juanita Crow, no score.

Friday morning a nice turnout was on hand at Muny's Ladies' Day meet. Mrs. Goldie Copes, president of the Muny Ladies' Day Golf Association, deserves credit for this turnout.

Mrs. Carroll Summer was the winner last Friday at Muny with a low net of 32. Second low was Mrs. Eck Wheeler with 34. Mrs. H. N. McSherry won the putting award with 15 putts. Others participating were: Mrs. Jim Shamblin, Mrs. Dent Brown, Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. Jimmie Harbuck, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Joe Marx, Mrs. George Beekman, Mrs. Lester High, Mrs. John Oakland, Mrs. J. S. Williams, Mrs. Merton Abbington and Mrs. Landry Ducote.

Three new members were welcomed this week. Dorothy Williams, Trudy Aaron and Mary Shamblin.

Liz Miller and Suzanne Kellogg journeyed to Hodge last week and each won prizes. Liz won the championship flight and Suzanne was first flight consolation winner. Others journeying to Hodge were: Georgia Summer, Helen Campbell and Goldie Copes.

Only sad thought around the Bayou DeSiard Country Club these days is the approaching departure of Lawrence Crummett, assistant pro, who has received his "Greetings" card from dear old Uncle Sam. Lawrence leaves on the 16th and will be greatly missed.

Helen Wheeler showed her face at DeSiard C. C. last week after a long absence suffering from a sprained ankle.

Ruston Triumphs In Final Minutes

RUSTON, La., Sept. 13 (Special)—The Ruston High School Bearcats, who face one of their biggest tests in Ouachita of Monroe here next Friday night, knocked off double-A Haynesville, 7 to 0, here last night when Glenn Sandifer broke around left end for the winning touchdown in the waning seconds of play.

Sandifer scored from one yard out. Haynesville had repeatedly repulsed Ruston scoring threats before weakening as time ran out. The Bearcats were able to gain almost at will outside the Tornado's 20.

Charley Barham, leading Class A scorer in north Louisiana last season, and Fullback Bill Smith also were outstanding in the Ruston offense while defensive standouts for Coach "Hoss" Garrett's eleven were Tackles "Red" Deloney and Pat Hinton and Ends Lane Martin and David Oxford.

Washington Bidding For College Rowing Regatta

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Officials of the Washington Rowing Association said today they hope the intercollegiate rowing championships (known for years as the Poughkeepsie Regatta) can be switched to the Potomac.

Stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association will come here Tuesday to look over a three-mile course laid out by the army corps of engineers.

For years the championships were held at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. In 1950 and 1951, they were switched to Marietta, O. Last June they were held at Syracuse.

Newellton Bows To Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND, Sept. 13.—(Special)—The Sicily Island gridders defeated Newellton in the curtain-raiser here Friday night by the score of 19-0.

The Islander's two halfbacks, Cecil Thurman and Carey Pearson figured in all the scoring, Pearson scoring the first TD, Thurman the second in the second quarter on a beautiful 50 yard dash off tackle, and Pearson scoring again in the fourth period after taking a 20 yard toss from Thurman. The extra point in the fourth period was also kicked by a Thurman, this time Faye, a fullback.

Nezellton played a very scrappy game, and Sicily Island's defensive line played excellent ball.

Saigh Demands St. Louis Television For N. Y. Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, threatened Friday night to withdraw his team from any games televised from the Polo Grounds unless permission is Cardinals-New York Giants' game into St. Louis.

Sunday's game is the third game this season scheduled by Saigh for televising into St. Louis.

But Friday night he said sponsors of the New York game had refused permission.

"If the game can't be televised into St. Louis then I won't permit my club to engage in any game that is televised from the Polo Grounds," Saigh said.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, replied:

Monroe Bulldogs Take First Game

The Monroe Colored High Bulldogs, spearheaded by spectacular running of E. Spears, came from behind to outscore the North Little Rock Tigers of Arkansas, 25-20, Friday.

The Tigers recovered a fumble on the Bulldogs' 30-yard line in the first quarter and went for the first touchdown of the game. The Tigers pass for the extra point was good.

E. Spears scored the Bulldogs first touchdown from their own 30 on a 70-yard sprint. Monroe's fullback failed to drive over for the extra point. Just before the half ended Worthy's 45-yard dash set up the Bulldogs second touchdown. A flat pass to End E. Reed, who carried two would be tacklers over, accounted for their second touchdown. Another pass to E. Spears for the extra point put Monroe out in front 13-7. Late in the second quarter on two successive passes the Tigers scored and tied the scores at 13-13. Guard J. Spears blocked the Tiger's try for the extra point.

Early in the second half E. Spears scampered off tackle for 65 yard for Monroe's third touchdown to go out in front again 19-13.

A pass to Holman set up the Bulldogs fourth and final touchdown which was climaxed with a 10 yard drive. In the last minutes of play the Tigers recovered a Monroe fumble which enabled them to score their last touchdown making the scores 25-20 in Monroe's favor.

FROGS IMPORTED

CORNER BROOK, Canada (AP)—This west coast Newfoundland town has imported 300 frogs for a horticultural job. The croakers have been distributed in flower-filled areas to keep down insects.

Farmerville Tops Oak Grove, 6 To 0

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 13 (Special)—In a strictly defensive ball game, Farmerville scored early in the first quarter to defeat the Oak Grove Tigers here Friday night, 6-0.

The game was played on fairly even terms, with an Oak Grove fumble paving the way for the Farmer's score. The TD was scored by Billy Nolan, who also took the opening kickoff from his own 25 to the Oak Grove 42.

The game ended with the Tigers pounding at the Farmer's door, but time ran out before they could reach paydirt. Although Farmerville had eight first downs to Oak Grove's three, the issue was in doubt with the Tigers going full steam in the final half.

NEVILLE MEETS HOMER MACHINE IN HOME OPENER

Both Seek To Rebound From Losses In 'A' Battle

The Neville High School Tigers and the Homer High School Pelicans, both smarting from losses the past week, open their Class A conference campaign against each other here next Friday night at Neville Stadium.

It will be the home opener for Coach Bill Ruple's Bengals who move into their own stadium suffering losses to Bolton of Alexandria (21-0) and Natchez, Miss., (21-8). The Pelicans smashed Cotton Valley in their season opener 27-0, but fell before the Ouachita Lions here Friday night 48-14.

Actually, the Tigers fared better at Natchez than had been expected as the Rebels are usually a power in the Big Eight conference of Mississippi and had been heavily touted to roll over the Tigers.

While there have been observations that Neville "hasn't got it" this year, the faithful followers of the Forsythe Avenue boys will get a chance to see for themselves in the Pelican encounter, the first of only four home games billed for the Bengals. It will be the only game for Neville here until Haynesville moves in October 3.

Homer and Neville will be meeting for the eighth time with the Pelicans having won four while losing three. Last year the Tigers dropped the Pelicans, 32-0, the most lopsided score in their series that began in 1937 ended after the 1938 season, and was resumed in 1945.

RESERVOIR PLANNED

HONG KONG (AP)— This British crown colony is going to build a huge reservoir to try to lick its perennial water shortage.

The dam, 1,000 feet long and 150 feet high, will be erected in a nearby valley. Work will begin before the end of the year. It probably will take three years to complete the dam. The reservoir will store 1,150,000,000 gallons of water.

Hong Kong has been on water rations for several years because the population has been trebled by refugees from Communist China.

La. College Wildcat Squad Culled To Roster Of 42 Players For '52

Coach Jimmy Keeth Announces His Squad For Season

PINEVILLE, Sept. 13 (Special)—Louisiana College's original 63 grid tryouts for the 1952 season have been narrowed down to the official squad for the year. The Wildcat squad will consist of 41 men representing six states of the union: Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Georgia, Oklahoma, and Connecticut.

Seven Cat ends will be found on the regular squad list. Two are 195-pound Woodry Smith of Jennings, and 185-pound Lorenzo Gladden of Manchester, Ga. Smith is a big, aggressive ball player with a reputation for catching the ball. He has been showing some nice receiving in practice. Gladden is the same consistent end that he has shown himself in former seasons with a marked improvement in his receiving. Also on the end list are two returning squad members, Louis Jeans of Basile, scaling 180, and Clayton Bullard of Hamilton, Tex., scaling 190.

Jerry Ward of Alexandria, a transfer student, will be found on the Wildcat end roster weighing 195. The remaining two are entirely new men, Marion Townsend of Bunkie at 165 pounds, and Malcolm Smith of Baton Rouge at 170 pounds.

Coach Jimmy Keeth will draw centers from his new men with the exception of one, Chester Manuel of Basile. Manuel is a 1951 squadman weighing 180 pounds. The others are Bobby Starr, Minden, 210 pounds; Lafayette Crouch, Shreveport, 170 pounds; Lewis "Bobo" Baker, Bossier City, 180 pounds, and Willis Strother, Pineville, 190 pounds.

There is nothing lacking among the Wildcat tackles. Returning will be all-conference Gene Bullard of Hamilton, Tex., weighing 250 pounds and more powerful than ever. Also returning are the following experienced men: George Walker, Alexandria, 195 - pound letterman; Hardin Lewis, Alexandria, 195 pounds; and Clifton Randall, Olla, 210 pounds. Additional weight is tallied with Ray Bankston, Baton Rouge, 230, and Rodney Granger, Columbus, Miss., 225. Another new tackle will be Tommy Summerlin, Shreveport, 190 pounds.

If a poll were taken on "Who's Who Among Louisiana College Guards," 190-pound Harold Broussard, Jennings, would have to head the list. He returns to Louisiana College for his climactic year with the Cats. Other guards with power not to be scoffed at are Glenn Meredith, Columbia, at 195; Lynn McCord, New Orleans, 190; Frank James, Olla, 185; T. W. Terral, Jena, 190; and Bill Crow, Arcadia, 180. Some more experience will be found in Leslie Smith, Natchez, Miss., and Pat Green, 1951 All-State high school player of Shreveport, scaling 170.

Ten backs are returning from the 1951 squad. This is the experience that will be of great value to the Wildcats. Returning are J. B. Perkins, Oakdale, 185 pounds, known for his powerful drive; Ralph Lane, Alexandria, 170 pounds, known for his dependability under fire; John Warner, Winnfield, 170 pounds, known for his speed; Ernie Duplechin, Basile, 185 pounds, known for his aggression and speed; Charles Washington, Vivian, 185 pounds, known for his all-around playing ability; Martin Verhagen, Tallulah, 170 pounds; Bill Smelley, Arcadia, 165 pounds; T. H. Mercer, Winnsboro, 165 pounds; A. J. Cicardo, Alexandria, 160 pounds, an excellant passer; and Ted Bullock, Alexandria, an excellent kicker, 170 pounds. They will be joined by four new men, Wade Alexander, Columbus, Miss., 155 pounds; L. W. Alexander, Baton Rouge, 165, Jim Jossick, of Bridgeport, Conn., 180; and Clyde "Sonny" Clark, Tallulah, 170.

These 41 men are being prepared by Coach Keeth for the job of meeting a ten game schedule for 1952. The schedule will officially open with the game at Huntsville, Tex., September 20, with Sam Houston State Teachers' College. The finishing touches will be put to the squad next week by Coach Keeth and Assistant Coach Ray Busby.

STRANAHAN GETS WARD IN FINALS

Old Rivals Battle Today For Western Amateur Title

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)— Frank Stranahan and Harvie Ward swept through the Western Amateur golf semi-finals today to set up a championship feud prolonged since last June when the two rivals tangled at Prestwick, Scotland.

The 25-year-old Ward, at that time, trounced Frank 6 and 5 in the finals of the British Amateur. The Toledo star has been seeking revenge in a major meeting ever since.

The 36-hold title match starting at 8:30 a. m. CST tomorrow developed into a natural when Stranahan, the defending champion and seeking his fourth western amateur crown, played a game of constant, brilliant recovery shots to defeat Robert Knowles, Beverly Farms, Mass., 4 and 2.

Ward, the consistent Atlantan who won the 1949 National Intercollegiate crown, made the final duel complete in the other 36 hole semi-final match by eliminating Dale Morey, Martinsville, Ind., 3 and 2.

It will be the fourth match-play competitive bout between Stranahan, 30, and the handsome Ward. Ward downed the Toledo strong boy 1 up to win the 1948 North and South Amateur crown. Stranahan beat Ward 2 and 1 in the same finals the next year.

Winnsboro Downs Lake Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Sept. 13 (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats nosed out the Lake Providence Panthers, 14 to 13, here last night in a rugged battle that saw Steve Thompson providing the winning spark for the 'Cats, while Clements and Schneider led the Panther offense.

Eugene Southern scored from one yard out to give Winnsboro the opening wedge in the first quarter, and Thompson kicked the point. A short time later Thompson broke away for 56 yards and paydirt. He followed with the point that proved the margin of victory.

W. Deal counted first for Lake Providence on a four-yard line plunge, and a pass, Trieschman to L. Clement, brought the next in a 30-yard gain. But Clement was able to boot only one point and that proved the difference.

Scott Calls On Rex Mobley For Aid Against Harrell, McDonald Tag Team

Relay Brawl Headlines Kallio's Mat Card Tuesday

"Mighty" Scott, the world's light heavyweight wrestling champion, has called in an ex-holder of his crown, Rex Mobley, to side him in an effort to conquer the tag team of Henry Harrell and "Sockeye" McDonald in the featured match at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night.

Promoter Kallio last night announced that Mobley, a ring wise veteran from Texas City, Tex., welcomed Scott's invitation to join him against the Harrell-McDonald combination.

The Scottish champion, on the losing end of a scramble against Harrell and McDonald last week with the Black Phantom as his partner, blamed his noble teammate for much of their troubles the past week, challenging for a return scramble with a new partner.

"It will take some mighty smart wrestling to beat Mobley," Scott declared. "Mobley can work any style, clean and smoothe or rough and vicious. I like his style and feel sure I've found the partner at last that I have been looking for."

Scott and the Phantom, currently the most villainous pair on the southern mat circuit, had been roughing up all opposition (even when losing by disqualifications) until they ran into Harrell and McDonald last week.

Harrell, the "alley battler" from Knoxville and Vicksburg, and McDonald, seasoned former Oregon lumberjack, had made their first stop here last week after a long absence and were well received by Kallio's customers.

Kallio last night announced ringtime will be advanced to 8 o'clock Tuesday night as he begins his winter starting times.

The relay main event will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win. A pair of one-fall preliminaries will serve to warm up the main event talent.

BELGIAN MINES

BRUSSELS (AP)— Fifty-one thousand out of the 160,000 coal-miners working in Belgium's pits are Italians, according to the Belgian minister of labor.

The total figure for foreign labor in Belgian coal mines is 72,081. Next in order are the 8,287 Poles, 3,036 Dutch, 2,092 Germans, 1,356 French, 1,320 Ukrainians and 1,092 North Africans.

Quail Restocking To End Program As Cash Cut Off

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13 (Special)—The Wild Life and Fisheries Department of the state of Louisiana is now distributing quail for restocking throughout the state, in what will be the last major quail distribution effort of this department, according to a statement issued by Ernest S. Clements, commissioner.

Because the legislature's appropriation was vetoed for a continuance of this restocking program, purchase of 40,000 quail for liberation in Louisiana this year, out of funds appropriated by the Governor Earl K. Long administration will be the final step in Commissioner Clements' program.

In mid-August, the first shipments of quail began arriving and they are now being distributed throughout the parishes of Louisiana where quail habitat is suitable.

When these 40,000 have been liberated they will complete a total of approximately 170,000 quail released under Commissioner Clements' restocking program. In addition to the quail, approximately 1,000 wild turkeys are to be shipped in and released this fall to complete the turkey phase of restocking.

The money for their purchase also came from legislative appropriations during the Long administration, and as no more money is now available, restocking of quail, turkeys, deer and squirrels will come to an end.

J-H Tigers Upset Bossier City, 12-0

BOSSIER CITY La., Sept. 13 (Special) — An underdog Jonesboro-Hodge High School eleven stunned a bungling band of Bossier City High Bearkats here last night as the Class A tigers upset the double-A B. C. outfit, 12 to 0.

The victory was regarded as a healthy rebound for the Bengals who bowed before Ouachita of Monroe a week earlier, 34 to 0.

Kenneth "Zero" Brown, classy Jonesboro - Hodge back, counted both Tiger touchdowns, the first t the second period on a four-yar plunge and the other in the las quarter from three yards out.

Jonesboro-Hodge rolled for elev en first downs against four fo Bossier City while rushing for 20 yards and completing four passe for 35. B. C. was held to 85 yard rushing and completed one pas for 30.

Score by quarters:

Jonesboro-Hodge	0 6 0 6—1

OUACHITA GETS TEST OF POWER IN RUSTON TIL

Game Scheduled For Nex Friday Night On 'Cat Field

In addition to furnishing the Oua chita Parish High School Lion their final tuneup before enterin Class AA competition, the Ruston High School Bearcats are figure to give the Lions their stiffest pre conference test next Friday nigh at Ruston.

While Ouachita was slammin Class A Homer, 48-14, here las Friday, Ruston was dumping on double-A opponent, Haynesville, b a 7-0 count. Ruston's offense hel the Tornado at its mercy all nigh before finally scoring late in th game

The Lions are almost certain t be favored over Ruston, but Coac Jim Hodgins is reminding hi charges that such was the cas last year when the Bearcat clawed through O. P. H. S., 34-1

Ruston is also the defendin Class A Louisiana state cham pions, and Coach "Hoss" Garrett' charges can never be regarded to lightly

After Ruston, first road trip o the season for Ouachita which ha won two starts at home, the Lion will open their "AA" race at Ba trop on October 3. They'll pla Haynesville here the followin week and then plunge into the ver thick of the title race against suc clubs as Fair Park, Byrd and Bo sier City. Non - conference game against clubs of their own class i clude road trips to Baton Roug High and Pine Bluff.

Jones - Hodge, upset conqueror of Bossier City Friday, gave Oua chita a good opening test befor losing 34-0, but Homer was simpl outclassed here Friday night.

While there have been observations that Neville "hasn't got it" this year, the faithful followers of the Forsythe Avenue boys will get a chance to see for themselves in the Pelican encounter, the first of only four home games billed for the Bengals. It will be the only game for Neville here until Haynesville moves in October 3.

Homer and Neville will be meeting for the eighth time with the Pelicans having won four while losing three. Last year the Tigers dropped the Pelicans, 32-0, the most lopsided score in their series that began in 1937 ended after the 1938 season, and was resumed in 1945.

RESERVOIR PLANNED

HONG KONG (AP)— This British crown colony is going to build a huge reservoir to try to lick its perennial water shortage.

The dam, 1,000 feet long and 150 feet high, will be erected in a nearby valley. Work will begin before the end of the year. It probably will take three years to complete the dam. The reservoir will store 1,150,000,000 gallons of water.

Hong Kong has been on water rations for several years because the population has been trebled by refugees from Communist China.

La. College Wildcat Squad Culled To Roster Of 42 Players For '52

Coach Jimmy Keeth Announces His Squad For Season

PINEVILLE, Sept. 13 (Special)— Louisiana College's original 63 grid tryouts for the 1952 season have been narrowed down to the official squad for the year. The Wildcat squad will consist of 41 men representing six states of the union: Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Georgia, Oklahoma, and Connecticut.

Seven Cat ends will be found on the regular squad list. Two are 195-pound Woodry Smith of Jennings, and 185-pound Lorenzo Gladden of Manchester, Ga. Smith is a big, aggressive ball player with a reputation for catching the ball. He has been showing some nice receiving in practice. Gladden is the same consistent end that he has shown himself in former seasons with a marked improvement in his receiving. Also on the end list are two returning squad members, Louis Jeans of Basile, scaling 180, and Clayton Bullard of Hamilton, Tex., scaling 190.

Jerry Ward of Alexandria, a transfer student, will be found on the Wildcat end roster weighing 195. The remaining two are entirely new men, Marion Townsend of Bunkie at 165 pounds, and Malcolm Smith of Baton Rouge at 170 pounds.

Coach Jimmy Keeth will draw centers from his new men with the exception of one, Chester Manuel of Basile. Manuel is a 1951 squadman weighing 180 pounds. The others are Bobby Starr, Minden, 210 pounds; Lafayette Crouch, Shreveport, 170 pounds; Lewis "Bobo" Baker, Bossier City, 180 pounds, and Willis Strother, Pineville, 190 pounds.

There is nothing lacking among the Wildcat tackles. Returning will be all-conference Gene Bullard of Hamilton, Tex., weighing 250 pounds and more powerful than ever. Also returning are the following experienced men: George Walker, Alexandria, 195 - pound letterman; Hardin Lewis, Alexandria, 195 pounds; and Clifton Randall, Olla, 210 pounds. Additional weight is tallied with Ray Bankston, Baton Rouge, 230, and Rodney Granger, Columbus, Miss., 225. Another new tackle will be Tommy Summerlin, Shreveport, 190 pounds.

If a poll were taken on "Who's Who Among Louisiana College Guards," 190-pound Harold Broussard, Jennings, would have to head the list. He returns to Louisiana College for his climactic year with the Cats. Other guards with power not to be scoffed at are Glenn Meredith, Columbia, at 195; Lynn McCord, New Orleans, 190; Frank James, Olla, 185; T. W. Terral, Jena, 190; and Bill Crow, Arcadia, 180. Some more experience will be found in Leslie Smith, Natchez, Miss., and Pat Green, 1951 All-State high school player of Shreveport, scaling 170.

Ten backs are returning from the 1951 squad. This is the experience that will be of great value to the Wildcats. Returning are J. B. Perkins, Oakdale, 185 pounds, known for his powerful drive; Ralph Lane, Alexandria, 170 pounds, known for his dependability under fire; John Warner, Winnfield, 170 pounds, known for his speed; Ernie Duplechin, Basile, 185 pounds, known for his aggression and speed; Charles Washington, Vivian, 185 pounds, known for his all-around playing ability; Martin Verhagen, Tallulah, 170 pounds; Bill Smelley, Arcadia, 165 pounds; T. H. Mercer, Winnsboro, 165 pounds; A. J. Cicardo, Alexandria, 160 pounds, an excellant passer; and Ted Bullock, Alexandria, an excellent kicker, 170 pounds. They will be joined by four new men, Wade Alexander, Columbus, Miss., 155 pounds; L. W. Alexander, Baton Rouge, 165, Jim Jossick, of Bridgeport, Conn., 180; and Clyde "Sonny" Clark, Tallulah, 170.

These 41 men are being prepared by Coach Keeth for the job of meeting a ten game schedule for 1952. The schedule will officially open with the game at Huntsville, Tex., September 20, with Sam Houston State Teachers' College. The finishing touches will be put to the squad next week by Coach Keeth and Assistant Coach Ray Busby.

STRANAHAN GETS WARD IN FINALS

Old Rivals Battle Today For Western Amateur Title

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)— Frank Stranahan and Harvie Ward swept through the Western Amateur golf semi-finals today to set up a championship feud prolonged since last June when the two rivals tangled at Prestwick, Scotland.

The 25-year-old Ward, at that time, trounced Frank 6 and 5 in the finals of the British Amateur. The Toledo star has been seeking revenge in a major meeting ever since.

The 36-hold title match starting at 8:30 a. m. CST tomorrow developed into a natural when Stranahan, the defending champion and seeking his fourth western amateur crown, played a game of constant, brilliant recovery shots to defeat Robert Knowles, Beverly Farms, Mass., 4 and 2.

Ward, the consistent Atlantan who won the 1949 National Intercollegiate crown, made the final duel complete in the other 36 hole semi-final match by eliminating Dale Morey, Martinsville, Ind., 3 and 2.

It will be the fourth match-play competitive bout between Stranahan, 30, and the handsome Ward. Ward downed the Toledo strong boy 1 up to win the 1948 North and South Amateur crown. Stranahan beat Ward 2 and 1 in the same finals the next year.

Winnsboro Downs Lake Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Sept. 13 (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats nosed out the Lake Providence Panthers, 14 to 13, here last night in a rugged battle that saw Steve Thompson providing the winning spark for the 'Cats, while Clements and Schneider led the Panther offense.

Eugene Southern scored from one yard out to give Winnsboro the opening wedge in the first quarter, and Thompson kicked the point. A short time later Thompson broke away for 56 yards and paydirt. He followed with the point that proved the margin of victory.

W. Deal counted first for Lake Providence on a four-yard line plunge, and a pass, Trieschman to L. Clement, brought the next in a 30-yard gain. But Clement was able to boot only one point and that proved the difference.

Scott Calls On Rex Mobley For Aid Against Harrell, McDonald Tag Team

Relay Brawl Headlines Kallio's Mat Card Tuesday

"Mighty" Scott, the world's light heavyweight wrestling champion, has called in an ex-holder of his crown, Rex Mobley, to side him in an effort to conquer the tag team of Henry Harrell and "Sockeye" McDonald in the featured match at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night.

Promoter Kallio last night announced that Mobley, a ring wise veteran from Texas City, Tex., welcomed Scott's invitation to join him against the Harrell-McDonald combination.

The Scottish champion, on the losing end of a scramble against Harrell and McDonald last week with the Black Phantom as his partner, blamed his noble teammate for much of their troubles the past week, challenging for a return scramble with a new partner.

"It will take some mighty smart wrestling to beat Mobley," Scott declared. "Mobley can work any style, clean and smoothe or rough and vicious. I like his style and feel sure I've found the partner at last that I have been looking for."

Scott and the Phantom, currently the most villainous pair on the southern mat circuit, had been roughing up all opposition (even when losing by disqualifications) until they ran into Harrell and McDonald last week.

Harrell, the "alley battler" from Knoxville and Vicksburg, and McDonald, seasoned former Oregon lumberjack, had made their first stop here last week after a long absence and were well received by Kallio's customers.

Kallio last night announced ringtime will be advanced to 8 o'clock Tuesday night as he begins his winter starting times.

The relay main event will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win. A pair of one-fall preliminaries will serve to warm up the main event talent.

BELGIAN MINES

BRUSSELS (AP)— Fifty-one thousand out of the 160,000 coal-miners working in Belgium's pits are Italians, according to the Belgian minister of labor.

The total figure for foreign labor in Belgian coal mines is 72,081. Next in order are the 8,287 Poles, 3,036 Dutch, 2,092 Germans, 1,356 French, 1,320 Ukrainians and 1,092 North Africans.

Quail Restocking To End Program As Cash Cut Off

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13 (Special)—The Wild Life and Fisheries Department of the state of Louisiana is now distributing quail for restocking throughout the state, in what will be the last major quail distribution effort of this department, according to a statement issued by Ernest S. Clements, commissioner.

Because the legislature's appropriation was vetoed for a continuance of this restocking program, purchase of 40,000 quail for liberation in Louisiana this year, out of funds appropriated by the Governor Earl K. Long administration will be the final step in Commissioner Clements' program.

In mid-August, the first shipments of quail began arriving and they are now being distributed throughout the parishes of Louisiana where quail habitat is suitable.

When these 40,000 have been liberated they will complete a total of approximately 170,000 quail released under Commissioner Clements' restocking program. In addition to the quail, approximately 1,000 wild turkeys are to be shipped in and released this fall to complete the turkey phase of restocking.

The money for their purchase also came from legislative appropriations during the Long administration, and as no more money is now available, restocking of quail, turkeys, deer and squirrels will come to an end.

J-H Tigers Upset Bossier City, 12-0

BOSSIER CITY, La., Sept. 13 (Special) — An underdog Jonesboro-Hodge High School eleven stunned a bungling band of Bossier City High Bearkats here last night as the Class A tigers upset the double-A B. C. outfit, 12 to 0.

The victory was regarded as a healthy rebound for the Bengals who bowed before Ouachita of Monroe a week earlier, 34 to 0.

Kenneth "Zero" Brown, classy Jonesboro - Hodge back, counted both Tiger touchdowns, the first in the second period on a four-yard plunge and the other in the last quarter from three yards out.

Jonesboro-Hodge rolled for eleven first downs against four for Bossier City while rushing for 201 yards and completing four passes for 35. B. C. was held to 85 yards rushing and completed one pass for 30.

Score by quarters:

OUACHITA GETS TEST OF POWER IN RUSTON TILT

Game Scheduled For Next Friday Night On 'Cat Field

In addition to furnishing the Ouachita Parish High School Lions their final tuneup before entering Class AA competition, the Ruston High School Bearcats are figured to give the Lions their stiffest preconference test next Friday night at Ruston.

While Ouachita was slamming Class A Homer, 48-14, here last Friday, Ruston was dumping one double-A opponent, Haynesville, by a 7-0 count. Ruston's offense held the Tornado at its mercy all night before finally scoring late in the game

The Lions are almost certain to be favored over Ruston, but Coach Jim Hodgins is reminding his charges that such was the case last year when the Bearcats clawed through O. P. H. S., 34-19.

Ruston is also the defending Class A Louisiana state champions, and Coach "Hoss" Garrett's charges can never be regarded too lightly

After Ruston, first road trip of the season for Ouachita which has won two starts at home, the Lions will open their "AA" race at Bastrop on October 3. They'll play Haynesville here the following week and then plunge into the very thick of the title race against such clubs as Fair Park, Byrd and Bossier City. Non - conference games against clubs of their own class include road trips to Baton Rouge High and Pine Bluff.

Jones - Hodge, upset conquerors of Bossier City Friday, gave Ouachita a good opening test before losing 34-0, but Homer was simply outclassed here Friday night.

Ferriday last Sunday.

Shortly before he was to have left Friday for the return trip he borrowed a car belonging to his brother, Sgt. Clarence Burdwell, of Camp Polk, who was also at home on leave and drove to Catahoula to visit some friends.

The accident occurred on the dusty Sandy lake road about five miles from Jonesville. According to Sheriff Fred V. Fairbanks, Burdwell was attempting to pass two gravel trucks when he met a third truck driven by Wence Davis of Jonesville. Burdwell tried to pull off into a ditch but the left side of his car was hit by the truck. The impact tore off Burdwell's left arm, which was resting on the window, near the shoulder.

He was taken by ambu[illegible] to Harrisonburg hospital whe[illegible] operation was performed. [illegible]rdwell received no other injury [illegible]cept a small scratch on the ch[illegible]. Davis in the gravel truck was [illegible]jured.

ELEVATOR FALLS

NEW YORK (AP)— Ten persons were shaken up when an elevator in a downtown Manhattan office building dropped out of control from the 14th floor to the street.

An official of the Department of Housing and Buildings, which investigated, said the falling car apparently had not reached a rate of speed high enough to cause emergency braking devices to take hold.

Evaporated milk per capita consumption by rural families in Eastern North Carolina is four times that of Western North Carolina families.

From Ferriday we learn that Dr. J. H. Pankey, well known former physician of Monroe, now of Ferriday, where he is coroner, has been commissioned a colonel on the staff of Gov. Robert F. Kennon. Ferriday folk are said to be proud for it has been years since any resident there has been so honored.

If you would ride in a Delta airplane you must be at least two weeks of age. This new and ironclad ruling has just been made known by T. P. Delafield, general sales manager of Delta.

All this happened after an infant only nine hours of age rode with its mother from New Orleans to Dallas.

The flight was successful but it was decided that facilities for caring for newborn infants are lacking when Delta is concerned, so the new ruling.

A conference with operators who produce distillate from gas wells in north Louisiana fields has been called by Conservation Commissioner S. L. Digby for Thursday afternoon in Hotel Virginia.

Operators will attend from Bistineau, Choudrant, Driscoll, Hico-Knowles, Northeast Lisbon, Lucky Rodessa, Ruston, Simsboro, Sligo, Sugar Creek, Tremont, Unionville and Waskom.

At the meeting, a fair and reasonable way of reporting liquid production will be worked out, according to present plans.

Monroe insurance agents are expecting a booming business when on October 1 the motorists' financial responsibility goes into effect throughout the state.

The new law does not require public liability insurance or other financial responsibility for all operators of motor vehicles but applies only to those at fault in traffic accidents.

Starting October 1, if a driver is involved in an accident and is found responsible for damages, he must be able to prove that he can pay for damages or his driver's license and registration on motor vehicles he owns will be suspended or revoked.

RECEIVES NAVY GOLD WINGS

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 12, 1952 —Navy wings of gold now adorn the uniform of Ensign Jerry S. Bassett of the United States navy. Having successfully completed his flight training, he was designated a naval aviator and was awarded his commission recently by Rear Adm. J. P. Whitney, U. S. N., chief of naval air basic training, during ceremonies held at the naval air station, Pensacola Fla.

Ensign Bassett, son of Mrs. J. S. Bassett of 1106 North 3rd st., Monroe, attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute prior to entering the naval aviation cadet program through the naval air station at New Orleans. He began his active flight training in January of 1951 when he reported to the U. S. naval school of pre-flight at NAS Pensacola, where he completed a strenuous schedule in military, academic, and physical training. From pre-flight he was advanced to basic training which consisted of primary, aerobatics, instruments, and gunnery and tactics and was climaxed by six take-offs and landings in his SNJ "Texan" trainer aboard the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Cabot.

He was then sent to advanced training at Corpus Christi, Tex., for a four month syllabus in combat type aircraft. After this, he returned to Pensacola to qualify aboard the U. S. S. Cabot in his combat type aircraft before receiving his wings.

Ensign Bassett has been ordered to report to the naval air advanced training command, Corpus Christi, Tex., for further training. Upon completion of this he will be assigned to duty with the fleet by commander air force, Atlantic fleet.

YOUNG SOLDIER

Ferriday last Sunday.

Shortly before he was to have left Friday for the return trip he borrowed a car belonging to his brother, Sgt. Clarence Burdwell, of Camp Polk, who was also at home on leave and drove to Catahoula to visit some friends.

The accident occurred on the dusty Sandy lake road about five miles from Jonesville. According to Sheriff Fred V. Fairbanks, Burdwell was attempting to pass two gravel trucks when he met a third truck driven by Wence Davis of Jonesville. Burdwell tried to pull off into a ditch but the left side of his car was hit by the truck. The impact tore off Burdwell's left arm, which was resting on the window, near the shoulder.

He was taken by ambulance to Harrisonburg hospital where an operation was performed. Burdwell received no other injury except a small scratch on the chin. Davis in the gravel truck was [illegible]jured.

Burdwell is the husband of the former Catherine Deoill[illegible] [illegible]land.

Columbia Doctor Heads General Practitioners

Dr. E. L. Carroll, Columbia, was installed as president of the Louisiana Academy of General Practice and Dr. John W. Atkinson, Gretna, was chosen president-elect.

Other officers elected Friday at the close of the academy's three-day session at New Orleans included Dr. Janie Topp, Lake Charlse, first vice-president and Dr. J. C. Sanders, Shreveport, secretary.

Alexandria was chosen as next year's convention city.

IN KOREA

Captain William P. Stough has been assigned to the Korean Military Advisory Group, it was recently announced.

He is attached as an advisory officer to an Artillery school for troops at Kmangjun, Korea.

Captain Stough has been in service since the beginning of World War II.

He is the son of the late Harry W. and Mrs. Harry Stough, 2003 North 3rd St.

ELEVATOR FALLS

NEW YORK (AP)— Ten persons were shaken up when an elevator in a downtown Manhattan office building dropped out of control from the 14th floor to the street.

An official of the Department of Housing and Buildings, which investigated, said the falling car apparently had not reached a rate of speed high enough to cause emergency braking devices to take hold.

Evaporated milk per capita consumption by rural families in Eastern North Carolina is four times that of Western North Carolina families.

an early age.

From Ferriday we learn that Dr. J. H. Pankey, well known former physician of Monroe, now of Ferriday, where he is coroner, has been commissioned a colonel on the staff of Gov. Robert F. Kennon. Ferriday folk are said to be proud for it has been years since any resident there has been so honored.

If you would ride in a Delta airplane you must be at least two weeks of age. This new and ironclad ruling has just been made known by T. P. Delafield, general sales manager of Delta.

All this happened after an infant only nine hours of age rode with its mother from New Orleans to Dallas.

The flight was successful but it was decided that facilities for caring for newborn infants are lacking when Delta is concerned, so the new ruling.

A conference with operators who produce distillate from gas wells in north Louisiana fields has been called by Conservation Commissioner S. L. Digby for Thursday afternoon in Hotel Virginia.

Operators will attend from Bistineau, Choudrant, Driscoll, Hico-Knowles, Northeast Lisbon, Lucky Rodessa, Ruston, Simsboro, Sligo, Sugar Creek, Tremont, Unionville and Waskom.

At the meeting, a fair and reasonable way of reporting liquid production will be worked out, according to present plans.

Monroe insurance agents are expecting a booming business when on October 1 the motorists' financial responsibility goes into effect throughout the state.

The new law does not require public liability insurance or other financial responsibility for all operators of motor vehicles but applies only to those at fault in traffic accidents.

Starting October 1, if a driver is involved in an accident and is found responsible for damages, he must be able to prove that he can pay for damages or his driver's license and registration on motor vehicles he owns will be suspended or revoked.

RECEIVES NAVY GOLD WINGS

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 12, 1952 —Navy wings of gold now adorn the uniform of Ensign Jerry S. Bassett of the United States navy. Having successfully completed his flight training, he was designated a naval aviator and was awarded his commission recently by Rear Adm. J. P. Whitney, U. S. N., chief of naval air basic training, during ceremonies held at the naval air station, Pensacola Fla.

Ensign Bassett, son of Mrs. J. S. Bassett of 1106 North 3rd st., Monroe, attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute prior to entering the naval aviation cadet program through the naval air station at New Orleans. He began his active flight training in January of 1951 when he reported to the U. S. naval school of pre-flight at NAS Pensacola, where he completed a strenuous schedule in military, academic, and physical training. From pre-flight he was advanced to basic training which consisted of primary, aerobatics, instruments, and gunnery and tactics and was climaxed by six take-offs and landings in his SNJ "Texan" trainer aboard the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Cabot.

He was then sent to advanced training at Corpus Christi, Tex., for a four month syllabus in combat type aircraft. After this, he returned to Pensacola to qualify aboard the U. S. S. Cabot in his combat type aircraft before receiving his wings.

Ensign Bassett has been ordered to report to the naval air advanced training command, Corpus Christi, Tex., for further training. Upon completion of this he will be assigned to duty with the fleet by commander air force, Atlantic fleet.

TUNNEL OF TOMORROW—MAYBE—English and French committees are discussing plans for a tunnel under the English Channel from Folkestone, England, to Cap Gris-Nez, France. The miniature model pictured above gives an idea of how it may look. Two railway sections and two motor vehicle roads will take up most of the space. Such a tunnel was proposed in 1880, but opposition by the British War Office stymied the project.

TUNNEL OF TOMORROW—MAYBE—English and French committees are discussing plans for a tunnel under the English Channel from Folkestone, England, to Cap Gris-Nez, France. The miniature model pictured above gives an idea of how it may look. Two railway sections and two motor vehicle roads will take up most of the space. Such a tunnel was proposed in 1880, but opposition by the British War Office stymied the project.

IN MOVELAND

HOLLYWOOD (UP)— These are times that try columnists's souls.

A bunch of the news boys and girls were whooping it up at Lake Arrowhead last weekend and trying to forget the arduousness of their chores in glamorville.

"It's murder," sniffed one of them, dripping a tear in his lemonade.

"How do we stand it?" implored another, weeping into his milk shake.

Here's what they were moaning about: Film production is an anemic picture of what it used to be. A look at the local shooting schedules this week provides a dismal report. Twentieth-Fox has but one picture shooting locally, Universal-International one, Monogram one, and Republic, Columbia and MGM have a pair apiece.

Warners is booming along with four. There is only one independent film shooting in town. RKO has been dark for weeks. Whatever happened to RKO?

Of course, there are pictures shooting in such places as Kanab, Utah, London, Fiji Islands, Rome, Munich, Samoa, Africa, Quebec and Calabasas, Calif. But that doesn't help a news gatherer, unless he wants a hot ride to Calabasas for a Randy Scott interview.

The studios assure that they have "dozens of pictures" starting in the near future. This has stopped some of the groaning of the columnists, but not much. Well, there's always TV . . . .

Hollywood's publicity men were licking their wounds this week. On Tuesday night, both Adlai Stevenson and Dwight Eisenhower delivered speeches in which they spoke of "press agents" in Derogatory terms. . . .

Janet Leigh is anxiously awaiting news of the possible release of "Jet Pilot." That's the Howard Hughes epic which she started three years ago. Off and on, she spent a year with the picture, sometimes working on Sundays while she was doing other films during the week.

The picture has already run up a bill estimated at $4 million. People have argued that the jets in the picture will be obsolete by the time it is released, but that doesn't seem to worry Hughes. According to Miss Leigh, he has injected some of the sexiest dialogue heard in recent years. Maybe the censors are the ones who have held the picture out of release. . . .

J. J. Holzer of Spokane writes his comments about what's wrong with the movie business. He argues that when a really good picture comes along, the admission price is jumped. I've always held that the superior films should be given to patrons at the same price they've paid for the routine entertainment. Sort of a bonus, if you know what I mean.

Don Hartman, production head of Paramount, has another thought along this line. Says he: "All other fields of merchandising offer cut-rate prices for products that don't sell well. Why don't theaters do that with pictures that aren't up to par?"

In early - day America, slaves often protested because there was too much terrapin in their diet; but in the gay nineties, the turtles became a very expensive dish for gourmets, only to decline into present - day obscurity on the menu, the National Geographic Society says.

Watch Your Roses Closely These Hot Days

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

This is a critical time of the year when rose plants need protection. Heat and humidity are prime factors for the rapid development of black-spot and mildew.

It would not be unusual to have your rose garden looking in top condition when you left on vacation and come home in two or three weeks and find it almost defoilated.

Much has been written before that Bordeaux is a highly efficient feengicide but the cheif drawback against its use is the discoloration it leaves on the foliage. The old gardner suggests that before you leave on vacation you change to Fermate and give your plants a thorough spraying.

"Would you know how to tell a sucker rose if you saw one?" asks Paul R. Bosely, the noted rose specialist. From now on, writes Bosley, you will find your rose plants throwing up strong, heavy canes from the base of the plant. These will frequently top all others in height and look somewhat different from the other canes.

SPRAY PLANTS THOROUGHLY

Spray rose plants before leaving on vacation to reduce spread of black spot and mildew.

This is very desirable growth that means the plant renews itself. The foliage will very often have a red bronzy appearance; there may not be the same number of leaflets joints is greater than and the distance between leaf on the balance of the plant, but all of these things are characteristic of these new bassal breaks. Don't cut this cane off because from it you will get some of the finest blooms of the season.

Should you have true sucker (understock) growth, you will find that the stem will be small and willlow-like and the leaves will be light green in color, fine in texture and entirely different from the other foliage.

If you examine the plant you will find that a ture sucker growth would come from a point distinctly below where the plant was originally budded or grafted. If you do have a sucker, then clean the ground away from the plant, so that it will be easy to break or tear this core-like growth out of the base. Cutting off this growth just encourages more suckers.

The problem of keeping cut roses fresh looking for several days is well answered by Bosley. Rule No. 1 is to go into the garden with a pan of fresh water and put the stems in water immediately after cutting them. Carry your pan with you and put each rose in as it is cut.

It is a good practice to cut your roses in the cool of the morning and always far enough in advance of when you wish to use them to allow them to stand for a couple of hours in deep, cool water (a few ice cubes will stiffen them up quickly if you are in a hurry). Putting cut roses in the refrigerator in water at night will lengthen the life of the flowers.

U. S. TO LEASE 40-ACRE PLOT

The Bureau of Land Management is offering for oil and gas leasing a 40-acre tract in the Monroe field about 10 miles northeast of Monroe.

Awards will be made to qualified bidders of the highest cash amount per acre as a bonus for the privilege of leasing the land under the mineral leasing act of 1920, as amended. Sealed bids, plainly marked that they are not to be opened before the hour set for the sale, should be submitted to the director of the Bureau of Land Management, Washington, 25, D. C., by 1 p. m. (EST) Sept. 24. No bids received after that time will be considered.

The tract is described as follows:

"T. 19 N., R. 5E., La. M., Sec. 10 SE1-4SE1-4, 40 acres."

Important terms and conditions of the sale are:

1. Each bidder must submit with his bid one-fifth of the amount bid in cash or by certified check or money order made payable to the treasurer of the United States and file a showing of qualifications to receive a lease.

2. The remainder of the bonus and the annual rental (annual rental will be at the rate of $1 per acre) must be paid and an acceptable surety bond in the sum of $1,000 must be furnished by a successful bidder prior to the issuance of a lease.

3. An acceptable $5,000 surety bond will be required prior to commencing drilling operations on the land. However, if the successful bidder has an approved full nationwide bond in the amount of $150,000, or an approved state bond covering public domain lands for the state of Louisiana, no additional bond will be required.

4. The deposits of the other bidders will be returned upon acceptance of the successful bids. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

5. Royalties payable to the United States will be at the rate of 12½ per cent to 25 per cent for oil and 12½ per cent to 16-2-3 per cent for gas.

Irrigation Meeting Slated For Tuesday

A meeting to discuss irrigation will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the West Monroe Agriculture Building.

Charles Servance, associate engineer of the Agriculture Extension Department, L. S. U. and Mansel Mayeux, also with the Agriculture department, will explain the different types of irrigation. Later the sprinkling system will be demonstrated.

All Northeast Louisiana citizens are invited to attend.

It is a good practice to cut your roses in the cool of the morning and always far enough in advance of when you wish to use them to allow them to stand for a couple of hours in deep, cool water (a few ice cubes will stiffen them up quickly if you are in a hurry). Putting cut roses in the refrigerator in water at night will lengthen the life of the flowers.

U. S. TO LEASE 40-ACRE PLOT

The Bureau of Land Management is offering for oil and gas leasing a 40-acre tract in the Monroe field about 10 miles northeast of Monroe.

Awards will be made to qualified bidders of the highest cash amount per acre as a bonus for the privilege of leasing the land under the mineral leasing act of 1920, as amended. Sealed bids, plainly marked that they are not to be opened before the hour set for the sale, should be submitted to the director of the Bureau of Land Management, Washington, 25, D. C., by 1 p. m. (EST) Sept. 24. No bids received after that time will be considered.

The tract is described as follows:

"T. 19 N., R. 5E., La. M., Sec. 10 SE1-4SE1-4, 40 acres."

Important terms and conditions of the sale are:

1. Each bidder must submit with his bid one-fifth of the amount bid in cash or by certified check or money order made payable to the treasurer of the United States and file a showing of qualifications to receive a lease.
2. The remainder of the bonus and the annual rental (annual rental will be at the rate of $1 per acre) must be paid and an acceptable surety bond in the sum of $1,000 must be furnished by a successful bidder prior to the issuance of a lease.
3. An acceptable $5,000 surety bond will be required prior to commencing drilling operations on the land. However, if the successful bidder has an approved full nationwide bond in the amount of $150,000, or an approved state bond covering public domain lands for the state of Louisiana, no additional bond will be required.
4. The deposits of the other bidders will be returned upon acceptance of the successful bids. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.
5. Royalties payable to the United States will be at the rate of 12½ per cent to 25 per cent for oil and 12½ per cent to 16-2-3 per cent for gas.

Irrigation Meeting Slated For Tuesday

A meeting to discuss irrigation will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the West Monroe Agriculture Building.

Charles Servance, associate engineer of the Agriculture Extension Department, L. S. U. and Mansel Mayeux, also with the Agriculture department, will explain the different types of irrigation. Later the sprinkling system will be demonstrated.

All Northeast Louisiana citizens are invited to attend.

Old Time Revival At Brooklyn Church

An old time revival meeting will be held at the Brooklyn Church, six miles east of Chatham off the Columbia highway, September 15-21.

Services will begin each night at 7:30 with Rev. J. T. Garrett in charge. The services will close Sunday, September 21 with a homecoming and dinner.

The public is cordially invited to attend the revival services.

Delta Beta Sigma Sorority Has Annual Installation Ball

Confederate Theme Is Used For September Event Held At Bayou DeSiard Country Club

The Confederacy once again held sway on the night of September 3, from nine to one when Delta Beta Sigma Sorority held their annual Installation Ball, utilizing this as their theme.

Members, pledges and their dates and guests felt they had been transported into the old south when they entered the Bayou DeSiard Country club.

The club was gaily decorated with red, white and blue streamers secured from the walls to a center point in the ceiling. At the central point hung a large ball of red, white and blue with similar smaller balls hung from the beginning of each of the corners, and main streamers.

The center of attraction was a huge Confederate flag, hung over the band stand where Ben Burton's orchestra was playing. The flag was six by eight feet and in place of five of the stars were silver glittered Greek letters which read Delta Beta Sigma.

As is the tradition in the south, Dixie was the tune of the grand march which was held just before intermission for members and their dates.

Following the grand march, the members formed a circle and gifts were presented by Miss Martha Hatchell, the outgoing president to Miss Lela Kite, the new president of Delta Beta Sigma; to Mrs. A. M. Kite and Mrs. W. M. Parnell, the incoming mother and the incoming lady sponsor of the sorority; also honored were the outgoing fraternity sponsors of Delta Beta Sigma: J. E. Peters, Delta Sigma; Wade Williams, Phi Kappa; and Leland Sims, non - fraternity.

The sorority also extended gifts of appreciation to Pepper Shlenker and Frank Cernigla who were a great help to the members during the decorating for the dance.

Delta Beta Sigma was honored to have a group of members from the Winnfield chapter of Delta Beta Sigma and Miss Lois Leche from the Baton Rouge chapter as their guests.

Members, rushees and pledges and dates attending were: Barbara Gaar, Wade Cotton; Patricia Parnell, George Fox; Lorna Montgomery, Charles Smith; Lynn Merriman, Sammy Hightower; Annabeth Lewis, Edgar Aston; Lela Kite, Frank Scalia; Ann Flinn, David Naff; Elizabeth Leigh, Ran Phillips; Polly Riley, Pat Genivine; Martha Hatchell, John Culpepper; Rosemary McGinn, Barlow Inabnet; Carolyn Peters, Ralph King; Terri Sue Tidwell, Bill Herrington; Martha Sparks, Dent Tisdale; Judy Brown, Sidney Fuller; Roslyn Lubel, Raymond Wilenzick; Gay Olcott, Craig Morgan, Mary Lou Harris, Buck Brown; Marrianna Altick, Charles McAdams; Betty Scott, Norman Waddell; Sara Lou Hudson, Prentice Massy; Janice Futrell, David Brenson; Pat Weems, Royce Calby; Pat Davis, Jimmy Vaughn; Dawson Ann Forman, George Baber; Janice Strong, Billy King; Mary Pat Welch, Spec Lewis; Mary Lou Trawick, Stein Baughman, Jr., Ione Hill, Guy Dupriest; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tarver.

Chaperoning the dance were: Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kite, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Parnell and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Olcott.

Installation

Miss Martha Hatchell's home at 1416 Milton, was the setting of the Delta Beta Sigma installation which was held the night of September 3, during the intermission of Delta Beta Sigma installation ball.

There the Delta Beta Sigma officers of 1951-52 turned over their offices to the new officers who will serve the sorority for the season of 1952-53.

The outgoing officers were: Miss Martha Hatchell president; Miss Rosemary McGinn, vice president; Miss Polly Riley, recording secretary; Miss Mary Lou Harris corresponding secretary; Miss Carolyn Peters, treasurer; Miss Jo Rhodes, sentinel; Miss Terri Tidwell, reporter; Miss Diane Ducote, historian; Miss Barbara Kelso, custodian; and Miss Georgia Blanchard, parliamentarian.

The incoming officers are as follows: Miss Lela Kite, president; Miss Lynn Merriman, president; Miss Shirley McDonald, recording secretary; Miss Lorna Montgomery, corresponding secretary; Miss Elizabeth Leight, treasurer; Miss Patricia Parnell, sentinel; Miss Ann Flinn, reporter; Miss Barbara Gaar, historian; Miss Annabeth Lewis, custodian; and Miss Mary Lou Trawick, parilamentarian.

At the same time installation was held for the new fraternity sponsors, mother and lady - sponsor. Sponsors are as follows: Ronnie Sally, Delta Sigma; Edgar Aston, Phi Kappa; Oscar Cloyd, non-fraternity; Mrs. A. M. Kite and Mrs. W. M. Parnell, lady-sponsor.

The outstanding member of Tau chapter cup was presented by Miss Ann Merriman who received not only the local but the national award for 1951 to Miss Martha Hatchell who is the recipient of the cup for the year of 1952.

FINE ARTS CLUB BEGINS NEW CLUB YEAR AT RECENT MEETING

The Fine Arts Club held its first meeting of the 1952-53 season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., of Lakeside Drive.

The meeting was informal and members and guests were conducted to the rear of the Mayo home to the spacious patio bordering on lovely Lake Louise. In this charming setting, members and guests discussed the events and pleasure of the summer months during which time no meeting had been held.

Interesting and artistic year books were distributed by the committee: Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Mr. Frank Parker, Mrs. Maud Mayo, and Mrs. Wilhemina Inabnet. Officers for the year are as follows: Miss May Read, president, Mrs. Mary B. Dalton vice-president, Miss Marie Minard recording secretary, Miss Linda Mae Coon, corresponding secretary, Mr. Joe Craig treasurer, Mrs. B. M. Mulhern reporter, Mrs. Elroy Smith, historian, Miss Eleona Brinsmade parliamentarian.

A delicious covered dish supper provided by all the members was served on the patio by the hostess committee, Mrs. Maud Mayo, Mrs. Mary Dalton, Miss Leita Mae King and Mrs. Eloise Stanhope. They were assisted by Mr. Mayo, Mrs. Blanch Ray, Miss Norma Jean Holcomb, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Jr.

Mr. Leon Hammond, by popular request, showed the pictures he made on his trip to Banff, Lake Louise, and other interesting points in Canada and the West Coast when he went as a delegate to the Y's Men's International Convention.

Members, honorary members and guests who enjoyed this delightful evening were: Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mr. and Mrs. Slade Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. Geraldine Carroll, Mrs. A. B. Essa Letta Browning Is September Bride Of Harold Lee Temple

DODSON, La., Sept. 13 — In a beautiful simple setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Murphy, sister of the bride the marriage of Miss Essa Letta Browning to Harold Lee Temple was solemnized on Saturday September 6, with the Rev. Ray Prager, pastor of the Baptist Church officiating and reading the double-ring ceremony before an improvised altar placed between the reception and dining rooms. Summer flowers were placed at vantage points which enhanced the beauty of the lovely rooms, the service was read in the evening twilight and soft lights gave an enchanting glow over all.

Mr. Temple and his best man, Norman Terrell awaited the bride before the altar and as the strains of the wedding march, rang out the matron of honor followed by the bride came slowly forward and took their places. The bride was lovely in a suit of white linen with navy accessories and a corsage of pink Glamelias; for something old she wore daintly gold hoop earrings which were 200 years old having been handed down for six generations in the Johnston family, these were loaned by a friend, she also had the traditional penny in her shoe.

The matron of honor was gowned in navy blue linen with white accessories and a rose glamelia for her corsage.

Miss Sue Gates was pianist for the occasion and played "I Love You Truly" and Mendellsohn's Wedding March during the service.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held with only the bridal party and guests present.

The wedding cake which was made and decorated by Mrs. Jake Lee was a thing of beauty, three tiered, iced in white with the decorations in pink, topped by a tiny bride and groom; after the bride and groom cut the first slice, Miss Sue Gates served and Mrs. H. R. Snell, sister of the bride poured punch.

Attending this lovely affair were, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Browning, Sr., parents of the bride, Paul Browning, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Browning, Jr., James and Anita Hornbeck; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thornton and Jerry of Winnfield; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Snell, Ronnie, Carolyn and Jimmie, Pasadena, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Temple, parents of the groom, Mrs. W. A. Murphy, Miss Sue Gates, Miss Faye Stewart, Miss Francis Ann Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Murphy, Jerome and Wallace all of Dodson.

Miss Sally Patricia Elliott Weds James Edward Ferguson

Chapel Of First Baptist Church Of West Monroe Setting For Impressive Ceremony

A lovely afternoon wedding characterized by beautiful solemnity and dignity which united in marriage Miss Sally Patricia Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harold Elliott, of Monroe, and James Edward Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Ferguson, of West Monroe, was solemnized in the chapel of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, on Friday, August 29 at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Jaroy Weber, church pastor, and under whose ministry the bridegroom felt the call to give his life as a minister of the gospel, heard the exchange of vows in the impressive double-ring ceremony, during which period the atmosphere was pervaded with a note of deep spirituality.

Princess baskets of pink gladioli and emerald leaves decorated the altar, and in the background myriads of slender white tapers were held aloft in greenery - entwined candelabra.

For a quarter of an hour preceding the ceremony Miss Marianne Buce, at the piano, rendered a concert of nuptial music including favorites of the bride.

The guests were seated by ushers, William Thomas Ferguson, brother of the groom, Dewey Albritton and Elmer Fant. "Thine Alone" was played while the candles were lighted by the groom's brother, William Thomas Ferguson and Dewey Albritton.

Rev. Walter G. Mangham, Jr., accompanied by Miss Buce, sang "Together, Life's Pathway We Tread," "I Love Thee", and later at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer".

"Clair de Lune" was played softly during the ceremony, and the traditional wedding marches were used at the beginning and the end.

Miss Fern Griffin, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a pale blue Handmacher suit with navy piping and wore navy accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink crown asters surrounded with pink feathers and cascaded with pink satin ribbon and tufts of tulle.

Mr. Dale Colvin, close friend of the bridegroom, served him in the capacity of best man.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and was radiant in a Handmacher suit of shell pink with white trim. Loops of white braid fashioned her velvet - trimmed hat from which fell a complexion veil, and her navy mesh shoes were in perfect harmony. She carried a white Bible surmounted with a huge glamelia in a matching shade of pink, showered with ribbons of white satin which held tiny pink asters and tuberoses. Her only ornament was a gold lapel chain, the cherished heirloom of a close friend dating back two hundred years.

Mrs. Elliott chose for her daughter's wedding a model of dusty rose crepe with navy accessories. This was complimented by her corsage of glamelias in a matching shade. Mrs. Ferguson, mother of the groom, wore ice blue nylon with matching feather hat and navy accessories. Her pink glamelia corsage was backed with feathers in the same shade.

Mrs. Bertha Ferguson of Houston, Tex., the groom's paternal grandmother, wore a mauve shantung with black accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Reception

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the social hall of the church, the wedding party and their parents receiving the guests.

The bride's table overlaid with white lace over green bore a central decor of white mums interspersed with bows of pink tulle. At one end of the table, the three-tiered wedding cake, embossed in white and decorated with calla lilies and touches of pink and green, was surmounted with a bride and groom figurine, and was placed on a round mirror flounced with maline caught with tiny white blossoms at intervals.

Mrs. W. F. Petty poured punch from the crystal bowl, and Mrs. Fred B. Cook served the wedding confection, using a knife in the bride's silver.

Mrs. Bertha Ferguson presided over the bride's book, and tea girls passing wedding mints were: Misses Janice Phillips and Lillian LeBlanc, who wore pastel summer dresses and corsages of pink asters.

Miss Marianne Buce rendered appropriate music during the reception period.

For her going away the bride changed to a model of blue and white linen with navy accessories, and she was wearing the glamelia corsage from her bridal bouquet. Their honeymoon was spent in Pensacola, Fla., and en route to this city they visited briefly in Hattiesburg, Miss., Biloxi and Mobile, Ala.

The bride is a graduate of this year's class of Ouachita Parish High School, and is presently employed by the Ouachita Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

The groom is also a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and is entering his second year at Baylor University. He was employed during the summer by United Gas Pipeline Company.

The couple will reside in Waco, Tex., where the groom will resume his study for the ministry and where the bride will also be a student. They will be at home in an apartment on the campus where they will be privileged to enjoy the numerous handsome wedding gifts bestowed by their friends.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Ferguson and son, Johnny, Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Woodruff and daughters, Kay and Ellen, Shreveport; Mrs. Bertha Ferguson, Houston, Tex.; Mrs. Coralee Ray, Memphis, Tenn.

Rehearsal Supper

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Petty and Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Cook entertained members of the wedding party following the rehearsal on Thursday night at the La Casa Tea Room.

The T-shaped table held an arrangement of pink radiance roses flanked with single tapers burning in crystal holders. On the mantel was also an arrangement of roses and candles.

The place cards were valley lilies attached to cards designating the individual covers. The invocation was given by Rev. Walter G. Mangham, Jr.

A delectable fried chicken supper was served, and following the young couple took this opportunity to present their attendants with gifts. The groom presented his attendants with cuff links in novel design descriptive of their individual personalities. Miss Elliott's gifts to her attendants were demitasse spoons with her wedding date inscribed in the bowls.

Those enjoying this occasion were: Miss Sally Elliott, Mr. James Edward Ferguson, Miss Fern Griffin, Miss Marianne Buce, Mrs. A. D. Hunt, Rev. Walter G. Mangham, Jr., Mr. Dale Colvin, Mr. William Thomas Ferguson, Mr. Dewey Albritton, Mr. Elmer Fant, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ferguson, Mrs. Bertha Ferguson, and the hosts.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Ferguson shown above at the reception following their marriage which was solemnized in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, on Friday, August 29. The bride is the former Sally Patricia Eilltt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harold Elliott. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Ferguson.

Foolproof New Color System Keys Stocking Color To Costume

Fashion experts say there are three ideal ways for legs to look: match, blend, or contrast with costume color. A sensational new color formula by Phoenix Hosiery Company now makes selection of the right hosiery color absolutely foolproof.

This innovation in hosiery packaging is based on four color-keyed beauty boxes, and is handled exclusively by the Palace. To identify costume color each Phoenix beauty box is boldly dipped in one of the basic fall color families. Simply name the color of your costume and pick the colored box that matches. Inside are three pairs of nylons in the newest skin-blended Cosmetone shades that will perfectly match, blend, or contrast with that color. For instance: a woman dressed in one of the fresh new fall blues picks the Phoenix Blue Beauty Box. In it she gets: Blue Beauty, the latest version of the famous Phoenix Blue, to match; Taupe Beauty, deep neutral with a raisin cast, to blend; and Beige Beauty, a pale honey neutral newly warm for fall, to contrast.

This dramatic color formula by the company that has made fashion history for 60 years has already created a sensation among smart women. It was developed through the same painstaking research that created the famous skin - blended Cosmetone nylon colors. Cosmetone combines in perfect balance the subtle shadings of complexion and costume colors to produce the most harmonious color on the leg. Highly twisted yarns purify the colors, and Phoenix Custom Fit proportions assure the even spreading of the color over the leg with no sags or wrinkles to spoil the effect.

Phoenix Beauty Boxes are available in the four important fall basics: Beauty Cosmetones for black, blue or brown to match, blend, or contrast; Beauty Cosmetones for colors to blend or contrast, all in wispy 51-gauge, 15-deniers, or Phoenix wonder sixties. See this amazing triple-beauty formula for stockings today in one of the front windows of The Palace.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Ferguson and son, Johnny, Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Woodruff and daughters, Kay and Ellen, Shreveport; Mrs. Bertha Ferguson, Houston, Tex.; Mrs. Coralee Ray, Memphis, Tenn.

Rehearsal Supper

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Petty and Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Cook entertained members of the wedding party following the rehearsal on Thursday night at the La Casa Tea Room.

The T-shaped table held an arrangement of pink radiance roses flanked with single tapers burning in crystal holders. On the mantel was also an arrangement of roses and candles.

The place cards were valley lilies attached to cards designating the individual covers. The invocation was given by Rev. Walter G. Mangham, Jr.

Those enjoying this occasion were: Miss Sally Elliott, Mr. James Edward Ferguson, Miss Fern Griffin, Miss Marianne Buce, Mrs. A. D. Hunt, Rev. Walter G. Mangham, Jr., Mr. Dale Colvin, Mr. William Thomas Ferguson, Mr. Dewey Albritton, Mr. Elmer Fant, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ferguson, Mrs. Bertha Ferguson, and the hosts.

Foolproof New Color System Keys Stocking Color To Costume

Fashion experts say there are three ideal ways for legs to look: match, blend, or contrast with costume color. A sensational new color formula by Phoenix Hosiery Company now makes selection of the right hosiery color absolutely foolproof.

This innovation in hosiery packaging is based on four color-keyed beauty boxes, and is handled exclusively by the Palace. To identify costume color each Phoenix beauty box is boldly dipped in one of the basic fall color families. Simply name the color of your costume and pick the colored box that matches. Inside are three pairs of nylons in the newest skin-blended Cosmetone shades that will perfectly match, blend, or contrast with that color. For instance: a woman dressed in one of the fresh new fall blues picks the Phoenix Blue Beauty Box. In it she gets: Blue Beauty, the latest version of the famous Phoenix Blue, to match; Taupe Beauty, deep neutral with a raisin cast, to blend; and Beige Beauty, a pale honey neutral newly warm for fall, to contrast.

This dramatic color formula by the company that has made fashion history for 60 years has already created a sensation among smart women. It was developed through the same painstaking research that created the famous skin - blended Cosmetone nylon colors. Cosmetone combines in perfect balance the subtle shadings of complexion and costume colors to produce the most harmonious color on the leg. Highly twisted yarns purify the colors, and Phoenix Custom Fit proportions assure the even spreading of the color over the leg with no sags or wrinkles to spoil the effect.

Phoenix Beauty Boxes are available in the four important fall basics: Beauty Cosmetones for black, blue or brown to match, blend, or contrast; Beauty Cosmetones for colors to blend or contrast, all in wispy 51-gauge, 15-deniers, or Phoenix wonder sixties. See this amazing triple-beauty formula for stockings today in one of the front windows of The Palace.

SILENT FOR SUPER-COMFORT—No moving parts, no noise, no blasts of hot air. Inconspicuous registers.

Get all the Facts . . . You'll Always Enjoy the New, Modern Comfort, Convenience & Economy of ROYAL JET-FLOW

NEW EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY—New Design and engineering techniques make use of jet principle—heated air passes thru cone shaped duct—to achieve the ideal warm air velocity of 300 feet per minute. Low initial cost—amazing fuel economy! Actual tests in America's finest independent laboratories prove ROYAL JET-FLOW outperforms other heating units costing 3 times as much. 2-Way Heating: forced air circulation plus ceiling radiation.

HEATS ENTIRE HOUSE—Directional louvres plus volume of warm air enable JET-FLOW to heat all parts of the average size home with a minimum of temperature variation.

INCONSPICUOUS, CONVENIENT — Maximum floor space required only $10\frac{3}{8}'' \times 27\frac{3}{8}''$. Masonite cabinet, adaptable to your ceiling height, can be painted or papered to blend with any type decoration. Complete freedom in placing your furniture.

BUILT-IN THERMOSTAT—Cold air return registers, located near floor level, equipped with built-in thermostat control . . . automatic, silent, safe. Electrical current developed by a pilot generator actuates the gas valve. Thus if there is a power failure, the pilot does not go out. Keeps floors warm. Easily accessible for service, if necessary.

DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY UNITES CHOUDRANT COUPLE

In a double ring ceremony Monday evening September 8th at six o'clock, Miss Carolyn Joyce Whitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis Whitman, became the bride of Benny Joe King, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. King, all of Choudrant. The Rev. A. H. Johnson heard the vows before an improvised altar of burning white tapers and baskets of white galdiolas and mums at the home of the bride's parents.

The candles were lighted by Miss Mary Ann King, sister of the groom. Miss Glenda Pesnell, cousin of the groom, rendered a program of nuptial music throughout the house.

Miss Juilette Bennett, the brides only attendant wore a ballerina length model of pink linen and lace. Her flowers were split carnations and rose buds. The pianist and candle lighters wore identical corsages of pink split carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of pink irish linen lace over pink pique. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a pink lace cap. She carried a white Testament topped with fleur d-amour centered with a purple orchid.

Mr. Billy Ray Pesnell served his cousin as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip. For traveling the bridewore a pale yellow sharkskin suit with brown accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet completed her costume.

Upon their return the couple will reside at Moriarty, N. Mex., where the groom is stationed with the Air Force.

'Our American Heritage' To Be Program For 1952-53 Club Year

The Current Literature Club had its first meeting of the new club year Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. O. Webb, 201 Sherrouse, as hostess.

The program committee, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. Earl Stovall, and Mrs. Dan Dennett, have planned a program for the year which promises to be most interesting - "Our American Heritage".

The first speaker on the program was Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, who stated: "To be an American is more than to just be an American. Unless we assume our responsibility as a citizen, vote in the elections etc., we are not worth being a citizen."

Guest soloist, Mrs. Ben R. Simpson, accompanied by Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose, sang "My Own America" by Allie Wrubel and Mrs. Ambrose played a piano solo "Songs of our Nation" arranged by Frederick Garrison. The last song of the medley was "The Star Spangled Banner" which was sung by everyone.

Mrs. D. A. Jackson read the Declaration of Independence and urged that all members learn this during the year.

At the conclusion of the program, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those in attendance were: Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose Mrs R. B. Bailey, Mrs. S. R. Biossat, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. L. M. Frey, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. D. A. Jackson, Mrs. Ray D. Magruder, Mrs. E. A. TWIN CITY P.-T. A. COUNCIL HAS FIRST MEETING THURSDAY

Nine units of the Twin Cities were represented Thursday, September 4 when the Twin City P.-T. A. Council held its first meeting of the present school year in the health unit.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Stanley Hodges.

Mrs. Paul Thompson, president, called on various officers and committee chairmen for routine reports.

Mrs. Thompson introduced new officers for the year as follows: Mrs. Carl Thompson, first president; Mrs. James Larkan, second vice president; Mrs. Leroy Williams, secretary and Mrs. Virgil Crawford, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: Mr. Dan Caldwell, budget and finance; Mrs. Stanley Hodges, Goals; Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, life membership; Mrs. J. F. Johnson, hospitality; Mrs. W. H. Rogillio, historian; Mrs. John A. Peters, publicity; Mrs. George V. Varino, legislation; and Mrs. Dorothy Hill, home and family life.

Director of the workshop was Mr. Bill McGloghlin, of Atlanta, Ga. Miss Mildred I. Morgan, another well known educator also presided. Persons attending were given an opportunity to conduct study groups and learned how to promote interest and leadership in his or her P.-T. A. unit. Movies were shown in the evening sessions on "Child Welfare" and like subjects of interest to all members of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Larkan, Welfare chairman, announced that the council has been fortunate in securing a "Clothes Room," which room will be used for clothing brought in by parents whose children can no longer wear them. It is requested that each article be freshly laundered and the size marked on each garment so that same can be delivered to anyone in need. This room is located above Sandman's Pharmacy and Mrs. Larkan asks that persons wishing further information please contact her—telephone 2-3605.

Mrs. Carl Thompson announced that the School of Instruction will be held Thursday, Sept. 18, registration to begin at 9:00 a. m. in the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church. She urges that all newly elected officers and committee chairmen attend the school and receive instructions on how to successfully carry out their job for the year just starting.

Duties of all officers and chairmen are outlined in the P.-T. A. Manual but to be fully explained by competent instructors is much more beneficial and also gives one the pleasure and opportunity of meeting his fellow workers from other units who attend classes, all working toward the same goal. These classes always stimulate interest in unit activities.

The president announced the fall district meeting will be held in Logtown, October 7, with registration beginning at 9:00 a. m.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick Page shown above at the reception following their marriage which was solemnized Friday, August 29 at the First Methodist Church of West Monroe. The bride is the former Billye Jean Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Wilson. Mr. Page is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Page.

Miss Billye Jean Wilson Weds Williams Frederick Page

Impressive August Wedding Solemnized At The First Methodist Church Of West Monroe

A lovely wedding of August was that of Miss Billye Jean Wilson and William Frederick Page which was solemnized Friday, August 29th at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church of West Monroe.

The Rev. R. H. Staples, pastor, officiated in the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of close friends and relatives of the two families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Wilson, of West Monroe, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Page also of West Monroe.

The bridal couple exchanged the nuptial vows before an altar which was decorated with white urns of white gladioli and sky blue Ester Reeds, with silvered huckleberry foliage. Slender blue tapers were supported by branched candelabra, and candles placed in the windows of the sanctuary were fringed with silver foliage. Reserved pews were marked with silvered sprays tied with blue ribbon.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Stewart Scott, Jr., at the organ, rendered a program of prenuptial music while the wedding guests were seated by the ushers, Roy Wilson, brother of the bride, Johnny Mitchell, John Drouet and Bobby Edmonson, the latter two also serving as candlelighters.

Mrs. Scott accompanied Miss Betty Spurlock who sang "Because" and "Always," and Mr. Tommy Spurlock, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" following the ceremony, while the young couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of Chantilly lace and starched white nylon over satin. The bodice of lace extended to the hipline and was caught to the flaring nylon skirt with scallops of lace. Double ruffles of Chantilly lace over the shoulders formed the cap sleeves. The veil of illusion in two lengths, fell from a cap of lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of vanda orchids centered with a single white orchid.

Mrs. Roy Wilson served the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Russ, Miss Alice Golson, Miss Martha Nell Chappell and Mrs. Eva Nell Golson. They were wearing identical gowns of ice blue imported eyelet organdy over matching satin. The moulded bodices featured sweetheart necklines and cap sleeves, and the ankle-length skirts were extremely full.

They carried blue maline butterflies with pink crown asters caught with blue ribbon and silver leaves. Their tiaras were also of the crown asters in pink.

Little Miss Beckie Harper and Debbie Warren, flower girls, wore gowns of the same shade of organdy and carried baskets of crown asters with blue and pink satin streamers. Pink asters were also worn in their hair.

The ringbearer, Master Ronnie Ponder, cousin of the groom, wearing a starched white linen suit, carried the rings on a satin pillow.

Mr. Page served his son in the capacity of best man. All the male attendants wore summer tuxedoes.

Mrs. Wilson chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of sea foam green, the bodice of which was rhinestone trimmed. Mrs. Page wore dusty rose of lace and chiffon. Both wore a corsage of pink glamelias.

Mrs. H. P Wilson, the bride's paternal grandmother, wore black faille, with white accents and a corsage of pink asters. The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Doss, chose black and white print with a corsage of asters.

Reception

The social hall of the church, where the reception was held immediately following the ceremony, was adorned with white and blue flowers. The four-tiered wedding cake, placed at one end of the long lace-covered table and was embossed in white and blue. Mrs. J. Lloyd Warren, wearing black chiffon, served the cake after the bride and groom had cut the first slices.

Miss Caralie Heard, young daughter of Judge and Mrs. Jesse Heard, played favorite piano selections throughout the wedding reception. She was dressed in a white formal trimmed with rhinestones and was wearing a corsage of pink asters.

Mrs. G. C. Warren, wearing pink lace, presided at the crystal punch bowl at the refreshment table.

Miss Bernice Hood, who presided at the bride's book, and the tea girls, Misses Joan Williams, Bettye Craig, Billie Ewing, Janice Frazier Mary Lou Anderson and Agnes Faye Wilson, were gowned in pastel ballerina frocks with corsage of hibiscus.

Mrs. H. S. Snyder and Mrs. R. G. Taylor, the hostesses at the reception, chose beige and aqua lace respectively.

The bride chose for traveling, a brown and beige appliqued linen with harmonizing accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They will be at home to their friends in their apartment at 404 Clayton St., West Monroe.

Out-Of-Town Guest

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Fowler, of Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson and Miss Agnes Fae Wilson, Mr. Virgil Dalrimple and Mr. Veepie Dalrimple and Mrs. Nancy Osbon, all of Delhi; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Wilson, of Mer Rouge; Mrs. J. Y. Pipes and Calvin Pipes, of Bosco; Mrs. Mollie Doss, Mrs. Burl Hood and Miss Bernice Hood, of Hilly.

Rehearsal Supper

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Artis Ponder were hosts at the rehearsal supper Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Warren on Bon Aire drive.

Guests on this occasion were Miss Billye Wilson, Mr. Freddie Page, Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson, Mrs. Eva Nell Golson, Miss Martha Nell Chappell, Miss Mary Alice Golson, Miss Margorie Russ, Miss Betty Spurlock, Mr. Tommie Spurlock, Mr. John Drouet, Mr. Johnnie Mitchell, Mr. Bobby Edminston, Miss Martha Harper, Becky Harper, Deby Warren, Ronnie Ponder, Sandra Ponder, Mrs. R. G. Taylor and Mrs. H. S. Snyder.

The bride was wearing a navy skirt and beige nylon blouse. The hostesses chose this time to present her with a Westinghouse toaster.

An assortment of delicacies were served from the refreshment table, which was overlaid with a cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink roses.

The bridegroom at this time presented his attendants with silver key chains with their initials.

Guests were Miss Marjorie Russ, Mrs. Billie John Golson, Miss Mary Alice Golson, Miss Martha Nell Chappell, Mrs. Roy Wilson, Mrs. E. L. Page and Mrs. Lavelle Wilson.

PANZICO-PATRICK ATTENDANT

Miss Ida Lee Anzelmo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anzelmo, of this city, has just returned from Chicago, where she was a bridesmaid in the Panzico-Patrick nuptials on August 31st. Miss Anzelmo stood with the best man, Mr. Nicky Panzico, and after the wedding was a principal in a number of social events in connection therewith. She is well known here for her choral work and activities in St. Matthew's Sodality.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

This is the season when publishers make up for the dearth of books published during the summer months and release fascinating new books almost every day. "Captain Marooner" by Louis B. Davidson, and Eddie Doherty is a thunderous sea yarn based upon one of the most violent mutinies in America's maritime history. In the early 1800's it was the ambition of many a red-blooded New England lad to ship aboard a whaler. These youngsters were rugged individualists who leapt to small boats-harpoons poised-when the cry "Thar she blows" screamed through the sails. Their courage was matched only by their loyal woman who spent many long years watching and waiting for the whaler's return. Last year's popular "Caine Mutiny" had started a renewed interest in books about the sea and "Captain Marooner" should be very popular.

"Hagar" by Ben and Ann Pinchot depicts the one-family, one-factory town that for a hundred years has been a part of the industrial and social picture of New England, but is fast disappearing from the American scene. This is the story of Constant Blair, daughter of the Lyman Blairs and the first family of Belfort, who discovered early in her teens that she had an implacable enemy in her cousin Hagar. The conflict between the two girls had its repercussions in the entire community.

Those who have enjoyed the novels of Margaret Lee Runbeck will welcome her latest one, "A Hungry Man Dreams". This is a book which touches the most important of all human values and is a struggle between parents in an attempt to have their son choose the way of life which appealed to each of them.

Teen-agers who enjoyed "Trish" by Margaret Maze Craig will welcome her new title "Julie". This is the story of college life in which the girls outnumbered the men by a ratio of six to one. This is the story of how the individual girls met this problem.

In the field of non-fiction there are titles to appeal to almost every taste. "Sam Clemens of Hannibal" by Dixon Wecter is a splendid biography of the real Tom Sawyer the fun-loving practical joker. Dixon Wecter, as editor of the Mark Twain estate has found all sorts of new facts which he has used in this book. Samuel Clemens left Hannibal at the age of 18, but he never forgot his boyhood and the town formed the background for his best works, "Tom Sawyer" and "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn". There are several other new biographies, worth noting. "From Under My Hat" is the story of Hedda Hopper's life and work, "The Scalpel and the Sword" by Ted Allan is a splendid life of the famous surgeon Dr. Norman Bethune. "Coleridge, Poet of Wild Enchantment" by Laura Benet gives an excellent picture of the life of this romantic poet of the early 19th century. "Alexander Hamilton's Wife" by Alice Curtis Desmond is the story of Elizabeth Schuyler, who made Alexander Hamilton such a wonderful wife and had a great deal to do with his successful career.

Anyone who is interested in making furniture will want to see "The Cabinetmaker's Treasury" by F. E. Hoard. This book contains detailed instructions for making beautiful and fine pieces of furniture. It is not for those who like modern.

Are you a collector of fine china? If you are you will want to see "Chats on English China" by Arthur Hayden. This is an interesting and valuable book to read. "The Reformation of the Sixteenth Century" by Roland Bainton is another of his valuable books on the history of religion. It gives a very fair and clear picture of the religious life of the day. Arthur Zaidenberg, author of "Anyone Can Draw and Anyone Can Paint" had a new title called "Anyone Can Sculpt". This book gives very clear directions and has many illustrations which should be helpful to a person wishing to learn the art of sculpture.

If you are in need of knowledge or books for recreational reading, try our branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Bridal Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows At Hotel Retlaw In Fond Du Lac, Wisconsin

Miss Eileen Ruttenberg of Fond du Lac, Wis., became the bride of Samuel Rubin, Jr., of this city, Sunday, August 17th at the Hotel Retlaw in Fond du Lac.

Miss Ruttenberg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ruttenberg of Fond du Lac, and Mr. Rubin the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rubin, of this city.

Rabbi Simon Friedeman performed the wedding ceremony which took place at 6:00 p. m.

Wedding music was played by Arch Adrian who accompanied Mrs. Ruth Brown as she sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white nylon tulle and imported Chantilly lace over ice blue taffeta, fashioned with a scooped neckline filled with illusion and the neckline being detailed with hand clipped paillettes of Chantilly lace. A full tiered veil of ice blue imported silk illusion was secured to a half hat of shirred illusion with scattered seed pearls. Her bouquet of white stephanotis and baby orchids was centered with a large white orchid.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Howard Sadoff, and maid of honor, Marilyn Ruttenberg, sister of the bride, were accompanied by bridesmaids Misses Jean Nemschoff, Joan Hammes, Joan Sugar, and Alice Krause. They wore ballerina gowns of baby blue and hyacinth blue nylon tulle over taffeta, fashioned with strapless shirred bodices with detachable tulle fischus. Flower girl, Carol Fishelson, was also attired in blue nylon tulle over taffeta. Bouquets being of crescent shape consisting of white orchids and shell pink roses were carried by the attendants.

Jack Rubin served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Paul Ransom, Ben Marshall, both of Monroe, and Ben Sadoff, Arthur Sadoff and Gordon Hammes. Ushers were John Mohler, Baltimore, Md., Allen Jones and Jerry Sugar of Monroe.

A dinner for 300 guests was served at the Hotel Retlaw, after which the young couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Kila Kugle from Paris, France, Mr. and Mrs. M. Simm of New York, Mr. and Mrs. N. Rubin of New York. Others were from Chicago, Milwaukee, Tuscon, Ariz. Monroe, La., St. Louis, Mo., Detroit, Mich., and St. Paul, Minn.

This New, Easy Way

without any change in your management

with Bacigro

the amazing, new growth pellet!

ONE TINY PELLET DOES THE JOB!

That's right, just one pellet the size you see above does the job for 56 days—from birth right through to weaning. Each pellet contains 1000 units of bacitracin, outstanding antibiotic developed by Commercial Solvents Corporation and widely used in many livestock feeds for greater weight gains.

THE PELLET GOES HERE

Bacigro is implanted just under the skin behind the ear of 2- to 5-day old pigs. One "shot" does it. This new, practical, low-cost method of providing antibiotic growth stimulation is called "Bacination". Bacigro provides bacitracin by slow, direct absorption for outstanding extra-pound gains.

11.3% WEIGHT GAINS!

When you put Bacigro to work on your litters, expect extra weight increases of over 11%! This sort of gain has been consistently proved by work done with pigs, raised on pasture, by the University of Arkansas*, by CSC's own experimental farm at Terre Haute, Indiana, and by practical farmers.

*Station Bulletin, Report Series 34, April, 1952, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville.

YOU CAN'T BEAT A SOW & Bacigro

No change in management; no change in feeding methods. Just "bacinate" once with Bacigro. Bacigro pellets provide the growth-stimulating antibiotic, bacitracin, while the baby pigs are thriving on sow's milk and under her care in the tried and true natural way. You can't beat a sow and Bacigro!

GREATER WEIGHT AT WEANING

See the difference this fall. Prove it to yourself. Get your pigs off to a fast start. Get the full benefits of antibiotic during the critical time of highest mortality and disease. Get greater weight at weaning—and make more uniform hogs in a shorter period of time—with Bacigro!

BUY Bacigro NOW!

Don't lose out this fall. Don't just grow pigs—Bacigro 'em! You make full use of the sow and at the same time get essential antibiotic into your pigs. Simple as abc, implanting the pellet is quick, easy, and sure with the specially-designed Bacinator. Inexpensive—only one pellet per pig at a cost of less than 15¢. Bacigro and the Bacinator are now available at leading feed and drug stores. Get yours now.

Hatchell and Beverly. The girls are all entering Sophie Newcomb College. Miss Munholland as a junior and the others as freshmen.

Miss Carol Layton is at home after a year spent in San Francisco. She leaves for New Hork on the 18th of Spetember where she will visit for a few days before sailing on the Ile de France September 24 for a year's study in Paris. She will do work at the University of Paris at the graduate school Ecole De Louvre.

Jimmy Upp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Upp, is leaving for Gainsville Fla., where he enters the University of Florida as a freshman.

Miss Margaret Kalil lyric coloratura soprano, who has been spending the summer months with her mother, Mrs. Fred Kalil, left Thursday night for New York City where she will leave October 4 for Italy and Europe. Miss Kalil will spend a year in Europe where she will do specialized vocal work with the famous Benjamino Gigli, the celebrated tenor at the Metropolitan Opera.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garon and daughter Kathleen of New Orleans are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Strauss. Mrs. Garon is the former Miss Margot Strauss.

Also recent visitors in the Strauss home were Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Strauss of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. E. C. Fudickar has just returned from a trip via Delta airlines to Oklahoma City where she visited her sister, Mrs. H. D. Timberlake, and to Liberal, Kan., where she was guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Richie.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cloud, Jr. and daughter, Susan were guests over the week end of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Royce and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cloud, Sr. Mrs. Cloud and Susan will spend the month of September with her parents, while Mr. Cloud is away on business. Mrs. Cloud is the former Emily Anne Royce.

Mrs. Sara Ritter left recently for Iowa City, Ia., where she will attend the University of Iowa.

Mike Ritter will enter Baylor Military academy in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Wade Ansell Cotton, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cotton has left to enter Tulane University. He will major in architectural engineering.

OPERA CLUB BEGINS 17TH YEAR WITH SEPTEMBER MEETING IN HOME OF MRS. P. A. PO

The Opera Club of Monroe, organized in 1935, met Thursday morning, September 11 at 10 o'clock, to be it's 17th year. The place of meeting was the lovely home
Mrs. P. A. Poag at 311 Speed, with Mrs. Duncan M. Sm as co-hostess.

Prior to the business and program meeting, members of the Opera Club were called into the dining room to enjoy a conversational hour and delicious refreshments. Lovely fruit arrangements adorned the buffet and dining table, where Mrs. C. W. Caraway presided at the silver service. Tiny, hot bacon-filled biscuits, home-made jellies, miniature cinnamon rolls and coffee were served by the hostesses. A guest and charter member of the club, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, was welcomed at this time.

The business meeting opened with the singing of "My. Louisiana", eccompanied at the piano by Mrs. Poag. The club then repeated in unison, A Collect For Club Women. Mrs. Duncan M. Smith, out-going president, introduced Mrs. C. W. Caraway, president for the ensuing year.

The year promises to be an interesting and informative one, with the study of stories of famous operas and musical excerpts from them. In addition, each program during the year will honor one or more past president's of the Opera Club, who are still members. The first program was in honor of Mrs. L. V. Tarver, who served in 1936-37 and. Mrs. Paul J. Newman, who served in 1938-39.

Heard on the first program of the 1952-53 season was the story of Lucia de Lammermoor by Mrs. Smith. At the piano, Mrs. Melba H. Liner, presented Selected Melodies from the Opera. Mrs. Caraway told the Story of Samson and Delilah and Mrs. J. Norman Coon sang "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" from the same opera, accompanied by Mrs. Liner.

Members answering the roll call at this September meeting of the Opera Club, were:

Girl Scout News

Is everybody back in the groove now? School schedule pretty well settled, club work starting? The ole rut feels rather comfortable after all, doesn't it? Be sure, girls and grown - ups, too, that you leave a nice vacant spot for scouting in your week's schedule.

Hooray for the new Lexington school! From what we hear, leaders and girls, with the cooperation and support of the the P.-T. A. and the new principal, are going right ahead. Enthusiastic mother's meetings have already been held and it seems likely that any day now we can say there is a troop available for every girl in school. Credit goes to Mrs. Blackmon, Mrs Lewis, Mrs. Brady, and Miss McDonald.

The fifth grade at Highland is to have a new troop right away, due largely to the efforts of the Peters family who are thoroughly sold on scouting for girls. When daughter, Sharon, moved to her new home and entered the beautiful new school, everything was rosy except there was no scout troop. Mama Florence promptly called together the other mothers to see what could be done. You know what happens then. When enough women go after something they get it. Right! Next week we'll be able to say that the new troop is off to a good start.

The same thing is happening all over the Twin Cities as mothers and girls form that partnership that is known as girl scouting. Those of us who are convinced that every girl in our great country should look upon scouting as a part of that "Life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" that is her birthright, believe that the time is coming when we'll make it possible for every girl. It can be done.

Already after holding one troop meeting and planning ahead for the good times and worthwhile activities of fall and winter, several troops have asked for camping dates. They're on the calendar, a goal to look forward to. October is wonderful camping weather.

You'll be interested in knowing that the annual camping report, just mailed to national by the local council, shows that 250 girls and grown ups took part in camps of the one to three nights during the spring and summer. Next year's report ought to show an even higher number.

Echoes from summer activities are still drifting in. It seems that sewing classes had quite a carry-over, which is just what the sponsors wanted. We heard of several girls who went on to make other garments during the summer. What especially tickled us to hear was of the "advanced, advanced" class that three girls promoted in August. Our ever - enthusiastic Lucy Huckabee, who had taught the advanced group during regular sewing classes, helped her own daughter Yvonne, Nancy Breard, and Martha Riser to make some fall clothes for themselves. From what the proud mamas say, the girls did an excellent job and turned out some smart looking clothes. Just another example of good scouting, helping girls to follow an interest to their satisfaction.

All you grownups, mothers of scouts, former leaders or other workers, prospective leaders, all friends of scouting are expected to attend the annual adult get-together at Bayou DeSiard Country club at 10:00 Thursday morning, September 25. Plan to be there for an informal hour.

Okaloosa Club

Mrs. F. J. Crowell was hostess to the Okaloosa Home Demonstration Club at its September meeting, with Mrs. Estelle Luttrell, president presiding.

A short business session was held and the plans for entering two booths in the Ouachita Valley Fair, were discussed. Mrs. Newsom Coon, vice-president, read a poem, "The Things of Everyday." Poultry report for the month was given by Mrs. Luttrell. The highlight of the meeting was a discussion on "Building Your Life" by developing your personality by Mrs. Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent.

Two visitors were present, Mrs. Mary Roberts of Sardis Club and Mrs. Ida Wood of Cadeville Club.

The next meeting of the club will be in the home of Mrs. E. J. Hendricks Oct. 7.

The meeting adjourned by repeating the club collect. Delicious refreshments were served to, Mrs. Ida Wood, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Mrs. Samuel Crowell, Mrs. Shirley Fowler, Mrs. Estelle Luttrell, Mrs. Newsom Coon, Mrs. Euna D. Spielman and the hostess.

YWCA Activities

YRG'S

The YRG's met on Monday evening at the YWCA for supper and program. Betty Smith gave the devotional based on "God's Merciful Goodness". Miss Bess Sharp gave an interpretation of the YWCA explaining the symbol of the Blue Triangle, what it means to be a member of the Young Women's Christian Association, what it means to be a YRG, how the YWCA is supported through the interest and financial contributions of the community as an agency of the Twin City Community Chest. New officers were elected at this meeting and they are: President: Frances McClary; Vice - President; Pearl Hopkins; secretary-treasurer: Nell Furr; historian: Shirley Zumbro; social chairman: Melba Dumas.

BUSINESS & PROFESSIONAL GIRL'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Business & Professional Girls' Club was held at the Y on Wednesday night, September 10th. After having a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley and served by Kiki Gatzoulas and Bessie Kocotas as hostesses for this meeting, the club members assembled in the club rooms. Marion Simmons gave a beautiful devotional based on the thought "Hold High The Torch" which was very appropriate as the introduction of the Installation Service at which time each member and officer lighted a candle. The Installation Service was very impressive and the symbols of candles were used: the candles were so arranged that they formed three interdependent triangles. Kiki Gatzoulas explained the meaning of the candles as each formed a part of the triangles symbolizing: You, Your Club, Your YWCA. The officers who were installed were: President: Carolyn Swain; Vice-President: Jenibe Westbrook; Recording Secretary: Christine Ramano, Corresponding Secretary: Eva Smith; Treasurer: Bobbye Jean Beach; reporter: Helen Crosby. During the business meeting which followed Carolyn Swain presided. Plans were made for the parts on the program at the Conference to be held in El Dorado, Arkansas, October 4th and 5th. Mrs. Flournoy, Chairman of the Young Adult Committee of the YWCA, had plans to present to the club regarding some fall activities and classes. Suggestions presented by the club group were: bridge and dancing; improving your public relations; knitting. Helen Hunt and Frances McClary were welcomed as guests for the meeting. Members present were: Kiki Gatzoulas, Carolyn Swain, Jenibe Westbrook, Helen Crosby, Bobbye Beach, Betty Lou Alpha, Marion Simmons, Christine Romano, Bessie Kocotas, Maude Brownlee, Allie Marie Coats, Phoebe Miller, Eva Smith, Ella Pearl Sutton, Pat Patrick, Dean Fisher, Mrs. Hundley, and Miss Sharp.

Miss Esther Lewis Bride Of Charles Frances McDuff

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At St. Joseph's Catholic Church

A wedding of charming beauty and impressive dignity was solemnized at St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Saturday, August 30 at six in the evening, when Miss Ester Lewis, daughter of Mr. Joe Lewis, Jr. of Mena, Ark. became the bride of Mr. Charles Frances McDuff, son of Major and Mrs. William R. Haight of Atlanta, Georgia.

The altar was beautifully decorated with specimen white mums and fern. Candles burning in seven branch candelabra cast a mellow glow as this popular young couple repeated the marriage vows, with Rev. Thomas Cashman officiating. Single specimen mums caught with white satin bows marked the pews.

A program of organ music was rendered by Mr. Billy Huckaby who also accompanied Mrs. J. B. Speir as she sang "Ava Maria" and "The Lords Prayer."

As the notes of the wedding march sounded, the ushers, Louis T. Brodnax, Ben R. Tipton, John Davis McAdams, Martin Rodgers, and Paul Pomeroy, marched down the aisle, taking their places at the altar.

Following came the bridesmaids, Mrs. Louis T. Brodnax, Mrs. Ben R. Lipton, Miss Sarah Jane Wadsworth, Miss Donna Bacon, and Miss Essie Gabbert, wearing bouffant dresses of pale gold net over taffeta, they carried muffs of the same material with tiny bouquets of mums, with ivy lending grace to the lovely picture as they stood opposite the ushers, presenting a perfect setting. Miss Mavis Pate served as Maid of Honor, wearing an identical gown.

The bride was never lovelier than on her wedding day, as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was becomingly gowned in a mist of Chantilly lace over a high waisted bodice frosted with tiny pailettes, then carved in antique satin was a fitted midriff and a skirt of intricate pleating with a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion, finger tip length, was caught with embroidered motifs of pearls. She carried a bouquet of creamy white tuberoses and carnations set in the middle of soft satin bows. Mr. Jack Taylor McDuff served as best man for his brother as he stood at the altar to await his bride.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length model of old rose Chantilly lace and starched net, with navy velvet accessories, a corsage of white carnations complemented her costume. The groom's mother chose an evening gown of dusty rose satin with bodice, embellished with pearls. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. McDuff, eldest daughter of Mr. Joe Lewis, Jr. received her education in Home Economics from Northwestern State College.

For the past two years she has been employed at the Louisiana Power and Light Company.

Mr. McDuff is the second son of Mrs. William R. Haight and the late Mr. McDuff. He attended Louisiana Tech and L. S. U. where he received his degree in geology. He served eighteen months in the Naval Air Corps during World War II and is now serving in the armed forces in a technical service unit and is stationed at Fort Lee, Virginia.

He will soon enter a school of petroleum engineering in New Jersey where they will reside. After his release from the U. S. Army Mr. McDuff will return to his position with Interstate Natural Gas Company in Monroe, La.

Reception

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pomeroy, friend of this popular young couple, who the evening before had a reception for their own daughter Miss Dorothy Alice Pomeroy.

The reception suite was artistically decorated with arrangements of white and orchid asters. Mrs. Pomeroy stood with her sister Mrs. G. L. Cunningham to greet the guests as they entered the living room to greet the bride and groom where they stood with their attendants.

The mothers stood with them as introductions to new friends and renewing of old friendships was enjoyed by a concourse of friends who were present for this delightful occasion.

Miss Betty Horne was seated near the guest book as Mrs. R. C. Williams greeted the guests on the porch. Mrs. D. S. Norris presided at the punch bowl, and the wedding cake was served by Mrs. John H. Oden.

Roaming hostesses serving were Mrs. Dan McDuff, Miss Martha Ann Ludlum, Mrs. J. R. Ludlum, and Mrs. H. R. Templeton, each attired in becoming gowns with corsages of contrasting color.

The guests passed through the house, emerging at the back on the lovely lawn where friends lingered to chat and await the departure of the bridal couple.

After the signing of the license they departed for points south going to New Orleans with stops to visit relatives upon their return.

The brides traveling ensemble was fashioned of deep gold linen with loose short jacket. Sleeves were rag-o-muffin, three quarter length, with skirt cut on straight lines. Her accessories were of black velvet.

For her corsage she plucked the beauty spot of her bridal bouquet, fashioned of cream carnations.

Out-of - town guests included: Mrs. Mary Slavent, Miss Carmalyn Slavent, Mrs. Hubert R. Ossusky, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lewis, Miss Margaret Ann Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Leo DeStephano, Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeStephano, Miss Billie June Sanderson, and Mr. George B. ROADMASTER
BUICK

BENEATH that big broad bonnet is the reason for this headline.

It's a four-barreled automatic carburetor—Airpower by name—which has a way of gulping in what the dictionary defines as "a sudden blast of wind" when extra power is needed.

And the way this gorgeous performer can step out as this occurs is something you'll always remember.

For ordinary driving, two barrels are all you need – and two barrels are all that are working. They give you an extra thrifty flow of fuel for round-town cruising.

When extra power is wanted in a hurry —the "reserves" swing into action— feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners.

It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power—a car of expansive room—restful silence – level in gait – beautifully responsive to your mood and will.

And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in parking and slow-motion maneuvers, and still let you feel a proud sense of command and a sure sense of control on the highway.

There's just one question we'd like to ask: When are you going to come in and enjoy the ride of your life?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER and SUPER only.

Members of the Sylvan Garden Club in Urania met Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Dick Walsh for their monthly social and program. Artistic arrangements of purple snapdragons and blue salvia were used in the living room, while a beautiful arrangement of golden marigolds in a crystal bowl centered the dining table.

The meeting was opened with the reading of "Collect," with the president, Mrs. Ed Blevins presiding. The treasurer, Mrs. Quincy Cornwell gave a report, and Mrs. Blevins read the State Federated Club news letter.

Mrs. W. C. Procter was in charge of the program and requested a definite commitment of each member on one special flower she will grow, study it's habits and make an arrangement using it.

At the close of the program, a beautiful poem "Away" by James Whitcomb Riley, was read by Mrs. Leon Brooks, in memory of the late Mr. Q. T. Hardtner.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bessie Walsh served a delicious ice course to mesdames: Ed Blevins, G. S. Walsh, J. H. Glidden, Quincy Cornwell, Harry Nichols, L. D. Chumley, L. Volentine, A. M. Johnston, Nollan Harwood, W. C. Procter, C. F. Matthews, W. C. Hicks, Leon Brooks, C. E. Tannehill, F. A. Thomas, and one guest, Mrs. Bessie Walsh of Winnfield.

Home Gardener Club Meets With Mrs. H. O. Hartman

Members Enjoy Tour Of 'Old Southern Gardens' Following First Meeting Of Club Year

The Home Gardener Club held the first meeting of the new club year in the home of Mrs. H. O. Hartman on South Grand Street, September 3rd.

The business session showed that a busy year is in progress from the beginning under the able leadership of Mrs. Frank V. Reitzell, president.

The committee chairmen were enthusiastic with their reports of early plans and splendid cooperation from the committee members to assure a year of success and satisfaction.

Recognition was given the new year books, presented at this time by Mrs. M. J. Hortman, year book chairman, and met with the approval of each member present.

Mrs. Jewell McQuiller, program chairman, outlined in brief the interesting programs for the year, that the committee had worked out, with great effort and consideration, for mutual approval.

Immediately after the meeting adjourned the members enjoyed a short drive out to the Filhiol Plantation home for a tour of "Old Southern Gardens." Mrs. John Filhiol and Miss Marie Filhiol's old Southern hospitality was extended in a most gracious manner, and members visited throughout the lawn and home and viewed with interest the antique and beautiful furniture so well shown in this stately home of a past period.

Enjoying the occasion were: Mrs. Frank V. Reitzell, Mrs. J. A. Funston, Mrs. Frank Williams, Mrs. Saul Adler, Mrs. Aline Bannister, Mrs. Gerald Bryant, Mrs. S. D. Burnette, Mrs. Sam Card, Mrs. Jim Carroll, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. Cleve Cornette, Mrs. Alice David, Mrs. M. M. DeWees, Mrs. R. N. Dozier, Mrs. T. L. Firnberg, Mrs. Gerald Frazier, Mrs. Milton Ford, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. M. J. Hortman, Mrs. H. F. Madison, Jr., Mrs. John A. Peters, Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. C. D. Smith Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Young, and hostesses Mesdames John Filhiol, Jewell McQuiller, H. O. Hartman, M. W. E. Munholland, H. W. Montgomery and Miss Marie Filhiol.

Power Steering on the Roadmaster and Super

Beneath that big broad bonnet is the reason for this headline.

It's a four-barreled automatic carburetor—Airpower by name—which has a way of gulping in what the dictionary defines as "a sudden blast of wind" when extra power is needed.

And the way this gorgeous performer can step out as this occurs is something you'll always remember.

For ordinary driving, two barrels are all you need—and two barrels are all that are working. They give you an extra thrifty flow of fuel for round-town cruising.

When extra power is wanted in a hurry—the "reserves" swing into action—feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners.

It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power—a car of expansive room—restful silence—level in gait—beautifully responsive to your mood and will.

And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in parking and slow-motion maneuvers, and still let you feel a proud sense of command and a sure sense of control on the highway.

There's just one question we'd like to ask: When are you going to come in and enjoy the ride of your life?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER and SUPER only.

LOU COSTELLO, MITZI GREEN and BUD ABBOTT are a cozy threesome in a scene from Universal-International's "LOST IN ALASKA."

TIME OUT FOR MERRIMENT

Dan Dailey, Corinne Calvet and James Cagney offer toasts of good cheer in Twentieth Century-Fox's "What Price Glory," the acclaimed Technicolor comdey-drama due today at the Paramount Theatre.

Cagney, Calvet, Dailey In 'What Price Glory'

"What Price Glory," Twentieth Century-Fox's new Technicolor version of the immortal play by Maxwell Anderson and Laurence Stallings, will open today at the Paramount Theatre starring James Cagney as Captain Flagg, Corinne Calvet as Charmaine and Dan Dailey as Sergeant Quirt.

A timeless story of camaraderie forged in the flame of battle, "What Price Glory" is the account of soldiers who fail to lose their identity behind the olive drab uniforms which turned them into a fighting machine during World War I, and of the fears, hopes and desires of these individuals, and of the romance which some managed to find even amid the holocaust of war.

It is also the humorous, brawling account of two of the most dynamic characters American letters have yet produced — "Captain Flagg" and "Sergeant Quirt" —the fun loving, death-defying professional soldiers who fight each other tooth and nail over a mademoiselle until its time to face the Boche and then, arm in arm, they march off to battle.

The new version of "What Price Glory" has been brought to the screen under the guiding hand of Director John Ford, the veteran of such masterpieces as "How Green Was My Valley," "The Informer," "The Long Voyage Home" and "Fort Apache." Collaborating with Ford on the venture was Sol C. Siegel, whose impressive touch has been placed on "A Letter To Three Wives," "On The Riviera" and "I Was A Male War Bride."

Ford and Siegel were fortunate in obtaining the services of James Cagney, last seen in "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye" and "The West Point Story," for their "Flagg." Corinne Calvet, recently co-starred with Martin and Lewis in "Sailor Beware," supplies the ideal French maiden, "Charmaine." Dan Dailey, the versatile actor-singer-dancer, last seen in "The Pride of St. Louis" is a natural for the garrulous Quirt."

Dailey and Miss Calvet collaborate on a pair of new songs by tunesmiths Ray Evans and Jay Livingston while the film is interspersed with the strains of "Mademoiselle from Armentieres," "Oui, Oui, Marie," "Tipperary" and "The Caissons Go Rolling Along."

Featured in the outstanding supporting cast are William DeDmarest, Craig Hill, Robert Wagner, Marisa Pavan, Casey Adams, Wally Vernon, James Gleason and Henry Letondal.

RAY BOLGER IN SHOW AT TEM

Will Play Moving Picture Lead Of Role He Created On Stage

Dream assignment of any star performer is to play on the screen the role he created on the stage. Ray Bolger spent many years on Broadway and Hollywood before he achieved this ambition in "Where's Charley?"

The talented dancer starred in the modernized song and dance production for two and one - half years on Broadway. Then he recorded his performance on Technicolor film for the Warner Bros. version of the footlight hit, with Allyn McLerie, feminine lead in the legitimate show, playing opposite Bolger again in the picture. It is playing now at the Tem Theatre.

As a youngster, Ray recalled, he had never danced anything but the waltz. Having made a date for his high school's senior prom, Ray was greatly annoyed when the orchestra only played two waltzes. For most of that evening, Ray was obliged to sit between the faculty and the punch bowl as his date danced in the arms of other boys. Right then, he decided to get hep to Terpsichore.

There followed years of schooling in the art before he was ready for his debut. He toured with a musical comedy road company, leaving it in New York to appear with Gus Edwards. Next came George White's "Scandals," and "Life Begins in 8:40," after which Hollywood grabbed him for "The Great Ziegfeld." Shuttling between Broadway and the screen capital, Bolger has appeared in such stage successes as "On Your Toes," "Keep Off the Grass," "Three to Make Ready" and "Where's Charley?" His film credits include "The Wizard of Oz," "Look For the Silver Lining" and now "Where's Charley?" which had its premiere engagement at New New York's famed Radio City Music Hall.

Robert Shackleton, Mary Germaine, Horace Cooper and Margaretta Scott share featured roles in "Where's Charley?" directed by David Butler.

Dewey Martin is hushed by Elizabeth Threatt during a perilous situation in Howard Hawks' "The Big Sky," which stars them along with Kirk Douglas, Arthur Hunnicutt and Buddy Baer. RKO distributes.

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—A traffic violator has learned that greenbacks and green stamps are not the same thing.

City Attorney George Richardson returned 100 green merchandise stamps mailed to him as payment of fines. Richardson asked the motorist to remit $2 instead.

Armed Service

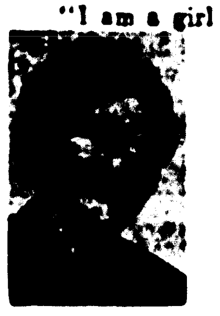
Pfc. Amos Climmons, 710 Ford Street, Monroe, La. completed processing for relief from active military duty at the Separation Center, Fort Jackson, South Carolina, on Sept. 9, 1952.

As a civilian Pfc. Climmons will continue to serve in the active reserve of the Enlisted Reserve Corps to complete his selective service obligation.

Dorothy Dix

EXTRACTS from three letters, culled from among hundreds received on the same subject, show the intensity of feeling on this timeworn problem.

"I am 16, a senior in high school, and I think that 12 or 12:30 on Saturday nights, and half an hour earlier on other nights, is the right time for me to be home. My parents insist that 11:30 is late enough."



"I am a girl of 16. My parents are very strict with me. When I go out on a date I have to be in by 11 o'clock, or I lose my dating privileges for two months. My friends tease me because their parents let them stay out until 12:30 or 1."

"I am a working girl of 17, and give part of my money to my mother for herself each week, though I do not pay board. I go out each night after I get home with my girl friend. I come home at 9; if I'm half an hour late my mother yells and tells me that as long as I'm under her roof I must be in no later than 9 o'clock. She also insists that I tell her every single thing I do when I'm out and, though I do nothing I can't tell her, I would like to keep some things to myself."

ANSWER: The hour at which parents want their children home is not an arbitrary subject that can be dismissed with a simple statement of time. Many things should go into the consideration of a proper hour for a teen-ager's homecoming, but the one reason I would not consider satisfactory is that "Anne's—or Polly's or Mary's—parents let her stay out much later."

STARTS VICIOUS CIRCLE

This is the start of a vicious circle. Trying to keep up with what the other youngsters in a neighborhood do is a futile race, and not to be accepted as an argument.

In the first two letters quoted, local custom permits far later dating privileges than I would consider wise. For 16-year-old girls to come home habitually from dates at 12:30 or 1 is too late. For exceptional outings, it could be permitted, but not every night, or even every week-end night. The parents who do let their daughters stay out so late do so, not because they believe in it, but because they are too easily coerced by their children, or by the argument that "everyone else does it." If parents stuck together on the question, the argument would cease to exist. When every child is due home by 11, there can be no tears because one must be home at that hour while the others stay out until 1.

Teen-agers need a minimum of nine hours sleep a night—some authorities prefer ten or eleven. This sleep should be well started before midnight, rather than running into the middle of the next morning.

The third letter does quote what I consider an unreasonable attitude on the part of a parent. Apparently the girl doesn't date and her evenings out are only with girl friends. For a girl who doesn't have time for recreation during the day, 9:30, or even 10, is not an unreasonable curfew. Here again, however, the girl shouldn't be out every night. Some evenings should be spent at home, for the sake of family unity as well as for the sake of her own health.

Parents certainly should know where their children go at night, should be acquainted with the company they are keeping, but I agree with my third correspondent that a teenster likes to keep somethings to herself—if it's only the flavor soda she had.

DEAR MISS DIX: After twenty years of marriage, my husband is seeing a married woman much younger than he. He insists he loves me and the children, has no wish for a divorce, but won't stop seeing the other woman. Do you think he will come to his senses?

D. W.

ANSWER: A waiting game is the only thing you can play in this triangle, unless you want to break up your home. Affairs of this type seem to be quite commonplace among men in middle age—it's the last fling, or so they excuse it. Actually, it's a lack of backbone when a woman with nothing else to do beckons. Your husband will undoubtedly come back, a sadder and wiser man.

DOROTHY DIX tells why it's a mistake to marry a mother's boy in leaflet D-6, "Mother Complex." To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

2. DOES THE ALCOMETER (ALCOHOL MEASURER) AFFECT PEOPLE PSYCHOLOGICALLY? YES ☐ NO ☐
3. SHOULD A TEACHER TELL PARENTS THE IQs OF THEIR CHILDREN? YES ☐ NO ☐
Released 1952 by John F. Dille Co.
CHATTON
1. IN SPRING, DO FLOWERS AND MOON CAUSE A YOUNG MAN'S FACE TO TURN TO THOUGHTS OF LOVE? YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1

1. These probably aid the process, but it seems mostly due to the increased hormones from the pituitary gland at the base of the brain, due chiefly to the increased daylight—not moonlight. Some biologists call this gland "the love gland" as it strongly influences male interest in the opposite sex.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. First it stops the "two beer liars"—men who have had a half dozen drinks and swear they have only smelled a glass or two of beer. Furthermore, thousands of persons have been jailed for drunkenness because they were driving or walking unsteadily from other causes—dizziness, a stroke, temporary paralysis, blocking of the eighth cranial nerve that influences balance, etc. No doubt persons have died in jail charged with "drunkenness" when they should have been rushed to the hospital and treated for other maladies

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No, because parents over-rate or (rarely) underrate what the IQ means. If it is high they are likely to flaunt it before other parents or children. Worst of all, if one child has a much higher IQ than another they often use this comparison to make the child of lower IQ feel inferior. A good IQ means a child will do well at school studies if he works hard and has a sound personality. Parents should usually be told merely that their child is in "the normal range."

Food Supplies Expected To Exceed Those Of Year Ago

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) There is plenty of food for everyone again this year.

This statement was made today by L. C. LeBlanc, of Capitol Stores, Inc., Baton Rouge, commenting on scare stories on sky-rocketing food prices.

LeBlanc revealed that four great food retail organizations — Super Market Institute, National Association of Retail Grocers, National Association of Food Chains, and Cooperative Food Distributors of America have issued vigorous statements pointing out that food is in long supply and the housewife will still exercise the strongest influence on prices.

He revealed that the four leading retail food organizations said that the U. S. Department of Agriculture's report confirms the overall food supply this year will be slightly larger than 1951. The bumper grain crop should assure a large meat supply.

Vegetable crops generally have already been harvested in areas where the rains have been below normal. In other commercial vegetable producing areas the crops are reported in good condition and canners are packing to capacity.

Prices may properly be expected to reflect increase cost—raw materials, wages, transportation and others. These higher costs obviously could not be absorbed by food distributors whose profits under favorable conditions are only 1 cent on a dollar of sales — and in many cases are now substantially below normal, the Capitol Store executive stated.

The Congress, after careful consideration, removed economic controls on a portion of the food business because it is in the public interest to do so, LeBlanc said.

Adequate food supplies and the good judgment of homemakers in their daily food buying are the best assurances of stable prices, he concluded.

Small Defense Plants Management Has Leaflets

Henry H. Ritter, acting, regional director of the Small Defense Plants administration, today announced the issuance of two new leaflets for small manufacturing plants giving technical information on the machining of plastics and suggestions for reducing business expense by training new employees.

The leaflets, Number 11 in the dual series of technical aids and management aids, were prepared by SDPA's Management Service division and may be obtained free on request from the SDPA regional office located at 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Tex. This office serves small business firms in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephone Lowman

The average woman in the home gets up in the morning and rushes all day.

10 Minutes Each Hour Correct Way To Rest

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Housewives can learn a lot from the Army, and also from industrial engineers. If you have sons, relatives or friends in the army you may know that they are required to put down their packs and rest for ten minutes out of every hour. The army insists on this because it has learned through many tests that men can march better and hold up better if they do this.

The housewife or factory worker or business woman would benefit by the same procedure. In fact many companies do have rest periods for their workers because they have found that this increases their workers' efficiency. Yet the woman in the home, who has every opportunity to plan her day, does not take advantage of what the armed forces and the experts in efficiency have learned.

Rushes All Day

The average woman in the home gets up in the morning and rushes all day. She feels downright smug if she takes a rest after lunch. By that time she is so tired that even an hour's rest, after three or four hours of work, will not make up for the ten minute rest she should have taken every hour.

This may sound extreme but it has been scientifically proven. Why not apply this principle to your day and find out how much more energetic you feel at the end of each day?

Do you realize that sitting in a chair requires 30 per cent more energy than lying down, that standing uses 38 per cent more energy than lying down and that walking takes 290 per cent more energy? Add to these sweeping, which requires 118 per cent more energy than lying still and dishwashing which takes 86 per cent more.

Most people do not realize how much pep we use walking up and down stairs. When I tell you that walking up stairs uses 1,336 per cent more energy than lying still and that even walking downstairs 372 per cent more, you will see what I mean. Women should save themselves trips up and down stairs whenever possible.

You Lose Energy

Our energy is our most precious possession. Without plenty of it we can never hope to accomplish the things we wish to or to live with verve and imagination. It is worth serious thought to increase the amount available to us.

There are great leaks in the expenditure of our energy. These unsuspected ones often are the most important ones. Just as small leaks in the budget can ruin us financially so small leaks in use of our energy can make us chronically tired. Today I have suggested one or two leaks. Stop them.

If you would like to have my leaflet, No. 56, "Pep," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Are You Always Tired: Try These Energy Ideas."

Woodmen Circle Has Election Of Officers

Parlor City Grove, 288, Woodmen circle, met Thursday night in Woodmen hall with Mrs. Almeda presiding.

After the opening ceremony, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Opal Thompson,; first vice-president, Mrs. Lorelle Ellis; second vice-president, Mrs. Walterene Caldwell, attendant; Jewell Earl, secretary; Mrs. Ora Beasley, treasurer; Mrs. Annie Bouler, auditor; Mrs. Etta Babin, chaplain; Mrs. Mirthialda Hayton, assistant attendant; Mrs. Gladys Corn, musician; Mrs. Aline Gulledge, assistant musician; Mrs. Gladys Frierson, captain; Mrs. Nancy Beyland.

The above officers will be installed October 9 by Mrs. Almeda Welch, installing officer.

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Clara Benoit, Mrs. Annie Krepps and Mrs. Ethel Jones.

Plans for the district meeting in Shreveport were discussed.

In 18 previous appearances against its first three 1952 football opponents Texas has a won-lost-tied record of 9-8-1. The marks are 6-5-1 with L. S. U., 2-1-0 with North Carolina and 2-1-0 with Notre Dame.

TECH APPROVED FOR VETERANS

Those In Korean Conflict Will Be Admitted To Institution

RUSTON, Sept. 13 (Special)—Louisiana Tech has been approved to offer courses for veterans of the Korean conflict under Public Law 550, effective with the opening of the fall semester on Monday, Sept. 15.

The Tech president, R. L. Ropp, received a letter from Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education, announcing approval of the college through certification by the office of the U. S. Commissioner of Education.

The approval resulted from investigation of courses listed in the Tech catalog. In his letter, Supt. Jackson said the Tech courses were approved for the following reasons:

"All courses are accredited as follows:

"Education Courses — American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

"Engineering Courses — Engineers' Council for Professional Development." (Tech is one of three educational institutions in Louisiana with engineering courses approved by the ECPD accrediting agency).

Several Korean veterans already planning to enter Tech this fall constitute the vanguard of a heavy G. I. enrollment here in ensuing semesters, President Ropp pointed out.

Armed Service

Pfc. Amos Climmons, 710 Ford Street, Monroe, La. completed processing for relief from active military duty at the Separation Center, Fort Jackson, South Carolina, on Sept. 9, 1952.

As a civilian Pfc. Climmons will continue to serve in the active reserve of the Enlisted Reserve Corps to complete his selective service obligation.

Dorothy Dix

EXTRACTS from three letters, culled from among hundreds received on the same subject, show the intensity of feeling on this timeworn problem.

"I am 16, a senior in high school, and I think that 12 or 12:30 on Saturday nights, and half an hour earlier on other nights, is the right time for me to be home. My parents insist that 11:30 is late enough."

"I am a girl of 16. My parents are very strict with me. When I go out on a date I have to be in by 11 o'clock, or I lose my dating privileges for two months. My friends tease me because their parents let them stay out until 12:30 or 1."

"I am a working girl of 17, and give part of my money to my mother for herself each week, though I do not pay board. I go out each night after I get home with my girl friend. I come home at 9; if I'm half an hour late my mother yells and tells me that as long as I'm under her roof I must be in no later than 9 o'clock. She also insists that I tell her every single thing I do when I'm out and, though I do nothing I can't tell her, I would like to keep some things to myself."

ANSWER: The hour at which parents want their children home is not an arbitrary subject that can be dismissed with a simple statement of time. Many things should go into the consideration of a proper hour for a teen-ager's homecoming, but the one reason I would not consider satisfactory is that "Anne's—or Polly's or Mary's—parents let her stay out much later."

STARTS VICIOUS CIRCLE

This is the start of a vicious circle. Trying to keep up with what the other youngsters in a neighborhood do is a futile race, and not to be accepted as an argument.

In the first two letters quoted, local custom permits far later dating privileges than I would consider wise. For 16-year-old girls to come home habitually from dates at 12:30 or 1 is too late. For exceptional outings, it could be permitted, but not every night, or even every week-end night. The parents who do let their daughters stay out so late do so, not because they believe in it, but because they are too easily coerced by their children, or by the argument that "everyone else does it." If parents stuck together on the question, the argument would cease to exist. When every child is due home by 11, there can be no tears because one must be home at that hour while the others stay out until 1.

Teen-agers need a minimum of nine hours sleep a night—some authorities prefer ten or eleven. This sleep should be well started before midnight, rather than running into the middle of the next morning.

The third letter does quote what I consider an unreasonable attitude on the part of a parent. Apparently the girl doesn't date and her evenings out are only with girl friends. For a girl who doesn't have time for recreation during the day, 9:30, or even 10, is not an unreasonable curfew. Here again, however, the girl shouldn't be out every night. Some evenings should be spent at home, for the sake of family unity as well as for the sake of her own health.

Parents certainly should know where their children go at night, should be acquainted with the company they are keeping, but I agree with my third correspondent that a teenster likes to keep somethings to herself—if it's only the flavor soda she had.

DEAR MISS DIX: After twenty years of marriage, my husband is seeing a married woman much younger than he. He insists he loves me and the children, has no wish for a divorce, but won't stop seeing the other woman. Do you think he will come to his senses?

D. W.

ANSWER: A waiting game is the only thing you can play in this triangle, unless you want to break up your home. Affairs of this type seem to be quite commonplace among men in middle age—it's the last fling, or so they excuse it. Actually, it's a lack of backbone when a woman with nothing else to do beckons. Your husband will undoubtedly come back, a sadder and wiser man.

DOROTHY DIX tells why it's a mistake to marry a mother's boy in leaflet D-8, "Mother Complex." To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

2. DOES THE ALCOMETER (ALCOHOL MEASURER) AFFECT PEOPLE PSYCHOLOGICALLY? YES ☐ NO ☐
3. SHOULD A TEACHER TELL PARENTS THE IQs OF THEIR CHILDREN? YES ☐ NO ☐
Protected 1952 by John F. Dille Co.
CHATTON
1. IN SPRING, DO FLOWERS AND MOON CAUSE A YOUNG MAN'S FACE TO TURN TO THOUGHTS OF LOVE? YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1

1. These probably aid the process, but it seems mostly due to the increased hormones from the pituitary gland at the base of the brain, due chiefly to the increased daylight—not moonlight. Some biologists call this gland "the love gland" as it strongly influences male interest in the opposite sex.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. First it stops the "two beer liars"—men who have had a half dozen drinks and swear they have only smelled a glass or two of beer. Furthermore, thousands of persons have been jailed for drunkenness because they were driving or walking unsteadily from other causes—dizziness, a stroke, temporary paralysis, blocking of the eighth cranial nerve that influences balance, etc. No doubt persons have died in jail charged with "drunkenness" when they should have been rushed to the hospital and treated for other maladies

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No, because parents over-rate or (rarely) underrate what the IQ means. If it is high they are likely to flaunt it before other parents or children. Worst of all, if one child has a much higher IQ than another they often use this comparison to make the child of lower IQ feel inferior. A good IQ means a child will do well at school studies if he works hard and has a sound personality. Parents should usually be told merely that their child is in "the normal range."

Food Supplies Expected To Exceed Those Of Year Ago

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) There is plenty of food for everyone again this year.

This statement was made today by L. C. LeBlanc, of Capitol Stores, Inc., Baton Rouge, commenting on scare stories on sky-rocketing food prices.

LeBlanc revealed that four great food retail organizations — Super Market Institute, National Association of Retail Grocers, National Association of Food Chains, and Cooperative Food Distributors of America have issued vigorous statements pointing out that food is in long supply and the housewife will still exercise the strongest influence on prices.

He revealed that the four leading retail food organizations said that the U. S. Department of Agriculture's report confirms the overall food supply this year will be slightly larger than 1951. The bumper grain crop should assure a large meat supply.

Vegetable crops generally have already been harvested in areas where the rains have been below normal. In other commercial vegetable producing areas the crops are reported in good condition and canners are packing to capacity.

Prices may properly be expected to reflect increase cost—raw materials, wages, transportation and others. These higher costs obviously could not be absorbed by food distributors whose profits under favorable conditions are only 1 cent on a dollar of sales — and in many cases are now substantially below normal, the Capitol Store executive stated.

The Congress, after careful consideration, removed economic controls on a portion of the food business because it is in the public interest to do so, LeBlanc said.

Adequate food supplies and the good judgment of homemakers in their daily food buying are the best assurances of stable prices, he concluded.

Small Defense Plants Management Has Leaflets

Henry H. Ritter, acting, regional director of the Small Defense Plants administration, today announced the issuance of two new leaflets for small manufacturing plants giving technical information on the machining of plastics and suggestions for reducing business expense by training new employees.

The leaflets, Number 11 in the dual series of technical aids and management aids, were prepared by SDPA's Management Service division and may be obtained free on request from the SDPA regional office located at 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Tex. This office serves small business firms in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephone Lowman

The average woman in the home gets up in the morning and rushes all day.

10 Minutes Each Hour Correct Way To Rest

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Housewives can learn a lot from the Army, and also from industrial engineers. If you have sons, relatives or friends in the army you may know that they are required to put down their packs and rest for ten minutes out of every hour. The army insists on this because it has learned through many tests that men can march better and hold up better if they do this.

The housewife or factory worker or business woman would benefit by the same procedure. In fact many companies do have rest periods for their workers because they have found that this increases their workers' efficiency. Yet the woman in the home, who has every opportunity to plan her day, does not take advantage of what the armed forces and the experts in efficiency have learned.

Rushes All Day

The average woman in the home gets up in the morning and rushes all day She feels downright smug if she takes a rest after lunch. By that time she is so tired that even an hour's rest, after three or four hours of work, will not make up for the ten minute rest she should have taken every hour.

This may sound extreme but it has been scientifically proven. Why not apply this principle to your day and find out how much more energetic you feel at the end of each day?

Do you realize that sitting in a chair requires 30 per cent more energy than lying down, that standing uses 38 per cent more energy than lying down and that walking takes 290 per cent more energy? Add to these sweeping, which requires 118 per cent more energy than lying still and dishwashing which takes 86 per cent more.

Most people do not realize how much pep we use walking up and down stairs. When I tell you that walking up stairs uses 1,336 per cent more energy than lying still and that even walking downstairs 372 per cent more, you will see what I mean. Women should save themselves trips up and down stairs whenever possible.

You Lose Energy

Our energy is our most precious possession. Without plenty of it we can never hope to accomplish the things we wish to or to live with verve and imagination. It is worth serious thought to increase the amount available to us.

There are great leaks in the expenditure of our energy. These unsuspected ones often are the most important ones. Just as small leaks in the budget can ruin us financially so small leaks in use of our energy can make us chronically tired. Today I have suggested one or two leaks. Stop them.

If you would like to have my leaflet, No. 56, "Pep," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Are You Always Tired: Try These Energy Ideas."

Those In Korean Conflict Will Be Admitted To Institution

RUSTON, Sept. 13 (Special)—Louisiana Tech has been approved to offer courses for veterans of the Korean conflict under Public Law 550, effective with the opening of the fall semester on Monday, Sept. 15.

The Tech president, R. L. Ropp, received a letter from Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education, announcing approval of the college through certification by the office of the U. S. Commissioner of Education.

The approval resulted from investigation of courses listed in the Tech catalog. In his letter, Supt. Jackson said the Tech courses were approved for the following reasons:

"All courses are accredited as follows:

"Education Courses — American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

"Engineering Courses — Engineers' Council for Professional Development." (Tech is one of three educational institutions in Louisiana with engineering courses approved by the ECPD accrediting agency).

Several Korean veterans already planning to enter Tech this fall constitute the vanguard of a heavy G. I. enrollment here in ensuing semesters, President Ropp pointed out.

Bible Comment
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

In The Time Of King David
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

David, first successful King of Israel, after the tragic downfall and suicide of Saul, the first chosen king, has become a great figure in succeeding centuries, a sort of religious symbol down to our time.

He is the harpist and singer, symbolizing music in life and worship; he is the Psalmist, voicing life's deepest emotion, and aspirations; he is a symbol of the loyal and affectionate friend in his love for Jonathan, a counterpart in the religious world of the famous Damon and Pythias; and perhaps, more than any other famous man except Abraham Lincoln, he symbolizes magnanimity and elemental gentleness in such incidents as his sparing the life of Saul and in the famous incident of the water from the Well of Bethlehem (II Samuel 23:14-17).

But what of Israel during David's time? What was the condition religiously and socially of the people whom he consolidated for the first time into a nation?

For hitherto, I think it might be said, the Jews had been a people rather than a nation, with a tribal rather than a national organization —a fact strikingly interesting in our own time when there is again a Jewish nation in Palestine.

David, the successful man of war, brought peace to Israel. For the first time since the return from Egypt there was the opportunity for some permanency of building and prosperity.

Despite the fact that we are living today in a war economy and our evident prosperity seems built largely upon vast production and expenditures incident to war, I think that history shows that the great eras of social and economic prosperity have been based on peace.

Iron curtains, fears, suspicions, and hostilities have almost abolished international trade and exchange, the potential volume, power and wealth of which can be only dimly imagined if all the progress of communication and transportation could be brought into effect and action in a world of international peace.

David brought peace to Israel, and an abounding prosperity, the full nature of which became evident in the heritage he left to Solomon who continued to build upon the foundations David laid.

This prosperity brought its own problems, as prosperity has brought them in successive generations. A spirit of materialism arose in contrast with the religious aspiration and expression that found its highest and noblest utterance in Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the Temple (I Kings 15:53).

So in the national life, as in the lives of individuals, the conflict between good and evil, between religious aspirations and materialism, went on until evil eventually, or temporarily, triumphed to bring the nation down in division, dispersion and exile—with an ultimate restoration, fortunately, in the days of Ezra and Nehemiah.

REV. EDWARDS IS TO PREACH HERE

Former Army Chaplain Is To Fill Pulpit For Covenant Presbyterians

Covenant Presbyterian Church, meeting temporarily in the Brown auditorium, Northeast College, will have for its preacher Sunday Rev. Johnathan Edwards whose subject will be "No Man Ever Spoke Like This Man."

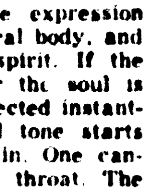
A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

By J. Paul Hewitt

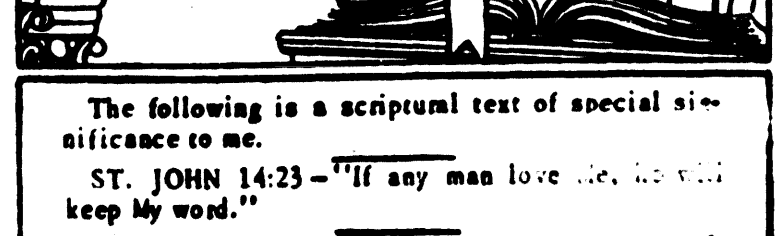


There's nothing any more beautiful than the human voice. It is the only musical instrument with a heart, a mind and a soul. The singer plays upon no instrument but himself, but it should never be thought that the instrument is located solely in the throat, the nasal cavities and the lungs. The magnificent Lilli Lehmann used to say: "When I sing I have a sensation that my whole body is singing from the crown of my head to the bottom of my feet."

The voice is the expression of the whole physical body, and intellect and the spirit. If the body, the mind or the soul is ill, the voice is affected instantly. Beautiful vocal tone starts in the singer's brain. One cannot think with the throat. The tone is originated in the brain.

As the great golden tenor, Enrico Caruso, once said: "When I sing I forget all about my body, my throat, technic, breathing, everything but the words, the music and the drama involved. As the melody ascends I try to make my voice blossom out like a flower. The tones always float out. They are never pushed out. Fancy the gamut or scale of your voice as a series of cups or chalices like the musical glasses. Fill each chalice with the most beautiful tone your musical imagination can conceive." How these golden chalices can be filled is a matter of endless search for an ideal. Knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of the throat, breathing, posture, practice with vocalises and a sound understanding of musical literature is important, but above all else, the tone is in the mind and in the soul.

Though a beautiful voice is a rare gift, a knowledge of music is somethinng that can belong to everyone . . . the ability to play the piano will bring many hours of pleasure and relaxation. Remember we don't only sell the best pianos . . . we also rent them. HEWITT, INC., 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1401.



Bible Words to Live by

The following is a scriptural text of special significance to me.

ST. JOHN 14:23—"If any man love Me, he will keep My word."

This verse challenges our loyalty and love of God. Much in the spirit of a kindred text: "Not everyone that says to Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven," Christ here gives us a means to measure our faith and to free ourselves from the plague of inconsistency. We apply such tests to our neighbor when we question his sincerity. What use for him to protest affection if he continually affronts us. Why not then apply the same sensitive gauge to our relationship with God? Too many who pray: "Thy Will be done" illustrate by their actions an attitude of "My will be done." We should all achieve greater happiness for ourselves and better peace with our neighbor if we measured our righteousness by conformity with God's WILL. We prove our love by our loyalties to God as well as to another.

School To Accept Nursing Students

In response to many requests, the Ouachita Valley Vocational school, Slack street, West Monroe, announces that six additional students will be accepted in its school of practical nursing.

The first six applicants will be given preference if they meet the entrance requirements: physical examination, ages between 18 and 45 years, and who have had two years of high school work and can furnish school transcripts.

Those interested should appear at the school office at 8 a. m., Monday, September 15. The time will not be extended beyond this date.

NATIONALISTS TRADE

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalistst had a favorable balance of trade of more than nine million dollars in the first five months of the year, thanks to increased production in all fields, the Ministry of Economic Affairs reports. Increased production was noted in rice, sugar, cement, salt, coal, textiles, and fertilizer.

Bible Comment
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

In The Time Of King David
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

David, first successful King of Israel, after the tragic downfall and suicide of Saul, the first chosen king, has become a great figure in succeeding centuries, a sort of religious symbol down to our time.

He is the harpist and singer, symbolizing music in life and worship; he is the Psalmist, voicing life's deepest emotion and aspirations; he is a symbol of the loyal and affectionate friend in his love for Jonathan, a counterpart in the religious world of the famous Damon and Pythias; and perhaps, more than any other famous man except Abraham Lincoln, he symbolizes magnanimity and elemental gentleness in such incidents as his sparing the life of Saul and in the famous incident of the water from the Well of Bethlehem (II Samuel 23:14-17).

But what of Israel during David's time? What was the condition religiously and socially of the people whom he consolidated for the first time into a nation?

For hitherto, I think it might be said, the Jews had been a people rather than a nation, with a tribal rather than a national organization —a fact strikingly interesting in our own time when there is again a Jewish nation in Palestine.

David, the successful man of war, brought peace to Israel. For the first time since the return from Egypt there was the opportunity for some permanency of building and prosperity.

Despite the fact that we are living today in a war economy and our evident prosperity seems built largely upon vast production and expenditures incident to war, I think that history shows that the great eras of social and economic prosperity have been based on peace.

Iron curtains, fears, suspicions, and hostilities have almost abolished international trade and exchange, the potential volume, power and wealth of which can be only dimly imgained if all the progress of communication and transportation could be brought into effect and action in a world of international peace.

David brought peace to Israel, and an abounding prosperity, the full nature of which became evident in the heritage he left to Solomon who continued to build upon the foundations David laid.

This prosperity brought its own problems, as prosperity has brought them in successive generations. A spirit of materialism arose in contrast with the religious aspiration and expression that found its highest and noblest utterance in Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the Temple (I Kings 15:53).

So in the national life, as in the lives of individuals, the conflict between good and evil, between religious aspirations and materialism, went on until evil eventually, or temporarily, triumphed to bring the nation down in division, dispersion and exile—with an ultimate restoration, fortunately, in the days of Ezra and Nehemiah.

REV. EDWARDS IS TO PREACH HERE

Former Army Chaplain Is To Fill Pulpit For Covenant Presbyterians

Covenant Presbyterian Church, meeting temporarily in the Brown auditorium, Northeast College, will have for its preacher Sunday Rev. Johnathan Edwards whose subject will be "No Man Ever Spoke Like This Man."

Reverend Edwards was born in Dallas, Tex. and received a degree from Austin College, Sherman, Tex. in 1920 and Union Seminary in Richmond, Va. in 1924. He has held pastorates at Willspoint, Tex., 1924-25; Madison Heights, Virginia, 1926-28; Woodstock, Va., 1929-41; 1941-46, chaplain in the Army in United States, France and Germany with the 66th division artillery and with the 723rd railway operating battalion. After a pastorate in the mountains and coal fields of Maryland and West Virginia, at Kitzmiller, Md. from 1946 to 1950, he was recalled to active duty with the army, serving in the reception center, Ft. Geo. G. Meade, Md., 5th division chaplain, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pennsylvania, and with the quartermaster depot, in Japan to July of this year.

You are most cordially invited to worship with Covenant Presbyterian Church this Lord's Day. A nursery is maintained for small children during each service at this church.

On Monday at 5:45 p.m., there will be a meeting of elders, deacons, trustees and women officers of this church held at a supper session in Hotel Frances.

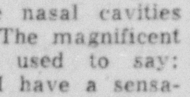
A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO
By J. Paul Hewitt



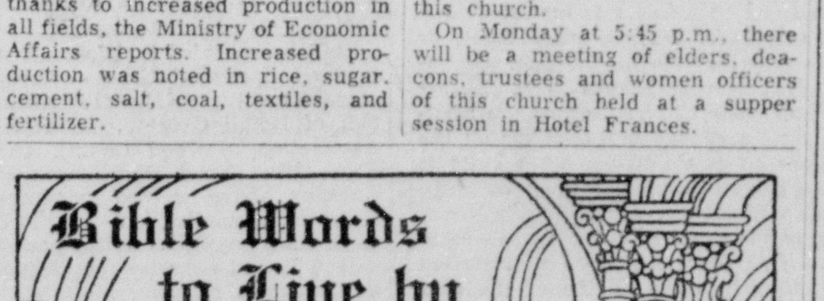
There's nothing any more beautiful than the human voice. It is the only musical instrument with a heart, a mind and a soul. The singer plays upon no instrument but himself, but it should never be thought that the instrument is located solely in the throat, the nasal cavities and the lungs. The magnificent Lilli Lehmann used to say: "When I sing I have a sensation that my whole body is singing from the crown of my head to the bottom of my feet."

The voice is the expression of the whole physical body, and intellect and the spirit. If the body, the mind or the soul is ill, the voice is affected instantly. Beautiful vocal tone starts in the singer's brain. One cannot think with the throat. The tone is originated in the brain.

As the great golden tenor, Enrico Caruso, once said: "When I sing I forget all about my body, my throat, technic, breathing, everything but the words, the music and the drama involved. As the melody ascends I try to make my voice blossom out like a flower. The tones always float out. They are never pushed out. Fancy the gamut or scale of your voice as a series of cups or chalices like the musical glasses. Fill each chalice with the most beautiful tone your musical imagination can conceive." How these golden chalices can be filled is a matter of endless search for an ideal. Knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of the throat, breathing, posture, practice with vocalises and a sound understanding of musical literature is important, but above all else, the tone is in the mind and in the soul.

Though a beautiful voice is a rare gift, a knowledge of music is somethinng that can belong to everyone . . . the ability to play the piano will bring many hours of pleasure and relaxation. Remember we don't only sell the best pianos . . . we also rent them. HEWITT, INC., 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1491.

Bible Words to Live by



The following is a scriptural text of special significance to me.

ST. JOHN 14:23—"If any man love Me, he will keep My word."

This verse challenges our loyalty and love of God. Much in the spirit of a kindred text: "Not everyone that says to Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven," Christ here gives us a means to measure our faith and to free ourselves from the plague of inconsistency. We apply such tests to our neighbor when we question his sincerity. What use for him to protest affection if he continually affronts us. Why not then apply the same sensitive gauge to our relationship with God? Too many who pray: "Thy Will be done" illustrate by their actions an attitude of "My will be done." We should all achieve greater happiness for ourselves and better peace with our neighbor if we measured our righteousness by conformity with God's WILL. We prove our love by our loyalties to God as well as to another.

Condiments Make Indian Dinner Fourteen-Boy Affair

By Uncle Frank Kohler

An East Indian curry dinner for eight may include many items, using as the main dish a curry similar to the one we described last week. We are told that out there one boy serves each item, so let's call this a 14-Boy Meal. We do it without all that help, however. The guest takes some of each condiment he desires, piles it all atop the curry on the rice, mixed it all together, and then falls to.

The 14 suggestions are:

An imported Major Grey type chutney of a rather sweet type; ditto of a hot type; "Bombay Duck," a dried fish that is ground up as one item; dried salt codfish, broken into bits, salt and all, and toasted a deep brown in the oven; seedless small raisins, boiled until they are plump, and drained; finely chopped onion; finely chopped hard boiled eggs; finely chopped green pepper; grated fresh coconut; chopped cashew nut, toasted very brown; grated orange peel, just the yellow outside part; chopped dried salt herring; chopped very crisp bacon.

Any or all of the foregoing may be passed. We find that a group of small dishes on a tray helps the service materially.

The remaining dishes that may accompany the curry are fried egg plant and fried bananas. The egg plant is cut in cubes about 1 inch each way, dipped in beaten egg and bread crumbs, and deep fried until they are golden brown. The bananas, which should be quite ripe, are cut lengthwise and then in half, and fried slowly in butter or margarine. They should be sprinkled with a little brown sugar, lemon juice, and a little powdered cinnamon and powdered clove.

The "Poppadums" which we mentioned last week are difficult to find sometimes. Melba toast, with white bread cut thin and browned evenly in the oven, makes a good substitute. Toasted water crackers have also been used satisfactorily.

The Gimlet Cocktail, said to be the invention of a British Major of the same name, enjoys well deserved popularity throughout the British colonies, we're told. In a large bowl champagne glass, place 1 teaspoon simple (sugar) syrup; 1 teaspoon imported preserved unsweetened lime juice; 3 ounces of top grade gin. Stir gently, then add 1 large ice cube, fill with ice water and decorate with a very thin slice of fresh lime. It makes a most attractive, appealing and satisfactory starter, and puts the guests in a properly receptive frame of mind. We like to serve only an unsweetened and unsalted cocktail biscuit with the Gimlets. We like an imported Holland beer with the curry for this particular function, and for those who don't like beer, Lancer's wine. The liqueurs which make the greatest impression and seem rather in keeping are Creme de Rose, and Batavia Arrak. A very black demitasse is suggested at this point.

Send in your favorite recipe and a stamped addressed envelope, mailing it to this newspaper, and receive your Life Membership card in The Skillet Club. It is becoming quite a sizeable body of enthusiasts.

Dancing Party At Community Club

Mrs. J. B. Massey and Mrs. "Bud" King entertained with a dancing party at the Community Club on Friday evening complimentary to their daughters Miss Mary Ann Massey and Miss Peggy Ann King, celebrating their sixteenth birthdays.

A white and green color scheme was effectively carried out. The long refreshment table with its two toned cover was centered with a beautifully embossed birthday cake bearing the inscription, "Happy Birthday to Peggy Ann and Mary Ann." On either side were small dolls dressed in replicas of the honorees' costumes flanked by crystal bowls holding sprays of clematis blossoms. At either end of the table were placed crystal punch bowls presided over by Miss Joy Massey and Mrs. Bob White. Trays of delicious sandwiches tinted in green and white and individual decorated cakes were served.

Coffee Hour At Synope Honors Former Residents

Major And Mrs. H. O. Parrack Honored Sunday By Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Reynolds

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Reynolds entertained Sunday afternoon during the coffee hour in honor of Major and Mrs. H. O. Parrack of Dayton Ohio. The honorees made their home for a number of years in Monroe and guests who called were among their intimate friends.

Assisting in the delightful courtesies were Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Kate Hastings, Miss Jennie and Jorenda Reynolds, Mr. Neal Reynolds, and Mr. Johnny Crump.

The refreshment tables in the dining room had as centerpieces on the Lazy Susans, cotton stalks ladened with fluffy white bolls. They were mounted on black iron stands and beneath the branches were interesting wax figures of darkies made by a New Orleans French family.

The sideboard was arranged with delectable sandwiches, cookies, and fresh fruit chiffon pies. Noted in the dining room was a beautiful epergne overflowing with white and purple grapes and purple Batchelor buttons.

Enjoying the afternoon at Synope with the Reynolds and their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McConnell, Mrs. and Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rushing, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. John P. McKee and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Durrett and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Grew.

The Home Shift

BY MILDRED SWIFT

Well — the drouth continues, more critical than ever now that the cool drying winds are here. Keep watering or those shrubs you've brought this far through the summer, will surely die.

A Verbal Orchid

I talked to Mr. Joe Ellis last week about the trees. He says he's worried about both trees and shrubs. His men are kept busy carrying off limbs falling from trees in the parks and streets. Have you ever seen a person so well fitted for the job he holds as Mr. Ellis? He knows plants and loves them. Cele Parker said once "If you love your plants enough, they'll always live." That must be the reason Mr. Joe can do so much with plant life—he loves them into living. The man must love people, too or he couldn't put up with all our idiosyncrasies. Mr. Joe has helped the girls in our garden clubs and has followed through on every civic project suggested by them. We've learned to depend on his good judgment—and it has been good judgment in our officials of different administrations to recognize such ability.

Hats Again

Next Thursday, September 18 we'll have another hat class at the Agricultural Building, thanks to those good leaders Maud Mayo, Blanche Ray, Margaret Webb and Mrs. Duncan Smith. We'll miss Jo Whetstone whose working at Fay Kramers. However she may get to see us part of the day.

We'll work only on felts Thursday. Please borrow a hat mold. There are about one hundred in the Twin Cities. If you can't find one, call me and I'll give you the names of women that I think will lend you one. Here's what you'll need to bring: (Clip this list.) 1. Plenty of pins; 2. Scissors; 3. Needles, thread, thimble, tapeline; 4. Thread color of hat and trimming; 5. A felt hat; 6. A razor blade; 7. Trim for hat if you need trimming; 8. Cleaning fluid.

Maud, Blanche and Margaret have been doing some felt dying. So if you want to dye your felt hat, the girls say bring a package of all purpose Rit, the color you want and a boiler large enough to hold the hat. Please be on time. Bring a lunch. We'll not get through until around 3 o'clock. Forgot to say the leaders will help you cut that old felt into the latest style hat.

Garden News

I have twenty packages of seed of choice varieties of Louisiana Native Iris, sent to me by Mr. Claude Davis of Baton Rouge. I'll give these to the first twenty people calling for them Monday morning, any time after 9 o'clock. Mr. Davis says, "These seed should have been planted in July but if they're planted as soon as received and kept moist it will still germinate this year. I would suggest to each gardener that the corky coating be peeled from each seed before planting."

It is not too late to lift and replant Easter lily bulbs, if you'll do this at once and keep them moist.

Making Over Picture Frames

That gifted Maud Mayo says she will help me give a demonstration on making over picture frames. Almost any kind of frame can be repainted or finished in antique white or other color. If you're interested in this, call me. We'll give the demonstration if there are enough requests.

While in Baton Rouge, I learned that picture mats can be covered with linen, raw silk or be painted, picking up some color that is in the picture. This is a good idea for old mats that have become discolored with age.

Sweaters

One of the biggest fashion fads that's come along in years is the present craze for decorated sweaters, all beaded and beribboned and glittery. The shop windows are full of these lovely woolens. You can decorate your own sweater. Buy a beading pattern and stamp the design on a piece of organdy Place this on the wrong side of the sweater. Use a basting stitch to outline the pattern on the right side of the sweater. The transfer pattern will tell you how to put on the beads, which can be bought at the downtown stores. You'll end up with a lovely new sweater.

That's all for today. See you again next Sunday in this same column.

Catholic Ladies To Have Church Bazaar In November

The September meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Altar Society was held in St. Matthew's Rectory with Mrs. L. Waldroup, Mrs. W. Cunningham and Mrs. A. Schneider as hostesses.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, the minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report given.

MISS HAZEL THERESE ANSEMAN WEDS JOHN WILLIAM DELLSPERGER

Mrs. Hazel Kirsch Anseman, of New Orleans, announces the marriage of her daughter, Hazel Therese Anseman, to John William Dellsperger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dellsperger, also of New Orleans.

The wedding was celebrated on September 1 at a nuptial mass in St. Louis Cathedral at 9 a. m.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Daniel Federoff.

Mrs. Jack Farrell was matron-of-honor and Miss Gene Clair Anseman, sister of the bride, was maid - of - honor. The other attendant was Miss Gladys Elisabeth Federoff, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Dellsperger had as his best man his father. The groomsmen were Henry Charles Lester and Henry J. Haas, III.

Following a motor trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Shreuisbury Pl., Metairie.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and Louisiana State University. She is the niece of Mrs. Paul Keller of this city.

The groom was graduated from Louisiana State University.

But Brother—How He Bought!

No wonder!

He had a dozen trunks, suitcases and crates bulging with things most Americans take for granted—U.S. canned goods, a television set, several radios, an automatic toaster, powder soaps, blankets, sheets, the latest electric razors—plus a lot of other things including nylons, that Russian Commissars are probably planning to "invent" next year!

Undoubtedly, when in Moscow, he explained that only "Capitalists" enjoyed these things in America.

You can be sure he didn't say that in the U.S.A. there are some 150,000,000 "capitalists" with access to thousands of brands of these good things—or that most Americans already possess many of them!

And that the only Dictator in America is the consumer, whose free choice of brands determines whether a product sells or disappears.

You, the consumer, are boss in this land of brands! Remember them as you read the advertisements in this publication—and trade at the stores where you see them featured.

Condiments Make Indian Dinner Fourteen-Boy Affair

By Uncle Frank Kohler

An East Indian curry dinner for eight may include many items, using as the main dish a curry similar to the one we described last week. We are told that out there one boy serves each item, so let's call this a 14-Boy Meal. We do it without all that help, however. The guest takes some of each condiment he desires, piles it all atop the curry on the rice, mixed it all together, and then falls to.

The 14 suggestions are:

An imported Major Grey type chutney of a rather sweet type; ditto of a hot type; "Bombay Duck," a dried fish that is ground up as one item; dried salt codfish, broken into bits, salt and all, and toasted a deep brown in the oven; seedless small raisins, boiled until they are plump, and drained; finely chopped onion; finely chopped hard boiled eggs; finely chopped green pepper; grated fresh coconut; chopped cashew nut, toasted very brown; grated orange peel, just the yellow outside part; chopped dried salt herring; chopped very crisp bacon.

Any or all of the foregoing may be passed. We find that a group of small dishes on a tray helps the service materially.

The remaining dishes that may accompany the curry are fried egg plant and fried bananas. The egg plant is cut in cubes about 1 inch each way, dipped in beaten egg and bread crumbs, and deep fried until they are golden brown. The bananas, which should be quite ripe, are cut lengthwise and then in half, and fried slowly in butter or margarine. They should be sprinkled with a little brown sugar, lemon juice, and a little powdered cinnamon and powdered clove.

The "Poppadums" which we mentioned last week are difficult to find sometimes. Melba toast, with white bread cut thin and browned evenly in the oven, makes a good substitute. Toasted water crackers have also been used satisfactorily.

The Gimlet Cocktail, said to be the invention of a British Major of the same name, enjoys well deserved popularity throughout the British colonies, we're told. In a large bowl champagne glass, place 1 teaspoon simple (sugar) syrup; 1 teaspoon imported preserved unsweetened lime juice; 3 ounces of top grade gin. Stir gently, then add 1 large ice cube, fill with ice water and decorate with a very thin slice of fresh lime. It makes a most attractive, appealing and satisfactory starter, and puts the guests in a properly receptive frame of mind. We like to serve only an unsweetened and unsalted cocktail biscuit with the Gimlets. We like an imported Holland beer with the curry for this particular function, and for those who don't like beer, Lancer's wine. The liqueurs which make the greatest impression and seem rather in keeping are Creme de Rose, and Batavia Arrak. A very black demitasse is suggested at this point.

Send in your favorite recipe and a stamped addressed envelope, mailing it to this newspaper, and receive your Life Membership card in The Skillet Club. It is becoming quite a sizeable body of enthusiasts.

MISS HAZEL THERESE ANSEMAN WEDS JOHN WILLIAM DELLSPERGER

Mrs. Hazel Kirsch Anseman, of New Orleans, announces the marriage of her daughter, Hazel Therese Anseman, to John William Dellsperger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dellsperger, also of New Orleans.

The wedding was celebrated on September 1 at a nuptial mass in St. Louis Cathedral at 9 a. m.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Daniel Federoff.

Mrs. Jack Farrell was matron-of-honor and Miss Gene Clair Anseman, sister of the bride, was maid - of - honor. The other attendant was Miss Gladys Elisabeth Federoff, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Dellsperger had as his best man his father. The groomsmen were Henry Charles Lester and Henry J. Haas, III.

Following a motor trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Shreuisbury Pl., Metairie.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and Louisiana State University. She is the niece of Mrs. Paul Keller of this city.

The groom was graduated from Louisiana State University.

The United States bought Alaska from Russia in 1869 for $7,200,000.

But Brother—How He Bought!

When one of the Comrades who had been enjoying America was called back home behind the iron curtain recently, he frantically protested when the news photographers at the ship aimed their cameras.

No wonder!

He had a dozen trunks, suitcases and crates bulging with things most Americans take for granted—U.S. canned goods, a television set, several radios, an automatic toaster, powder soaps, blankets, sheets, the latest electric razors—plus a lot of other things including nylons, that Russian Commissars are probably planning to "invent" next year!

Undoubtedly, when in Moscow, he explained that only "Capitalists" enjoyed these things in America.

You can be sure he didn't say that in the U.S.A. there are some 150,000,000 "capitalists" with access to thousands of brands of these good things—or that most Americans already possess many of them!

And that the only Dictator in America is the consumer, whose free choice of brands determines whether a product sells or disappears.

You, the consumer, are boss in this land of brands! Remember them as you read the advertisements in this publication — and trade at the stores where you see them featured.

WORK COLLEGE GRADS

HONG KONG (AP)—College graduates in Red China this year need give no thought to their future — Communist boss Mao Tze - Tung and his henchmen will take care of that.

Under government edict, graduates in science and technology courses can look forward to assignments to specific work. Some of this will be on railroad and road projects in the far off deserts and mountains of Sinkiang and high Tibet.

Medical school graduates can be sure of one thing — they will not go into private practice. They will be needed for "factories, mines, epidemic prevention work and public hospitals for government functionaries," says the edict.

Tourney Play Can Offer Good Tips

By SWALD JACOBY

Today's hand is taken from the semi-finals of an important English tournament. It is worth a second look because of the way declarer handled the diamonds.

Before we get to the play of the cards, however, it is interesting to notice how South bid the hand. His jump to four spades may seem rash, but there was actually a good deal of logic in it. The bidding of the opponents indicated that they didn't have very powerful hands. South therefore correctly judged that North would show up with a moderately good hand.

West opened the queen of hearts, and declarer naturally won in dummy with the ace. The first question was whether to finesse in clubs or in spades. Declarer came up with the right answer by leading a club from dummy and finessing the jack of clubs.

Opening lead—♥ Q

This was correct because there was a slight chance that the king of spades would fall without a finesse, whereas there was practically no chance that the king of clubs would drop. Moreover West's bid of one no-trump practically located the king of spades in the West hand.

After winning with the jack of clubs, declarer led the ten of spades from his hand, and all played low. South next laid down the ace of spades, hoping that West had been unwise enough to duck the first trump with only a doubleton king. As it happened, of course, this hope failed, and South had to give up a spade trick. West got out safely with a heart, and South ruffed.

South now had to find some way of limiting the loss in diamonds to two tricks. South decided that East was probably short in diamonds, since he was practically marked with a six-card heart suit.

How did South know about the length of East's hearts? West had opened the queen of hearts and had later played the ten of hearts. If West had held a third heart, he would have opened his low card rather than the queen. Hence West was marked with only two hearts, which meant that East started with six.

Having decided that East was probably short in diamonds, South began that suit by leading the jack from his hand. West won with the king of diamonds, and on the next round of diamonds South played low from the dummy, in the hope that East would have to play his ace, whether he liked it or not. This turned out to be the case, and South therefore made his ambitious contract.

Card Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Heart	Pass	2 Diamonds	Pass
2 Hearts	Pass	2 Spades	Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-Q, Hearts A–K10-7-5, Diamonds 8-5-3, Clubs 9-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three diamonds. You cannot pass, since North's "reverse" bid is forcing for one round. You cannot raise spades, you have already rebid the hearts, and you cannot bid no-trump with no strength in the unbid suit. All you can do is show a preference for diamonds.

Governor Names Men For Game, Fish Group

JONESVILLE, Sept. 13 (Special) — Members of the Catahoula Lake Game and Fish commission were appointed this week by Governor Robert F. Kennon.

Members, according to word from the governor's office, are: T. S. Butler and E. W. Plummer, both of Jena; John C. Burden, Jr., Alexandria attorney; Clarence E. Lincecum of Georgetown and Roland T. Huson, publisher of the Catahoula newspapers.

Plummer was reported to have questioned his appointment on the ground that R. W. Wagner, Jena newspaperman, had been scheduled for membership on the commission. Plummer said he returned his commission Thursday to the governor with a request that Wagner be appointed in his stead. It is expected that Plummer will be named secretary to the commission.

The commission was created by the 1952 legislature to supervise survey and development of Catahoula lake. A companion appropriation bill provided $25,000 for a survey to determine the feasibility of constructing a dam and low spillway in Little river at Jonesville. The spillway, as presently proposed, would be approximately 18 feet below the bank of Little river. It would provide for fluctuating levels of water in Catahoula lake but would prevent drying up of the lake practically every year.

DORIS BURNETT GARDEN LEADER

Doris Burnett, member of Ouachita Parish High School 4-H Club, placed 1st in State Garden Contest and as an award will receive an all expense trip to National Club Congress in Chicago the first week in December, as announced by Audrey H. Dawson, Assoc. Home Demonstration Agent. Doris has been a 4-H member for seven years and has done an outstanding job in gardening, food preservation and dairy calf projects. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Burnett of Woodlawn Community.

Ouachita Parish has its share of 4-H members in the State finals. The girls Demonstration Team, composed of Elaine Russell and Cherry Butler of the Calhoun 4-H Club will compete in finals for trip to Club Congress.

Dorothy Lee Russell also of the Calhoun Club will compete in finals in Food Preparation Contest.

Patsy Ruth Johnson of Ouachita Parish High School will model her school costume in State finals.

The meat identification team composed of Ida Jo Luton, Sara Mikel, Betty Frost of Ouachita Parish High School will take part in State Contest. All these girls are from Logtown Community.

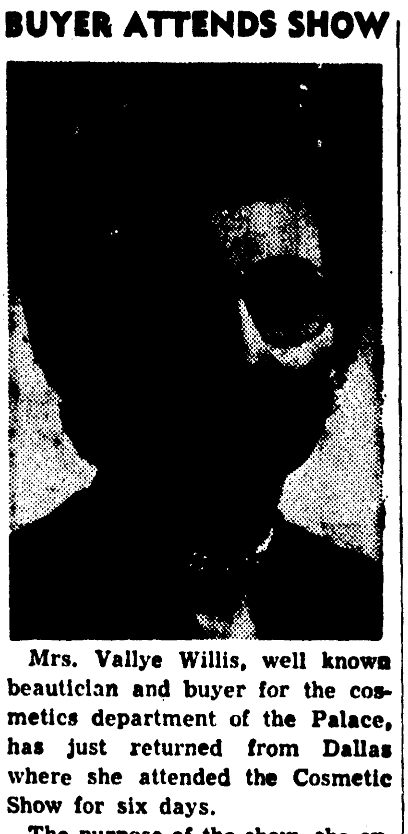
The State 4-H Short Course was called off this year due to Polio epidemic. Elimination Contests have been held in the various Districts.

Finals in the girls contests other than the garden will be held on the University campus next September 20.

IN PAGEANT

Miss Betty Seabolt, Miss Shreveport of 1952, is the first entry in the beauty pageant at the Louisiana Forest Festival, Winnfield, Oct. 1 through 4. Miss Seabolt will represent both Shreveport and the queen's court of the Holiday-in-Dixie festival. This year's state forest festival will highlight the importance of forestry to Louisiana with contests, exhibits, parades, and beauty pageant built around a "tree farm" theme.

BUYER ATTENDS SHOW



Mrs. Vallye Willis, well known beautician and buyer for the cosmetics department of the Palace, has just returned from Dallas where she attended the Cosmetic Show for six days.

The purpose of the show, she explained, was for the different cosmetic firms to show their Christmas holiday lines, and all of the nationally famous firms that she regularly buys from were set up in show rooms located in four buildings in Dallas.

Mrs. Willis said that the packaging for Christmas is beautiful, and, in her opinion, would need no extra gift wrapping for Christmas giving. Too, most of the firms were not charging more for this special packaging as they have in the past. Charles of the Ritz, Elizabeth Arden and Lucien LeLong are offering exceptional values for this Christmas, with most of them being under five dollars. And, she added, with people recognizing these famous names as the best in cosmetics, they will truly welcome them as gifts.

Accompanying Mrs. Willis on this trip was Miss Mary O'Kelly who attended the Gift Show that was also in Dallas, where she examined and bought the latest gifts in sterling, brass and antiques for the Palace. Some of the show rooms that she visited were heavily guarded and buyers were admitted only by proper identification, for Miss O'Kelly said that in these exhibits were shown some of the world's finest in sterling.

Another buyer who has just returned is Miss Mae Pettit, who made a flying trip to New York to see and select the latest styles in coats, suits and dresses for this winter.

Some of the famous names that she selected, which are arriving daily, are Jablow, Kraeler and Carmel, fashions that are seen time and time again in Vogue and Harper's Bazaar, and are to be found only at the Palace.

Miss Pettit said that it has been many years since she has seen such beautiful fashions and that the colors are simply out of this world. And, she added, selections should be made early for the best in fashions.

Which way

WHETHER YOU SEE EYE-TO-EYE with Adlai or Ike, one thing is certain:

From now till November 4th, you'll want to know how they look at all the big issues . . .

Europe . . . Korea . . . taxes . . . controls . . . income . . . all the problems that reach into your daily life here in our town.

And to help you weigh each candidate day by day as each issue comes to light—you turn to your newspaper. Just as you've turned to it daily for dozens of other reasons since you first learned to read.

For the latest facts . . . for goings-on in our town, our state, our entire world . . . to see what's for fun and what's for sale. Not only what—but where and when and how much it costs.

And in the newspaper we read all about it . . . or only as much as we want. We read any time we choose—any place we choose.

That's why nearly everybody reads the newspaper nearly every day.

• That's why so many people who sell advertised products insist that they be advertised in newspapers.

Because in newspapers an advertising message has a chance to reach all people who can buy. Not just sports fans or quiz fans or music fans or comedy fans . . . but everybody.

That's why all advertisers—both "national" and retail—invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

The newspaper is first with the most news . . . first with the most people . . . first with the most advertisers.

The St. Matthew's Mothers' Club will meet in the school gymnasium on Friday evening, September 19, at 3 o'clock, with Mrs. Richard Glaholt, president opening the first meeting of the 1952-53 school year. All parents and patrons interested in the work of St. Matthew's Parochial School are invited to attend. Parents of children attending St. Matthew's are urged to enroll as members of the organization.

Full day classes will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., at St. Matthew's School beginning Monday, September 15. A capacity enrollment obtains in the Elementary and High School departments, and both faculty and student body feel that a banner year lies ahead for St. Matthew's. They will dedicate their work of the year to God with a solemn service in St. Matthew's Church on Wednesday, September 17, when students and faculty will assist at a Holy Mass of the Holy Ghost, offered by the Right Reverend J. C. Marsh, superintendent of the school.

Among visitors to the parish during the past week were the football athletes of Catholic High School in Baton Rouge, under the direction of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart. The boys attended the Students Mass on Friday and received Holy Communion in a body.

St. Matthew's Parochial School of Monroe, is proud of the fact that four alumni left within the last week or so for study in the religious life. These are Miss Lerona Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller of Bawcomville West Monroe, who entered the novitiate of the Sisters of St. Francis of Calais, in Baton Rouge. Lerona finished school at St. Matthew's with the class of 1947.

Miss Christine Inzina, another graduate of St. Matthew's, who finished in 1951 entered the novitiate of the Daughters of the Cross in Shreveport, on September 8. She will study the life of the Sisters for a period of five or six years, and then will take final vows in the Order. Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Inzina of Monroe. Sam Jungina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jungina of Monroe, and Ray Ticheli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ticheli, of Monroe, both boys former students of St. Matthew's School left on Thursday for Maryhill Seminary near Alexandria, where they will study for the Diocesan priesthood. The prayers and good wishes of teachers, friends, and classmates follow these girls and boys in their newly adopted paths of life.

NEW PASTOR

Rev. Glenn B. Wright, above, is the new pastor of the Cleft Rock Baptist Church. Since accepting full time service with the church, material has been purchased and work is to start immediately to complete nine new Sunday School rooms and to remodel the main auditorium. Cleft Rock Church is located on the Winnsboro Road.

BAND PARENTS WILL ASSEMBLE

Winnsboro Group To Meet Director And Plan Fall Program

WINNSBORO, Sept. 13. —(Special)—The Winnsboro Band Parents club will meet at a special call meeting in the band room of the Winnsboro High school, at 7:30 Thursday night, September 18, to welcome Edward L. Johnston, who according to superintendent of Franklin parish schools W. B. Glover, has accepted the position of Franklin parish band director for the school year of 1952. Arthur Lewis Rhodes, Jr., club president, urges all band parents to be present at this meeting. Other important business must also be taken care of at this time.

Director Johnston replaces Oscar Barnes who took a year's leave of absence to obtain his master's degree in the Louisiana State University school of music.

Duane Bowen had been signed to replace Mr. Barnes, but he quit July 25 in order to take a permanent job at Rayville High school. Mr. Barnes has been working with the local bandsters for the past three weeks in order to have a marching band ready for the start of the football season.

Mr. Johnston is a graduate of Louisiana Tech in the band and vocal music department. The veteran of World War II played in numerous bands while serving with the armed forces.

Before coming to Winnsboro High school and Crowville, only bands in Franklin parish, he taught at Mansfield High in DeSoto parish for three and one - half years.

He is a native of Alexandria and married the former Miss Bessie Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Price of Winnsboro. They have two children.

Benediction.

The Baptist Music Association provides a means whereby the various churches in the area combine their efforts to realize mutual interest, coordinate their activities, and evaluate their individual progress.

"Music has always been a part of divine worship. Through music the heart is opened for the message. It tunes the heart, creates unity and restores emotional balance."

"I can conquer the world alone. Such is the triumphant spirit inspired by a great hymn. "I will sing with the spirit and with the understanding also," wrote Paul to the Corinthians.

Armed Service

With the 7th infantry division in Korea is Pfc. Willis O. Frith, Jr., Rayville, who recently completed six months service on the sweltering central front.

His division is taking part in patrol action against the Reds on the central front where the tempera ture often rises to 100 degrees and over during the day and at night drops to below 60.

Frith, a truck driver in service battery of the 48th field artillery, entered the army March, 1951 and has been stationed in Korea one year later.

UNITED STATES POLL

By Princeton Research Service, Kenneth Fink, Director

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 13.—What do the majority of the nation's voters regard now as the strongest and weakest points of the administration of Harry S. Truman, upon whom the majority of voters placed their seal of approval four years ago?

Truman policies having been made major issues in the presidential campaign of Dwight Eisenhower, the results of a United States Poll regarding the above question just completed by Princeton Research Service, are significant news.

Princeton Research Service's reporters went across the country to ask an accurate cross-section of the nation's voters (Republicans, Democrats, and Independents): 1. "What would you say are the chief weaknesses of the Truman administration?" 2. "And what would you say are the strong points of the Truman administration?"

Seven in every 10 of those interviewed mentioned one or more weaknesses, and analysis of the replies shows that the three things that are uppermost in the minds of rank and file voter critics of our present government do not include the high cost of living, Communists in government, or the Korean war. The top three weaknesses mentioned by the majority of voters are:

1. Corruption and Graft: "the internal revenue scandals;" "lack of integrity of some government officials."
2. Extravagance and waste: "too much spending;" "too poor handling of taxpayers' money."
3. President Truman Himself: "he is too individualistic;" "too self-centered."

An average of one out of every two persons interviewed in today's survey mentioned one of the above three.

Next most important weaknesses that are a matter of concern to the nation's voters, judging by the number of mentions, are, in order:

4. Foreign policy: "mishandling of dealings with foreign governments;" "poor foreign policy."
5. Poor Leadership: "not enough good men in office;" "too many purely political appointments;" "poor choice of higher personnel."
6. Inefficiency: "poor handling of important issues;" "mismanagement;" "poor administration methods."
7. High Taxes: "taxes too high;" "always going up."
8. Inflation and High Cost of Living.
9. The Korean War: "getting into a war we can't seem to get out of;" "no real attempt to end Korean War."
10. Lack of Cooperation with Congress: "too much disagreement between Congress and the administration."

Receiving fewer mentions are the following: Strikes; Too Much Catering to Labor; Been in Power Too Long; Firing of MacArthur; Communists in Government; Socialistic Program; Too many Government Workers; and Bureaucracy in Government.

Most significant result in today's survey is that Democrats, Republicans, and Independents alike name Corruption and graft and extravagance and waste as the two chief weaknesses of the Truman Administration.

Here's what the poll shows rank and file Democrats consider the 10 top weaknesses: 1. Corruption and Graft; 2. Extravagance and Waste; 3. High Taxes; 4. President Truman's Personality; 5. Inflation and High Cost of Living; 6. Inefficiency; 7. Poor Leadership; 8. Foreign Policy; 9. Lack of Cooperation with Congress; 10. Korean War, (in that order).

Also in order of mentions, here's what Independent voters all over the country consider the top 10 weaknesses of the present administration: 1. Corruption and Graft; 2. Extravagance and Waste: 3. Foreign Policy; 4. President Truman's Personality; 5. Poor Leadership; 6. Inefficiency; 7. Lack of Cooperation with Congress; 8. Korean War; 9 High Taxes; 10. Inflation and High Cost of Living.

Finally, here's what the nation's Republicans consider the top 10, in order: 1. Corruption and Graft; 2. Extravagance and Waste; 3. President Truman's Personality; 4. Inefficiency; 5. Foreign Policy; 6. Poor Leadership; 7. High Taxes; 8. Korean War; 9. Everything in General; 10. Strikes.

Equally interesting were the responses to the query, "What would you say are the strong points of the Truman Administration?" An analysis of them is being prepared for publication in this newspaper next Wednesday.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

Eleven of the fourteen members of the cast of "Room Service" have been chosen—that leaves only three more to go and our director will have his opening comedy well on the road. And that is a mighty fine start, 'cause "Room Service" is scheduled to open its eight night run on Wednesday October 15.

Of the eleven people chosen to appear in this hilarious comedy only three have previously trod the boards of the Selman Field playhouse, Carl Slakter, John Savage and Henry Haas, Jr. are Little Theatre favorites from other well remembered productions. Those making their acting debute in this production are Bill Anthony, Bobby Joe Jackson, Clyde Culpepper, Arthur McKnight, Ellen Browne, Helen Wilds, Jimmy Plaisance and Fred Hightower.

Our hard working director will probably have his other three cast members before we can get this into print, however, anyone interested in reading for one of the parts, just give me a buzz—I never feel in finer form than when I am introducing someone to the magic world of Little Theatre. It is grease paint, costumes, footlights, interpretation, applause, appreciation and most of all just grand entertainment.

This afternoon the group will be guest of Carl and Betty Slakter for a special reading rehearsal of the play. Next Tuesday night they will take to the stage of Little Theatre for four weeks of rehearsal and our fourteen friends of "Room Service" will find themselves turning into actors—The Sunday afternoon reading is scheduled for 3 P. M. and I am most anxious to hear it, 'cause I have been told by several people who were on hand for tryouts that the folks who have been chosen were and to quote "just made for the parts."

Elroy and Lorenza Smith are visiting friends and relatives in Monroe this week end. As you know they have temporarily deserted us for Baton Rouge and they have a very unique problem, whether to buy Monroe Little Theatre memberships or to buy Baton Rouge Little Theatre memberships. Our very helpful idea was to get both and then a fellow couldn't possibly go wrong —— Little Theatre had to get under way again for us to find out that our good friend Pete Linton was back in town and is connected with other Little Theaterites Troy and Nichols. Welcome home Pete and we haven't forgotten that wonderful performance of yours in "All My Sons" —— Bert Root vacationed at the family homestead in Upper Sandusky, Ohio —— If you hear people refer to Roy Holloway and Charles Tubbs as Carlos it's because they went south of the boarder down Mexico way for their vacation fun. Which reminds me we haven't seen Roy on stage for some time. How's about it Holloway? —— Let me remind you not to forget those memberships they need to be in by playbill printing time, deadlined for October 1st. For season memberships, still send your check to the Little Theatre of Monroe, Box 868, Monroe. Yes sir, and then you will be in for a whole season of good, good theatre —— See you again on Monday and we hope with a report on the complete cast for "Room Service."

PLAN PROGRAM FOR CRIPPLED

Ouachita Parish Society Holds September Session At Hotel

The Ouachita Parish Society for Crippled Children and Adults held its September meeting at the Frances Hotel with Rev. R. L. Ross presiding.

John Breard gave the treasurer's report. Donations amounting to $1305.40 had been received during the summer. Miss Armandine Renaud's gift of $140.00, from the proceeds of her Dance Revue, was the largest single donation.

Dr. H. L. Johns, W. W. Ward, Superintendent of Parish Schools, Van D. Odom, Superintendent of City Schools, were elected to serve on the board. C. F. Canizaro, a new member, was welcomed by the Chairman.

Dr. A. S. Hamilton called to the attention of those present, that by an act of the recent Legislature the funds of the Rehabilitation Program for children in the state had been cut. As a result of the action on the part of the legislature, a yearly sum of $200.00 will be the maximum amount that will now be allowed for each child. This reduction and limitation will seriously affect the efforts to carry on this work in the state, he said.

Dr. A. S. Hamilton was elected as delegate to attend the national convention to be held in San Francisco during the month of October.

Members present at the meeting were: Chairman R. L. Ross, J. M. Breard, Allen Sugar, Mrs. Clifton Flynn, Mrs. Henry Hinkle, Mrs. Milling Bernstein, Mrs. Sid Walker, C. M. Mitchell, A. F. Canizaro, L. U. Fourmy, Dr. W. C. Summer, Dr. Bert Heinberg, Tom Dupree, L. F. Taylor, N. A. Golson, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. W. J. Veazey, Miss Frances L. Barnes, Mrs. Mae Modes, Dr. A. S. Hamilton.

Rare Wood Used For Finest Furniture

The Monroe Furniture company has a marvelous display of the latest in living room, dining room and bedroom furnishings. Magnificently textured, Mindoro wood is utilized which comes from a rare species of tree which bears the name of the Philippine island where it was first discovered.

Because of the trees' great age and rugged life, their story is indelibly etched in the wood. Dense black markings mean hard drouth — years with little growth; rose tones show where the tree sucked minerals from the earth for food. Each piece of this wood tells a story all its own.

All furnishings have brilliantly engineered design, grace, comfort and efficiency as no furniture has ever shown before.

"Perspective", that is what it is called, is new as the newest, exclusive, functional and [illegible].

Quality and price are such as to make this furniture highly desirable. A display of this furniture is shown in the window of the Monroe Furniture company.

Tourney Play Can Offer Good Tips

By SWALD JACOBY

Today's hand is taken from the semi-finals of an important English tournament. It is worth a second look because of the way declarer handled the diamonds.

Before we get to the play of the cards, however, it is interesting to notice how South bid the hand. His jump to four spades may seem rash, but there was actually a good deal of logic in it. The bidding of the opponents indicated that they didn't have very powerful hands. South therefore correctly judged that North would show up with a moderately good hand.

West opened the queen of hearts, and declarer naturally won in dummy with the ace. The first question was whether to finesse in clubs or in spades. Declarer came up with the right answer by leading a club from dummy and finessing the jack of clubs.

SOUTH

♣ A J

Both sides vul.

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	1 ♠	1 N.T.	Pass
2 ♥	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead—♥ Q

This was correct because there was a slight chance that the king of spades would fall without a finesse, whereas there was practically no chance that the king of clubs would drop. Moreover West's bid of one no-trump practically located the king of spades in the West hand.

After winning with the jack of clubs, declarer led the ten of spades from his hand, and all played low. South next laid down the ace of spades, hoping that West had been unwise enough to duck the first trump with only a doubleton king. As it happened, of course, this hope failed, and South had to give up a spade trick. West got out safely with a heart, and South ruffed.

South now had to find some way of limiting the loss in diamonds to two tricks. South decided that East was probably short in diamonds, since he was practically marked with a six-card heart suit.

How did South know about the length of East's hearts? West had opened the queen of hearts and had later played the ten of hearts. If West had held a third heart, he would have opened his low card rather than the queen. Hence West was marked with only two hearts, which meant that East started with six.

Having decided that East was probably short in diamonds, South began that suit by leading the jack from his hand. West won with the king of diamonds, and on the next round of diamonds South played low from the dummy, in the hope that East would have to play his ace, whether he liked it or not. This turned out to be the case, and South therefore made his ambitious contract.

Card Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Heart	Pass	2 Diamonds	Pass
2 Hearts	Pass	2 Spades	Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-Q, Hearts A–K10-7-5, Diamonds 8-5-3, Clubs 9-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three diamonds. You cannot pass, since North's "reverse" bid is forcing for one round. You cannot raise spades, you have already rebid the hearts, and you cannot bid no-trump with no strength in the unbid suit. All you can do is show a preference for diamonds.

Governor Names Men For Game, Fish Group

JONESVILLE, Sept. 13 (Special) — Members of the Catahoula Lake Game and Fish commission were appointed this week by Governor Robert F. Kennon.

Members, according to word from the governor's office, are: T. S. Butler and E. W. Plummer, both of Jena; John C. Burden, Jr., Alexandria attorney; Clarence E. Lincecum of Georgetown and Roland T. Huson, publisher of the Catahoula newspapers.

Plummer was reported to have questioned his appointment on the ground that R. W. Wagner, Jena newspaperman, had been scheduled for membership on the commission. Plummer said he returned his commission Thursday to the governor with a request that Wagner be appointed in his stead. It is expected that Plummer will be named secretary to the commission.

The commission was created by the 1952 legislature to supervise survey and development of Catahoula lake. A companion appropriation bill provided $25,000 for a survey to determine the feasibility of constructing a dam and low spillway in Little river at Jonesville. The spillway, as presently proposed, would be approximately 18 feet below the bank of Little river. It would provide for fluctuating levels of water in Catahoula lake but would prevent drying up of the lake practically every year.

DORIS BURNETT GARDEN LEADER

Doris Burnett, member of Ouachita Parish High School 4-H Club, placed 1st in State Garden Contest and as an award will receive an all expense trip to National Club Congress in Chicago the first week in December, as announced by Audrey H. Dawson, Assoc. Home Demonstration Agent. Doris has been a 4-H member for seven years and has done an outstanding job in gardening, food preservation and dairy calf projects. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Burnett of Woodlawn Community.

Ouachita Parish has its share of 4-H members in the State finals. The girls Demonstration Team, composed of Elaine Russell and Cherry Butler of the Calhoun 4-H Club will compete in finals for trip to Club Congress.

Dorothy Lee Russell also of the Calhoun Club will compete in finals in Food Preparation Contest.

Patsy Ruth Johnson of Ouachita Parish High School will model her school costume in State finals.

The meat identification team composed of Ida Jo Luton, Sara Mikel, Betty Frost of Ouachita Parish High School will take part in State Contest. All these girls are from Logtown Community.

The State 4-H Short Course was called off this year due to Polio epidemic. Elimination Contests have been held in the various Districts.

Finals in the girls contests other than the garden will be held on the University campus next September 20.

IN PAGEANT

Miss Betty Seabolt, Miss Shreveport of 1952, is the first entry in the beauty pageant at the Louisiana Forest Festival, Winnfield, Oct. 1 through 4. Miss Seabolt will represent both Shreveport and the queen's court of the Holiday-in-Dixie festival. This year's state forest festival will highlight the importance of forestry to Louisiana with contests, exhibits, parades, and beauty pageant built around a "tree farm" theme.

BUYER ATTENDS SHOW

Mrs. Vallye Willis, well known beautician and buyer for the cosmetics department of the Palace, has just returned from Dallas where she attended the Cosmetic Show for six days.

The purpose of the show, she explained, was for the different cosmetic firms to show their Christmas holiday lines, and all of the nationally famous firms that she regularly buys from were set up in show rooms located in four buildings in Dallas.

Mrs. Willis said that the packaging for Christmas is beautiful, and, in her opinion, would need no extra gift wrapping for Christmas giving. Too, most of the firms were not charging more for this special packaging as they have in the past. Charles of the Ritz, Elizabeth Arden and Lucien LeLong are offering exceptional values for this Christmas, with most of them being under five dollars. And, she added, with people recognizing these famous names as the best in cosmetics, they will truly welcome them as gifts.

Accompanying Mrs. Willis on this trip was Miss Mary O'Kelly who attended the Gift Show that was also in Dallas, where she examined and bought the latest gifts in sterling, brass and antiques for the Palace. Some of the show rooms that she visited were heavily guarded and buyers were admitted only by proper identification, for Miss O'Kelly said that in these exhibits were shown some of the world's finest in sterling.

Another buyer who has just returned is Miss Mae Pettit, who made a flying trip to New York to see and select the latest styles in coats, suits and dresses for this winter.

Some of the famous names that she selected, which are arriving daily, are Jablow, Kraeler and Carmel, fashions that are seen time and time again in Vogue and Harper's Bazaar, and are to be found only at the Palace.

Miss Pettit said that it has been many years since she has seen such beautiful fashions and that the colors are simply out of this world. And, she added, selections should be made early for the best in fashions.

Which way

do you look at things?

WHETHER YOU SEE EYE-TO-EYE with Adlai or Ike, one thing is certain:

From now till November 4th, you'll want to know how they look at all the big issues . . .

Europe . . . Korea . . . taxes . . . controls . . . income . . . all the problems that reach into your daily life here in our town.

And to help you weigh each candidate day by day as each issue comes to light—you turn to your newspaper. Just as you've turned to it daily for dozens of other reasons since you first learned to read.

For the latest facts . . . for goings-on in our town, our state, our entire world . . . to see what's for fun and what's for sale. Not only what—but where and when and how much it costs.

And in the newspaper we read all about it . . . or only as much as we want. We read any time we choose—any place we choose.

That's why nearly everybody reads the newspaper nearly every day.

• That's why so many people who sell advertised products insist that they be advertised in newspapers.

Because in newspapers an advertising message has a chance to reach all people who can buy. Not just sports fans or quiz fans or music fans or comedy fans . . . but everybody.

That's why all advertisers—both "national" and retail—invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

The newspaper is first with the most news . . . first with the most people . . . first with the most advertisers.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Full day classes will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., at St. Matthew's School beginning Monday, September 15. A capacity enrollment obtains in the Elementary and High School departments, and both faculty and student body feel that a banner year lies ahead for St. Matthew's. They will dedicate their work of the year to God with a solemn service in St. Matthew's Church on Wednesday, September 17, when students and faculty will assist at a Holy Mass of the Holy Ghost, offered by the Right Reverend J. C. Marsh, superintendent of the school.

Among visitors to the parish during the past week were the football athletes of Catholic High School in Baton Rouge, under the direction of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart. The boys attended the Students Mass on Friday and received Holy Communion in a body.

St. Matthew's Parochial School of Monroe, is proud of the fact that four alumni left within the last week or so for study in the religious life. These are Miss Lerona Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller of Bawcomville West Monroe, who entered the novitiate of the Sisters of St. Francis of Calais, in Baton Rouge. Lerona finished school at St. Matthew's with the class of 1947.

Miss Christine Inzina, another graduate of St. Matthew's, who finished in 1951 entered the novitiate of the Daughters of the Cross in Shreveport, on September 8. She will study the life of the Sisters for a period of five or six years, and then will take final vows in the Order. Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Inzina of Monroe. Sam Jungina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jungina of Monroe, and Ray Ticheli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ticheli, of Monroe, both boys former students of St. Matthew's School left on Thursday for Maryhill Seminary near Alexandria, where they will study for the Dioscesan priesthood. The prayers and good wishes of teachers, friends, and classmates follow these girls and boys in their newly adopted paths of life.

NEW PASTOR

Rev. Glenn B. Wright, above, is the new pastor of the Cleft Rock Baptist Church. Since accepting full time service with the church, material has been purchased and work is to start immediately to complete nine new Sunday School rooms and to remodel the main auditorium. Cleft Rock Church is located on the Winnsboro Road.

BAND PARENTS WILL ASSEMBLE

Winnsboro Group To Meet Director And Plan Fall Program

WINNSBORO, Sept. 13. —(Special)—The Winnsboro Band Parents club will meet at a special call meeting in the band room of the Winnsboro High school, at 7:30 Thursday night, September 18, to welcome Edward L. Johnston, who according to superintendent of Franklin parish schools W. B. Glover, has accepted the position of Franklin parish band director for the school year of 1952. Arthur Lewis Rhodes, Jr., club president, urges all band parents to be present at this meeting. Other important business must also be taken care of at this time.

Director Johnston replaces Oscar Barnes who took a year's leave of absence to obtain his master's degree in the Louisiana State University school of music.

Duane Bowen had been signed to replace Mr. Barnes, but he quit July 25 in order to take a permanent job at Rayville High school. Mr. Barnes has been working with the local bandsters for the past three weeks in order to have a marching band ready for the start of the football season.

Mr. Johnston is a graduate of Louisiana Tech in the band and vocal music department. The veteran of World War II played in numerous bands while serving with the armed forces.

Before coming to Winnsboro High school and Crowville, only bands in Franklin parish, he taught at Mansfield High in DeSoto parish for three and one - half years.

He is a native of Alexandria and married the former Miss Bessie Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Price of Winnsboro. They have two children.

BAPTIST MUSIC GROUP TO MEET

Mass singing in charge of J. L. Jones, First Baptist Church, West Monroe.

No. 473, "Awake, Put on Thy Strength," McKinney.

No. 469, "By Grace Are Ye Saved," McGranahan.

No. 478, "Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord,'" Mendelssohn.

No. 255, "All Hail the Power," (Diadem), Ellor.

No. 178, "My Jesus, as Thou Wilt," Van Weber.

No. 123, "Lead Me Gently Home, Father," Thompson.

Benediction.

The Baptist Music Association provides a means whereby the various churches in the area combine their efforts to realize mutual interest, coordinate their activities, and evaluate their individual progress.

"Music has always been a part of divine worship. Through music the heart is opened for the message. It tunes the heart, creates unity and restores emotional balance."

"I can conquer the world alone. Such is the triumphant spirit inspired by a great hymn. "I will sing with the spirit and with the understanding also," wrote Paul to the Corinthians.

Armed Service

With the 7th infantry division in Korea is Pfc. Willis O. Frith, Jr., Rayville, who recently completed six months service on the sweltering central front.

His division is taking part in patrol action against the Reds on the central front where the temperature often rises to 100 degrees and over during the day and at night drops to below 60.

Frith, a truck driver in service battery of the 48th field artillery, entered the army March, 1951 and has been stationed in Korea one year later.

UNITED STATES POLL

By Princeton Research Service, Kenneth Fink, Director

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 13.—What do the majority of the nation's voters regard now as the strongest and weakest points of the administration of Harry S. Truman, upon whom the majority of voters placed their seal of approval four years ago?

Truman policies having been made major issues in the presidential campaign of Dwight Eisenhower, the results of a United States Poll regarding the above question just completed by Princeton Research Service, are significant news.

Princeton Research Service's reporters went across the country to ask an accurate cross-section of the nation's voters (Republicans, Democrats, and Independents): 1. "What would you say are the chief weaknesses of the Truman administration?" 2. "And what would you say are the strong points of the Truman administration?"

Seven in every 10 of those interviewed mentioned one or more weaknesses, and analysis of the replies shows that the three things that are uppermost in the minds of rank and file voter critics of our present government do not include the high cost of living, Communists in government, or the Korean war. The top three weaknesses mentioned by the majority of voters are:

1. Corruption and Graft: "the internal revenue scandals;" "lack of integrity of some government officials."

2. Extravagance and waste: "too much spending;" "too poor handling of taxpayers' money."

3. President Truman Himself: "he is too individualistic;" "too self-centered."

An average of one out of every two persons interviewed in today's survey mentioned one of the above three.

Next most important weaknesses that are a matter of concern to the nation's voters, judging by the number of mentions, are, in order:

4. Foreign policy: "mishandling of dealings with foreign governments;" "poor foreign policy."

5. Poor Leadership: "not enough good men in office;" "too many purely political appointments;" "poor choice of higher personnel."

6. Inefficiency: "poor handling of important issues;" "mismanagement;" "poor administration methods."

7. High Taxes: "taxes too high;" "always going up."

8. Inflation and High Cost of Living.

9. The Korean War: "'getting into a war we can't seem to get out of;" "no real attempt to end Korean War."

10. Lack of Cooperation with Congress: "too much disagreement between Congress and the administration."

Receiving fewer mentions are the following: Strikes; Too Much Catering to Labor; Been in Power Too Long; Firing of MacArthur; Communists in Government; Socialistic Program; Too many Government Workers; and Bureaucracy in Government.

Most significant result in today's survey is that Democrats, Republicans, and Independents alike name Corruption and graft and extravagance and waste as the two chief weaknesses of the Truman Administration.

Here's what the poll shows rank and file Democrats consider the 10 top weaknesses: 1. Corruption and Graft; 2. Extravagance and Waste; 3. High Taxes; 4. President Truman's Personality; 5. Inflation and High Cost of Living; 6. Inefficiency; 7. Poor Leadership; 8. Foreign Policy; 9. Lack of Cooperation with Congress; 10. Korean War, (in that order).

Also in order of mentions, here's what Independent voters all over the country consider the top 10 weaknesses of the present administration: 1. Corruption and Graft; 2. Extravagance and Waste: 3. Foreign Policy; 4. President Truman's Personality; 5. Poor Leadership; 6. Inefficiency; 7. Lack of Cooperation with Congress; 8. Korean War; 9 High Taxes; 10. Inflation and High Cost of Living.

Finally, here's what the nation's Republicans consider the top 10, in order: 1. Corruption and Graft; 2. Extravagance and Waste; 3. President Truman's Personality; 4. Inefficiency; 5. Foreign Policy; 6. Poor Leadership; 7. High Taxes; 8. Korean War; 9. Everything in General; 10. Strikes.

Equally interesting were the responses to the query, "What would you say are the strong points of the Truman Administration?" An analysis of them is being prepared for publication in this newspaper next Wednesday.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

Eleven of the fourteen members of the cast of "Room Service" have been chosen—that leaves only three more to go and our director will have his opening comedy well on the road. And that is a mighty fine start, 'cause "Room Service" is scheduled to open its eight night run on Wednesday October 15.

Of the eleven people chosen to appear in this hilarious comedy only three have previously trod the boards of the Selman Field playhouse, Carl Slakter, John Savage and Henry Haas, Jr. are Little Theatre favorites from other well remembered productions. Those making their acting debute in this production are Bill Anthony, Bobby Joe Jackson, Clyde Culpepper, Arthur McKnight, Ellen Browne, Helen Wilds, Jimmy Plaisance and Fred Hightower.

Our hard working director will probably have his other three cast members before we can get this into print, however, anyone interested in reading for one of the parts, just give me a buzz—I never feel in finer form than when I am introducing someone to the magic world of Little Theatre. It is grease paint, costumes, footlights, interpretation, applause, appreciation and most of all just grand entertainment.

This afternoon the group will be guest of Carl and Betty Slakter for a special reading rehearsal of the play. Next Tuesday night they will take to the stage of Little Theatre for four weeks of rehearsal and our fourteen friends of "Room Service" will find themselves turning into actors—The Sunday afternoon reading is scheduled for 3 P. M. and I am most anxious to hear it, 'cause I have been told by several people who were on hand for tryouts that the folks who have been chosen were and to quote "just made for the parts."

Elroy and Lorenza Smith are visiting friends and relatives in Monroe this week end. As you know they have temporarily deserted us for Baton Rouge and they have a very unique problem, whether to buy Monroe Little Theatre memberships or to buy Baton Rouge Little Theatre memberships. Our very helpful idea was to get both and then a fellow couldn't possibly go wrong ——— Little Theatre had to get under way again for us to find out that our good friend Pete Linton was back in town and is connected with other Little Theaterites Troy and Nichols. Welcome home Pete and we haven't forgotten that wonderful performance of yours in "All My Sons" ——— Bert Root vacationed at the family homestead in Upper Sandusky, Ohio ——— If you hear people refer to Roy Holloway and Charles Tubbs as Carlos it's because they went south of the boarder down Mexico way for their vacation fun. Which reminds me we haven't seen Roy on stage for some time. How's about it Holloway? ——— Let me remind you not to forget those memberships they need to be in by playbill printing time, deadlined for October 1st. For season memberships, still send your check to the Little Theatre of Monroe, Box 868, Monroe. Yes sir, and then you will be in for a whole season of good, good theatre ——— See you again on Monday and we hope with a report on the complete cast for "Room Service."

FRANKLIN TRADE SCHOOL OPENING

High School Pupils Will Be Admitted To Pursue Courses

WINNSBORO, Sept. 13. —(Special)—The new Franklin parish trade school in winnsboro will be apened to high school students in related and drawing classes next week and to the general public September 29, according to a report from Dr. T. E. Hampton, supervisor of trade and industrial education, state department of education, Baton Rouge.

The school, costing $200,000 is constructed of brick exterior with facing tile for the interior walls of the shop arec. Three shop areas measure 42x50 feet and the drafting room contains 880 square feet. The three class rooms are 20x30 feet in size and ample space has been designated for office, toilet and locker facilities.

According to P. R. Purser, experienced trade school executive, who has been named director of the new school, the operating budget for the ensuing two years has been set at $83,000 and will be handled through the state department of education, not the Franklin parish school board.

Instructors, who may wish to apply for possible positions at the institution, should contact Mr. Purser at his home at 309 Main street or at the school which is located on the corner of Roland and Steele streets.

Veterans of the Korean war are eligible for training under the G. I. Bill of Rights at the school. Veterans are asked to contact I. T. Robinson, parish service officer, to make application for training. Mr. Robinson's office is located on the ground floor of the courthouse.

Adults, who will be eligible for diplomas following a two - year course, may enroll beginning September 29, in farm mechanics, auto mechanics and commerce. Night classes will be offered in the future or as soon as the school curricula has been outlined.

Eleventh and twelfth grade high school students and youths who are 16 years of age, plus adults may enroll in the free - of - charge program.

Mr. Purser has served as instructor of four trade schools and as assistant at Houma in the South Louisiana Trade school. He is the father of three children, two sons in the navy and a daughter who is married. He and his wife are making their home in Winnsboro at 309 Main street.

OSCAR M'DONALD HEIFER ENTERED

Will Be In National Stock Show Held In Waterloo, Iowa

WATERLOO, Ia. (Special)—Registered Milking Shorthorn heifer has been entered by O. S. McDonald of Monroe, Louisiana in the Official National show of the breed, which is to be held in conjunction with the National Dairy Cattle Congress here, September 27 thru October 4. The cattle will be shown and judged on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 3-4.

For the past three consecutive years, every state in the United States has been represented in the over-all scope of this, the Nation's Dairy Exposition, and a preliminary survey already shows 44 states entered in the 1952 show.

Premiums totaling over $55,000 have been provided for the exhibitors participating in the six national breed shows — Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey and Milking Shorthorn—all of which are being held in conjunction with the National Dairy Cattle Congress. This is the largest sum ever to be awarded to dairy cattle exclusively at any exposition.

The judging of the six national shows will be held in the 8,000 seat Hippodrome there being no charge for entry to the building during the time that judging is being done. Judges of nation-wide reputation have been carefully chosen to place the cattle throughout the week of festivities.

In addition to nearly 2,200 head of the nation's finest dairy cattle which will make up the six national shows, the three official national dairy cattle judging contests — Intercollegiate, Future Farmers of America and National 4-H—are a part of this truly National exposition. The National FFA Dairy Products contest is also being held at a part of the 1952 exposition.

The Mid-West Industrial Exposition, with an estimated 3 million dollars worth of farm machinery and home equipment, is the largest it has ever been in the 40 year history of the show. Other Allied shows include the National Belgian Horse show, National Butter and Cheese Scoring Contest; American Poultry Congress, International Waterfowl Show, Mid-West Rabbit Show, Mid-West Saddle Horse Show and a complete Women's division. A three hour Hippodrome program, an afternoon and evening entertainment feature, promises to be the finest ever, with over 22 of the nation's finest circus acts and other varied events, comprising the show.

Hardwood Timber To Be Under Protection

JONESVILLE, Sept. 13 —(Special)—Hardwood timber in Catahoula and in 12 other Delta parishes will be under state fire protection soon.

Grover Womack, Catahoula representative, said the board of liquidation of state debt on Wednesday appropriated $50,000 for this fiscal year to get the hardwood protection program underway.

James Mixon, state forester, Womack said, had stated that he could have the program set up for operation, complete with machinery, within a few days after the Louisiana Forestry commission receives the money.

Womack, with Mike Ohlsen, Concordia representative, and W. E. Person, senator from the 32nd district, appeared before the board in Baton Rouge on Wednesday. They are part of a committee appointed last Thursday at a hardwood protection meeting in Winnsboro.

After this first year, the hardwood protection program will be operated similarly to that for the pine forests, Womack said. It will be financed by a one-half cent per acre tax, levied by the police juries, and by federal funds to match.

The pine forest tax is two cents per acre, but Womack said that the tax will be lower on hardwood lands because hardwood needs protection for only three months of the year, whereas pine needs year-around protection.

COTTON PICKING TAKES STUDENTS

Poses Problem When It Comes To Attendance In Schools

JONESVILLE Sept. 13 (Special) — "Absenteeism" among Catahoula school children during these cotton-picking days is posing a real problem to parish school officials, and they are making an all-out effort to gain parents' cooperation in sending their children to school for the one-half day of the present "short schedules."

"We know that the cotton has to be picked, and we try to cooperate in every way we can," said Aubrey Brooks, superintendent, "and at the same time, was are asking all parents to cooperate with us in keeping our school attendance up."

Absenteeism in the white schools ranges as high as almost 20 per cent. In the colored schools, there are now generally more children out of school than in.

A check of attendance at four white schools on Wednesday morning, made by R. L. Little, visiting teacher, showed:

Sicily Island, enrollment 417, absent 81, or almost 20 per cent.

Manifest, enrollment 92, absent 15, or more than 16 per cent.

Block at Jonesville, enrollment 867, absent 111, or almost 13 per cent.

Harrisonburg, enrollment 435, absent 22, or more than five per cent.

Classroom teachers, on a voluntary basis, are now visiting in the homes of those children who are absent, discussing the situation with their parents and asking them to send their children to school for the half-day if they possibly can.

This year, Catahoula lost three teachers in its allotment figured on average daily attendance of last year, which was 47 pupils less than the previous year.

A SWEET WASH IS A CLEAN WASH

sweeter than any soap, any other detergent ... clean clear through!

New!
Improved
All-Purpose Detergent

for a cleaner-sweeter-smelling wash

Try a wash with Surf

Surf washes everything cleaner-sweeter-smelling. That's because Surf does more for you—not only gets out all the dirt you can see in clothes, but gets out the hidden dirt, soap scum and odors, too, that other products leave in.

Smell the sweet, clean difference

Because new Surf's improved sweet-cleaning action gets out that deep-down dirt, too, you can smell how clean your clothes are. Your sparkling white, bright wash has that wonderful sweet-clean smell you get only with Surf.

Compare the results

Yes, compare the sweet-clean smell of your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet that was washed with the product you used before. The look, the feel, the sweet-clean smell of your Surf-washed clothes is your proof your clothes are clean clear through.

Banishes dishwashing odors

In your dishpan, too, new All-Purpose Surf's sweet-cleaning action cuts grease as no soap can—banishes dishpan odors. Dishes, glassware, stickiest pots and pans come sparkling clean in a jiffy. No scouring, no wiping needed. No greasy dishpan ring. And All-Purpose Surf's new formula is kinder than ever to hands.

Unconditional guarantee!

The makers of All-Purpose Surf—Lever Brothers Company—guarantee you the sweetest wash you've ever had—regardless of the product you now use—or your money refunded.

IT TOOK SOME DOING, BONBON, BUT WE FINALLY CAUGHT YOU WITHOUT THAT RIFLE! YOU WANTED TO KEEP US INCOMMUNICADO UNTIL YOU LEARNED WHICH OF US HAS THE STOLEN DIAMOND NECKLACE ....
YOU HAVE A RADIO RECEIVER AROUND HERE SOMEWHERE! YOU HEARD ABOUT THE BIG ROBBERY—AND WHEN WE CRASHED, YOU KNEW ONE OF US HAD THE HOT ICE ON HIM!
I DON'T CARE WHO HAS THE NECKLACE, BUT I HAVE A DATE TO BE MARRIED — WE'RE BREAKING OUT!
AT THIS MOMENT A FLOAT PLANE COMES IN ON A LONG GLIDE AND TOUCHES DOWN ON THE LAKE...THREE RAPID SHOTS ARE FIRED INTO THE AIR FROM THE COCKPIT...
HA! EES SEEGNAL! BONBON WEENS, AFTAIR ALL! FRIEND COME IN FLY-BOAT TO RESCUE!
— THEN ONE OF THE SURVIVORS OF THE CRASH OF TERN'S PLANE PICKS UP BONBON'S KNIFE—AND...
JUST HOLD THAT POSE, MAJOR! I'M LEAVING WITH BONBON AND HIS PAL! —FOR A CUT OF A DIAMOND NECKLACE THEY'LL PROBABLY ACCEPT AN EXTRA PASSENGER...

IN HIS INSULATED ASBESTO-SUIT, FLASH WADES THROUGH THE FLAMING GASES OF THE COMET'S HEAD. WITH SWIFT AND DEADLY RAY-BURSTS, HE BLASTS THE COMET-MEN AWAY FROM THE SPACE-SPHERE'S AIRLOCK BEFORE THEY ARE ABLE TO COMPLETE THEIR WORK OF SABOTAGE.
SUDDENLY FLASH'S RAY-GUN STOPS SHOOTING, AND HE SEES TO HIS HORROR, THAT IT IS MELTING IN THE INTENSE HEAT. FROM A TRUSTED WEAPON IT HAS CHANGED INSTANTLY INTO A SUPER-CHARGED BOMB READY TO BACKFIRE ANY SECOND!
HURRIEDLY FLASH HURLS THE RUINED RAY-PISTOL AS FAR AS POSSIBLE FROM THE AIR-LOCK AND DODGES BACK INSIDE THE CABIN. EVEN SO, HE IS BADLY SHAKEN AS THE GUN'S EXPLOSION SCATTERS THE COMET-MEN LIKE TENPINS.
AS THE SURVIVORS ATTEMPT TO CLOSE IN ON THEIR UNARMED FOE, FLASH SEIZES THE NEAREST COMET-MAN BY THE ANKLE AND WHIRLS HIM AROUND LIKE A BASEBALL BAT, DRIVING THE SCALY-ARMORED ATTACKERS OFF INTO SPACE.
WITH HIS ENEMIES TEMPORARILY SCATTERED, FLASH ATTEMPTS TO SEAL THE SPACE-SPHERE'S GAPING HOLE IN A DESPERATE EFFORT TO KEEP OUT THE COMET'S FIERY "ATMOSPHERE". WITH ZARKOV'S AID HE SUCCESSFULLY PATCHES THE OUTER SHELL WITH PLASTIRON PATCH-PLATES FROM THE SHIPS EMERGENCY LOCKER.

PROM home permanent needs no neutralizer!

new automatic neutralizing gives better curl with half the work

TROUBLE-FREE! NO TIMING WORRIES! PROM'S new automatic neutralizing ends neutralizer nuisance and clock watching. Simply apply PROM'S one wonderful waving lotion as you roll up your curls on any home permanent curlers. Rinse with plain water 30 minutes later. As your hair dries naturally on the curlers, automatic neutralizing puts your perfect PROM permanent in to stay!

NO STRAGGLY ENDS! Because it's automatic, PROM'S fail-proof neutralizing reaches every last end, so straggly hair can't happen. With permanents that need dabbed-on neutralizers, you're never sure of reaching the innermost hair on every curler and often get half-way results. PROM'S thorough method always gives the more natural wave you want—with every end in a springier curl.

BETTER HAIR CONDITION! After it is rinsed, PROM neutralizes itself naturally, with only the help of air as your hair dries. This gentle process is better for your hair. Leaves it in better condition than any other permanent. And this means that any style you set, lasts longer with a PROM.

GUARANTEED TO "TAKE!" Even if other waves have failed, PROM is guaranteed to "take" beautifully every time and to look lovelier longer than any other permanent—or your money back!

3 types of PROM—one just right for your type of hair $1.50 plus federal tax

Use any home permanent curlers

1 FOR NORMAL-TO-WAVE HAIR: PROM Regular. Perfect for most women.

2 FOR HARD-TO-WAVE HAIR: PROM Super. Also for a curlier permanent and ideal for children's resistant hair.

3 FOR EASY-TO-WAVE HAIR: PROM Very Gentle. Also for hair with some natural curl, bleached or tinted hair.

you'll look prettier with a PROM
